THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled crooms have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crowley" A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market), I am prepared to sell them

TUESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1856.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS IN RHODE ISLAND.—A. M. Tillinghast has been found guilty in Providence of an assault upon his wife, who, having left him with the intention of getting a divorce, fled to her mother's, was seized by Tillinghast and four associates, and carried off with her infant. The evidence showed that Tillinghast demanded the infant, and being refused, and also refused admission to the house, lifted the latch and forced open the door; and took his wife by the arm, pulling her out of doors (with her child in her arms,) lifted her into his wagon, the child in its night-clothes, the wife bare headed, and, with her and one of his freinds drove to the house of his brother, about three fourths of a mile distant. The wife resisted to the extent of her ability, but was not hurt at all—was treated kindly enough at the house of the brother, and entertained until the next morning, when, without opposition from any quarter, she returned with her child to her mother's.

Chief Justice Ames, in an able charge, held, says the Providence Journal, from which we quote,

"That when, as in this case, a woman has left the husband, for such cause as she thinks entitles her to a divorce under our statute, and with a view to applying for a divorce, the husband has no right to use any force or means to control her, or influence her action, which he could not rightfully use towards any other lady in the community,—and this no matter how commendable may be the purpose of the husband or kindly his feelings. And further, that under the laws of Rhode Island, the father is not entitled to the custody, as against its mother, of an infant, a mere nurseling, as was the child referred to in this case."

MR. BURKE.—The editor of the Concord Democratic Standard says:

"We do not know whether Mr. Burke was ever a member of the American party, or not."

From this it appears that Mr Burke is not the editor of that paper—yet the Standard has derived most of its consequence from the impression that he is or was the editor.

BROKEN GLASS.—The thunder storm of August 11, was severe at Fitzwilliam, Rindge, and in that neighborhood. A correspondent of the Keene Sentinel, writing from Fitzwilliam, says:

You might as well look for a needle in a hay mow, as for a whole pane of glass upon the storm side of our houses. The greatest sticker for ventilation, we suspect, is more than satisfied now. Such a display of bed and other quilts as will for awhile be seen at our windows, was never known in our village. We already know of something like 4000 lights broken in this village alone.

PRISONER DISCHARGED.—In the Boston Municipal Court, Octavius Allen was discharged.

Allen was sent up on a charge of murder, in causing the death of Margaret Bradford.—The facts in the case are believed to be, that Allen had several hundred dollars about him in a cellar in North street, and apprehending a robbery, he fired a pistol at his assailants, the ball hitting the woman, though not so designed. Allen was held on an executive warrant as a fugitive from justice from Illinois, on a charge of forgery.

Patrick Creed, convicted of an assault on Charles Quinn, at Chelsea, with intent to kill. Creed first snapped a loaded gun at Quinn, and then broke the stock over his head and shoulders, alleging criminal intercourse with his wife as the cause of the assault.

A PRESENT.—At one of the stations on the Railroad near Bath, Maine, just as the last up train stopped, Saturday, a woman entered one of the cars, and asked a lady passenger to hold her little baby a minute. The woman not returning, after the train started, the lady examined her new charge a little more closely, and found a bright child of but a few days old—which she was well satisfied to keep. A note was pinned to the innocent victim's dress, giving a name, and with a request for her being well treated. We give the story as 'twas told us—but don't know as any reason was assigned for this strange way of distributing "God's gracious gifts."

HALIFAX, Aug. 16.—The Arabia sailed for Liverpool at 2 o'clock this afternoon, leaking badly. Extra pumps and two spare boats were put on board. Capt. Stone is instructed to run into St. Johns, N. F., if he finds the ship making too much water when off that point.

Many passengers left the ship (or rather wreck)—as we should think they would.

☞ The Portland Transcript says that Rev. R. P. Ambler has been engaged by the association of Spiritualists in that city, to supply their desk at Mechanic Hall for three months, commencing in September. Mr. A. delivered a course of lectures in that city a few weeks ago, which attracted much attention.

CAMPAIGN EDITIONS.—Messrs. Harvey & Son have furnished us with a copy of the Life, Explorations and Public Services of John Charles Fremont, published by Livermore & Rudd, New York;—also, Lives of Fremont & Dayton, with other matter for the campaign, published by Jewett & Co., Boston.

On the 17th of July the Queen of Spain distributed 30,000 cigars to the troops of the garrison of Madrid.

IRONICAL CORRESPONDENCE.

[From the Boston Traveller, August 15.]

HON. L. RIVERS CHALLENGED BY P. S. BROOKS.

Our readers may have observed in the regular telegraphic columns the news of the challenge sent by the Hon. P. S. Brooks of South Carolina to the Hon. L. Rivers of Louisiana. By the kindness of a member of Congress from an adjacent district, whose name we are not at liberty to mention, we have been enabled to publish their correspondence in advance of our contemporaries.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 13, 10 1-2 P. M., 1856.

SIR.—The remarks which you have made, both in public and in private, concerning my past course in Congress, and conduct towards Mr. Burlingame, seem to me more than I can endure with equanimity, or allow myself to overlook. Understanding that you recognize the code of honor, I take the liberty of handing you this, by my friend Col. Brailliard, who is empowered to arrange for the settlement of all the difficulties between us.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
P. S. BROOKS.

To Hon. L. RIVERS.

To which epistle the following is the answer:

WILLARD'S HOTEL, August 13, 11 A. M., 1856.

SIR.—Your friend, Col. Brailliard, has just handed me your note of 10 1-2 P. M. It will not be difficult to arrange for the settlement of all differences between us. On the contrary, so easy that I have already dispensed with the services of your friend Col. Brailliard. To place matters on a clear basis, I may as well acknowledge at once that I have spoken of your assault upon Mr. Sumner as I thought it deserved; and I am also willing to acknowledge that I too am unable to see how you can bear those remarks with equanimity, or allow yourself to overlook their utterance.

Furthermore, I am free to acknowledge that I do acknowledge the code of honor, being unable to agree with my honorable friend, Senator Wilson, in looking upon the duello as the relic of a barbarous age; on the contrary, considering it an institution of undoubted excellence, practical utility and great good. The preliminaries, therefore, as you see are already arranged without any intervention from second hands. In the final settlement of our difficulties, I shall accept the laws of the highest repute applicable to the case in hand. Your friend the editor of the New Orleans Sunday Delta, of June 29, states as follows,

THE LAWS OF HONOR,

Which are the same laid down by a foreign nobleman of distinction, (who in the days when the duello was universally considered an honorable combat, participated as principal and second in no less than forty duels, several between men of the highest rank and distinction,) and which were acknowledged as the code of honor by Lord Hardinge, in his correspondence after the celebrated duel between the Duke of Wellington and the Earl of Winchester, in England.

"I. The honor of a man does not consist in his fighting or not fighting duels."

You will see therefore, that I am at perfect liberty to meet you or not, as I may elect.

"II. A man of honor never uses what is termed Billingsgate language."

Billingsgate is your favorite and peculiar dialect.

"III. A man of honor never strikes or deals in blows. In England and France, he is permitted to touch the party he desires to insult with his glove or rod. In Russia, Prussia, Austria and Poland, even this is forbidden, for fear it might provoke, under the influence of passion, to severer blows."

You struck the Hon. Charles Sumner upon the head, with a cane, many times and violently, and therefore by the laws of the code under which you have challenged me, can no longer claim to be considered a man of honor.

"IV. A man of honor avoids, emphatically, any intercourse or contact, as contaminating, with individuals using brute blows."

Your attack upon Mr. Sumner was made with brutal blows; therefore, by the laws which you acknowledge, any intercourse or contact with you is contaminating. Benevolence has overcome this objection in the case of the present letter, and I shall make use of such mechanical contrivances (hereinafter to be mentioned) as will save me from the contamination of those evil influences which would corrupt good manners.

"V. A man of honor never, under any circumstances, picks a quarrel with individuals whose well-known conscientious convictions forbids them to accept a challenge."

This has been the greater part of your Congressional services during the latter part of the present session. You are therefore, on this ground also, no longer a man of honor.

"VI. It is cowardice to challenge such persons. If they use disgraceful language, without being prepared to bear its responsibility, it sufficiently carries its own disgrace."

Whatever may have been the provocation in the speeches of non fighting members, you are therefore a coward.

"VII. A man of honor, under the penalty of absolute forfeiture of any claim to be considered as such by his equals, never attacks an unarmed man. Such an attack stamps the assailant as a felonious coward."

Not only was Senator Sumner unarmed when you struck him with brute blows, but by his position at his desk he was rendered completely and utterly defenceless. You will therefore see clearly that by this law of your own chivalrous and honorable code you are stamped a felonious coward.

"VIII. Individuals assisting in any way in such assault, become equally dishonored as the perpetrator.

Your friend Mr. Keith can make the appropriate application of this eighth law of the code of honor.

"IX. A man of honor, if attacked, uses the right of defense in its broadest sense."

Judging by your antecedents a similarly brutal attack as that upon Senaton Sumner is not improbable in my own case. In that event I shall try to be in such a position as to show you the application of this rule, in its broadest sense.

"X. A man of honor is no more disgraced by an assault on his person by bullies or skulking assassins, than by being attacked by robbers and highwaymen. In all these cases he uses the right common to all, to disable or distroy his assailant."

You have therefore, by your own code, failed in your purpose to disgrace the Senator from Massachusetts, and only succeeded in placing yourself, as a bully and skulking assassin, on a level with robbers and highwayman.

The penalty attached to the 7th law, which, by your felonious cowardice, you have incurred, prevents me from considering you longer as an equal. I shall therefore not accept your challenge. You will receive it with this letter from the hands, or rather the tongs, of my bootblack,—whom I discharge from my service at this date, in order to avoid the contamination spoken of in the 4th law.

LARGE RIVER.

To P. S. Brooks.

THE LOGS AT THE FALLS.—The great event of to-day in the city is the jam of the logs at the Falls, and the consequent stoppage of the mills. The logs from the boom of Norcross & Fisk ran down to the head of the canal and filled it entirely, it is supposed to the bottom of the canal, and stopped the water so that the mills after running at slack speed for one or two days, shut down this noon and stopped. Every gate is now shut, and the employers of the corporations are out. Two or three hundred men are employed in clearing out the jam. Thousands of people are collected at the Falls this afternoon. It is doubtful whether the snarl is cleared out to-day.—Manchester American, Aug. 14th.

The Mirror states that the jam was occasioned by about 1000 cords of cord wood. It cost about 7 shillings a cord to get it out.

A girl of 13 years, in Salem, walking down the Eastern Railroad towards Beverely, going a borrying, was run over by a train on Friday, and so injured that she died in a few hours. When will persons learn to keep off the railroad track?

LAWRENCE, K. T., Aug. 6.—Last Saturday a pro slavery messenger rode into the fort at Leavenworth, and reported that assistance was needed at once in the border districts next to Nebraska; and in a few hours, according to Gen. Smith's orders, two full companies of dragoons were on the way, directed by the guide. Their purpose is not known, but it is conjectured from the promptness with which Gen. Smith acted, that they are instructed to intercept Gen. Lane's party.

A messenger arrived in town to-night, direct from Lane's camp, who passed through Iowa with them. He says he left them on the 18th ult., 15 miles southwest of Nebraska City, where they had been encamped nearly a week, waiting for other parties. These parties came up on the day he left, and he expected they would commence their march south on the morning of the 2d, and they are probably now in the territory. The whole number is about 500. They have wagons, farming tools, women and children with them, and will look about immediately for claims. They are fully armed.

PORTLAND, Aug. 18. — On Saturday, at Greeley's crossing in Cumberland, the train ran over a wagon, killing two girls, and injuring one boy so that he cannot recover.—They were children of Mr. York of Falmouth.

Ex-Governor Reeder, who is now lying sick at the Merchants' Hotel, Philadelphia, has had a severe attack of paralysis, which affects one whole side of his body.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

WORTH KNOWING.

Prof. Wood, of St. Louis, has discovered a remedy for the grey and bald, which is at once practicable and cheap. It requires no dyeing, no wig, no extraordinary trouble. There can be no doubt whatever of its efficacy. We have seen testimonials almost without number, and from men of great intelligence, high standing and moral worth.

Those who have been bald for years are now wearing their own hair, and appear ten years younger than they did six months ago. As in most cases grey hairs and bald heads are both premature and unnatural, it is a duty to remedy them by the natural and undoubted means which Prof. Wood has invented, and now kindly offers to the afflicted. Try his wonderful remedy, and give the Professor a new testimonial.—Memphis Whig.

TEMPERANCE.

Round the temperance standard rally,
All the friends of human kind;
Snatch the devotees of folly,
Wretched, perishing and blind:
Loudly tell them,
How they comfort now may find.

Bear the blissful tidings onward,
Bear them all the world around,
Let the myriads thronging downwards,
Hear the sweet and blissful sound:
And obeying,
In the paths of peace be found.

Plant the temperance standard firmly,
'Round it live and 'round it die;
Young and old defend it sternly,
Till we gain the victory;
And all nations
Hail the Jubilee!

When Adam and his wife were here,
Say, did they have, or not,
Some niggers and an overseer
To till their garden spot?

If not, he was a working lad,
And Eve, of course, his help,
And he who scorns his grandest dad,
Must be a precious whelp.—Tel.

NOW AND THEN.—In Mr. Choate's great speech in support of General Taylor, made at Salem, in 1848, he said:

"In this matter of slavery, we have always differed from our friends of the South; and in regard to it, we propose simply to vote them down."—Atlas.

The Fenn Yan Chronicle tells a story of a crim con. case recently tried at that place, in which a verdict of $500 was rendered. The defendant declared the verdict to be unjust, and became so excited that he lost his reason. He was placed under restraint, but soon after afterwards escaped, plunged into a river and was drowned.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

THE PULPIT.—The clergymen of this city "exchanged" to an unusual extent last Sabbath.

Rev. Moses How, now of the Bethel Church, New Bedford, preached at the Pleasant Street Church, in the morning and afternoon, to the society of which he was pastor many years ago. He also held a third service at the Alms House Chapel in the afternoon; and a fourth at the Advent Chapel in the evening. Elder How is nearly seventy years of age, but is yet vigorous, and performs much pulpit and social labor—usually holding three or four services each Sabbath, at home. His visits here always receive a cordial greeting, and call up many a friendly remembrance, for personally he is one of the most worthy and genial of men; and in the pulpit he always receives willing audience from many old friends, as well as the young, —to all whom he

"Comes as a messenger of peace, Filled with the spirit, filled with love."

Long may he abide, to counsel and cheer all who come in his way.

Rev. Asher Moore, of the 6th Universalist Society in New York city, officiated for Mr. Patterson at the Universalist Church—which pulpit we learn he is also to occupy on the next Sabbath.

Rev. Mr. Cole, of the Unitarian Church, Exeter, occupied Mr. Peabody's pulpit.

Rev. Mr. Mordough, of Hamilton, Mass., preached for Mr. Lamson, at the Middle street Church.

Rev. Charles F. Morse, (brother of Mr. J. P. Morse of this city,) just ordained as a Missionary, preached at the North Church.

All these strangers were absent from their own pulpits, for the purpose of rusticating; and were here by reason of family connexions.

ACCIDENT.—A man named Staples, belonging in Eliot, a carpenter in the ship yard of John Yeaton, at Badger's Island, was severely injured on Monday morning by being struck on the head and shoulder by a plank, which fell from a staging above him. He was insensible for a long time, and it is thought he cannot recover. Drs. Oliver and Delaney attended the case. The sufferer was conveyed in a boat to his home in Eliot, in the afternoon.

☞ Commodore Smith, of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, visited our Navy Yard yesterday; and was received with the customary Federal salute.

☞ At the Commencement at Waterville College, Me., on the 13th inst., Rev. Wm. Lamson of this city, received the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

☞ It will be seen that the Pleasant St. Society, of this city, have made arrangements to hold their annual Pic-Nic to-day, if the weather is favorable. The site chosen is a beautiful Grove near New Market Junction, for which destination, cars leave the P. & C. Railroad Station at 9. Return at 6. A pleasant, social time is expected, as usual—and of course all the people who can, will be there.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The California Chronicle says, "nothing but the passage by the present Congress of the bill providing ways and means for the construction of the Pacific Railway, or a distinct and public pledge from Mr. Buchanan that he will use all his constitutional powers to promote that measure, can secure him the popular vote of the State of California. This is a prophecy certain to be realized at the dawning of the sun of November."

The same paper has article after article letting off its indignation against the Democratic Convention, the party and its nominee, for not favoring the Pacific Railroad. It pitches into the two Biglers especially, and says they might at least have secured Pennsylvania for the road, had they gone for it. And it adds of "our John," (Senator Bigler):—

"He is one of those wise interpreters of the Constitution, who find within it ample authority for paying any number of millions for foreign territory, which we do not need; but the moment that territory becomes a portion of the country which has bought it, the same Constitution, as they interpret it, prohibits expending one dollar for its improvement."

The California Chronicle has yet to learn that it is not constitutional interpretation which lies at the bottom of the opposition to the great Continental road, but the opinion of the slaveholding Democrats that it would strengthen the free States.—Boston Chronicle.

NEW ORLEANS, 16th.—Capt. Talbot of the steamer Louisiana, reports the loss of the ship Manilla, of Bath, from Bordeaux, to New Orleans, off Timballier Island. Ten of the crew were lost and Capt. Rogers had a leg broken. Her cargo of wine and brandy is mostly lost. Capt. Talbot also saw several cabin doors, and the booby hatch of the steamer Nautillus, and several dead bodies, well dressed, and supposed to have been passengers. It is now believed that the number of lives lost by the dreadful storm of Sunday and Monday last will reach 250, including men, women and children, but mostly the former. At Last Island, 190 dead bodies have been found, the sight of which is terrible. The total loss of property by this sudden and unlooked for calamity is computed at $500,000.

The Coroner's Jury have returned a verdict of murder in the case of Mrs. Parker alias Mary Ann Burke, who was killed on Thursday evening, at Hudson, N. J., during a drinking frolic; and Edward Ormsby and Robert Parker were held for the crime. CONGRESS.

SATURDAY, August 16.

SENATE.—The Senate passed the House bill extending the time for Texas creditors to present their claims.

The House bill making appropriations for light house establishments, and for running the southern boundary of Kansas, was passed.

The Post Office Appropriation bill was taken up. Mr. Weller substituted an amendment providing for the establishment of a semi-monthly overland mail to San Francisco from some point on the Mississippi River, the cost for the same not to exceed half a million dollars per annum.

Mr. Ivers said if California is going to cost the Union so much, it would be as well to let the Union slide. The amendment was then adopted and the bill passed.

The House bill to regulate the diplomatic and consular systems of the United States, and the annual fortification bill were then passed.

The vote on the bill for the improvement of the Des Moines Rapids was reconsidered, and the bill was then passed over the President's veto, by 30 against 14.

The bill for the improvement of the Patapsco River was also reconsidered and passed over the President's veto.

Mr. Hunter, from the Committee of Conference on the Legislative, Judicial and Executive Appropriation bill, reported they were unable to agree, and he hoped the Senate would recede from all its amendments, excepting those in reference to Kansas and books to members.

Mr. Fish wanted the Senate to distinctly understand before voting on the question that by insisting on the omission of the Kansas amendment the bill was lost for certain.

Mr. Slidell was prepared to meet that issue and wished the fate of all the appropriation bills was involved in the same question.

Mr. Seward thought it would be best to reduce the issue to the simple one of the Kansas question and let that be a subject of negotiation and conciliation.

The other amendments were then receded from, but the Kansas and book amendments insisted upon.

The steamer appropriation bill was passed.

Adjourned at 4.30 Sunday A.M. to 9 A.M. Monday.

HOUSE.—The House to day passed the bill making appropriations for steamer mail services, with an amendment providing for giving notice of termination of the present compensation for the transportation of the mails between New York and Liverpool.

The House passed thirty-two Senate and private bills, also the Senate bill extending to Dramatic Authors the privilege of copyright. The House then took a recess.

The bill introduced by Mr. Davis of Mass., granting bounty lands to the crews of the private armed vessels who were engaged in the wars with great Britain was passed.

The bill to protect citizens of the United States in the discovery of guano island, s was passed.

The bill for the improvement of the Patapsco River was passed over the President's veto by 126 to 47.

Mr. Campbell of O., from the Committee of Conference on the Army bill reported, that they were unable to agree and asked to be discharged, and that another similar committee be appointed.

Mr. Quitman moved to agree to the Senate's amendment, striking out the House proviso restricting the employment of the army in Kansas.

Motion disagreed to by seven majority—Mr. Orr moved that another committee of conference be appointed with instructions to agree to the Senate's amendment. Motion negatived. The House then in accordance with the request of the Senate appointed a second committee of conference on the Kansas amendment to the army bill.

Mr. Cobb of Ga., made a report from the Committee of Conference on the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill.—The House receded from the amendment for books to members. This brings down the issue to Kansas matters.

The House receded by four majority from the proviso that no money shall be drawn from the treasury till the persons charged with treason or other offences for their connection with the Topeka convention, or under the enactments of the body claiming to be the legislature at Shawnee Mission, be released and the prosecutions abandoned. They also receded by five majority from the proviso that no part of the money appropriated shall be applied for the prosecution, punishment or detention of persons charged with treason, or other political offences. The House insisted by ten majority on the amendment striking out the appropriation of $20,000 to defray the expenses of the next Kansas Legislature.

Mr. Giddings from the Committee of Conference on the Army bill, reported that they were unable to agree. He defended the republicans from the charges that they denied the means for carrying on the government.—He would not vote to enforce bogus laws at the point of the bayonet.

Mr. Faulkner moved that the House recede from the proviso. Disagreed to by 5 majority.

At 4.30 Sunday A. M., the House adjourned to 9 A. M., Monday.

MONDAY, 18th.

The Senate received a message from the President, answering the resolution calling for Fremont's accounts.

The Com. of Conference on the Army bill reported that they could not agree, and moved that the Senate insist on its disagreement. Agreed to—39 to 12.

In the House Mr. Acker, elected in Missouri to fill the vacancy cause by the death of Mr. Miller, was sworn in.

The Speaker laid before the House a letter from Mr. Richardson of Ill., resigning his seat.

A resolution was adopted appointing a Committee to enquire into the assault of Mr. McMullen on Mr. Granger, and report next December.

[The assault was committed in a carriage, and the telegraphic account is confused and contradictory.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Never was there a larger crowd in the Capitol than last night. The lobby members were in strong force, pressing their respective neglected measures. The ante-rooms were abundantly supplied with refreshments, but there were none of those disgusting exhibitions which have heretofore been displayed on similar occasions.

Among the private bills passed by Congress, is one in aid of Betty Nash, which has been on the calendar for twenty-five years.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Whalebone Skirts.
THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape before the wearer. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.
Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington
R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determines to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, he has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.
Testimonials.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OVER TWO MILLION ACRES
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.
THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.
The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.
Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.
Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first year, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.
Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.
Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.
Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.
The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.
The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.
PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.
The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.
Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.
As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.
READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.
They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $160 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.
Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.
It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.
Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to
JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,
Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time destrous of securing to the public a Needle but will not only be a superior article, but peoot in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 20, 1856.

ANOTHER BIT OF ROMANCE.

The Romance of Fremont and Jessie runs rapidly over the continent, and turns the heads of Young America to look on and applaud.—It was therefore a necessity to get up a counter-romance of Buchanan.

This latter romance we published as soon as we saw it, supposing it might be true. The substance of it was—fine girl—obstinate old papa—letters intercepted—girl poisoned herself and died—lover's heart buried in her coffin. Unluckily, the Pennsylvanian, Mr. Buchanan's home organ, denounced the whole story as an unmitigated, trashy falsehood.

Now we see another piece of romance, called the true reason why Mr. Buchanan is a bachelor, purporting to be copied from the New Orleans Delta. From this we copy the pith of the story.

In the midst of all this, about the time he was first chosen by his comrades to be honored and trusted, the sun of his inner life suddenly set to rise no more. The lady of his love sickened and died. That night which has no morrow fell on his inner life. Thenceforth there was no more hope of love for him. He had played high for happiness and lost. The game was up.

A weak man would have sunk down, ruined and despairing. A heartless man would have filled her place with another idol. He was neither weak or heartless. He had been taught in the school of the founders of the great nation, and was at once strong and true. He went on in his course, and served his country well and honorably. Laurels gatheted around his brow, and every year added to his fame. But his dreams of love were buried in the grave of the chosen of his heart; and therefore he remained forever a bachelor.

We would particularly request the Pennsylvanian not to spoil this story as it did the other. We have great respect for such old bachelors or maids as are so in consequence of disappointment by death or otherwise. But the writer of the above quoted paragraphs, goes too far when he calls all broken-hearted men (and women) weak. And he does great injustice, when he stigmatizes as heartless, every man (or woman) who chooses a new mate in place of a loved one deceased.

We hope the writer states facts correctly, for we would think favorably of Mr. Buchanan's private character, though we would "spit on the platform." And we have embraced every opportunity to state favorable things of each candidate, as far as facts will bear it.

But the writer draws most unwarrantable conclusions, not only in the items copied above, but also in those which follow.

Nothing remains to be told, except the sequel of the story. It is almost incredible in these days of political bloodhounds, but not the less true. As soon as the thoughtless babblers, who had unwittingly, in idle gossip, said things that would so cruelly and unjustly stab him to the heart if he should perchance hear them, heard the story of his life, they stopped short in their folly and said no more.

This shows that the babblers were not blood-hounds, but men of fine sentiment, whose own hearts pitied a wounded heart, in a bosom where they had thought no heart was.

One in particular, a silly and shallow fellow, living in a large city near the mouth of the principal river of the country, took back his former babble, and publicly declared that although he disliked the great man for a ruler, he would never willingly wound so noble and constant a heart.

The "fellow" could not be either silly or shallow, but must be a noble man! who publicly took back a false and injurious statement, as soon as he knew it to be so. We wish such men were plentiful in this part of the country,—and also wish, that in the most earnest discussion of political men and measures, all were able to see the good as well as the evil, in their opponents.

PLURALITY ELECTS.—The Boston Journal wishes to be informed if Electors of President and Vice President in New Hampshire are chosen by a plurality vote. By a law passed in 1848, it was declared that the necessary number of persons having the highest number of votes for electors, should be declared elected; and all vacancies to be filled by the Legislature at a special session to be holden in November. To do away with the necessity for a winter session of the General Court, the law was amended in 1854, giving the Electors chosen by plurality, power to fill any vacancy that may occur in the college, by ballot, in presence of the Governor and Council.

☞ A correspondent at Andover, Ms., tells us a singular incident which took place at the collision on the Manchester & Lawrence Railroads, last week. A gentleman was sitting with two children in the second car, which was almost entirely demolished. After the confusion had somewhat subsided, he appeared with them, unharmed; and in reply to an interrogatory as to how he saved them, he said he "threw them both out of the window."

☞ A correspondent informs us that Robert Miller, an Englishman, resident of Great Falls, was accidentally shot on Monday, while gunning on Whortleberry Plain, in Berwick. While taking his gun from a carriage it was discharged, and the contents lodged in his breast and shoulder, from the effects of which he will not probably recover.

"The Mormon," a newspaper published in New York, calls on friends in the States to go against Fremont and the republican party.

For the Chronicle.

THE SABBATH—AGAIN.

The articles which have recently appeared in the Daily Chronicle respecting the manner of keeping the Sabbath day, and also respecting special judgments for desecrating the Sabbath, have undoubtedly been read with some interest. It appears to me, that before it can be decided that there are special judgments visited upon those who desecrate the Sabbath, the question should be first settled whether we now are required to keep the Sabbath holy, as the Jews were required to keep it.

W., who wrote the first article upon the subject, seems to assume that we are so required to keep it; while his opponents, H. M. J. and Spectator, assume that the day may be spent far otherwise. Neither of the parties have given any proof to sustain them in their positions, except the kind of proof offered by H. M. J., when he says that "Christ himself, we are told in Mark 2: 23, not only was walking on the Sabbath, but he also gathered corn, the property of another, while the poor man who gathered a few sticks, perchance to cook his food, was stoned to death,"—thus endeavoring to prove that Christ did not regard the sacredness of the day.

If this be so, then the Son of God stands convicted of breaking that law which he said "that he came not to destroy, but to fulfil," for he stands charged with not only an unholy act, by walking on the Sabbath, if it so be that walking on the Sabbath was an unholy act—and evidently H. M. J. meant that it should be so understood, provided that the Sabbath day is to be regarded as holy time—and he also stands charged with gathering the property of another, which is a breach of the eighth commandment. Thus the Saviour is placed before us in the attitude of a Sabbath-breaker and a thief, in contrast with the "poor man who gathered a few sticks, perchance to cook his food" (which he got honestly,) and "was stoned to death." A severe charge indeed against the Son of God. By referring to Mark 2: 23, and other passages of Scripture, I find that the Saviour did not desecrate the Sabbath by walking through the cornfields on the Sabbath day, neither did the scrupulous Jews accuse either him or his disciples of this, or of gathering property belonging to another, but for the unlawfulness of the act done on the Sabbath day. I find also that it was not Christ, but his disciples, that plucked the ears of corn. If H. M. J. will turn to Math. 12: 1, he will find the reason why the disciples plucked the corn—they were hungry.

Under the circumstances, it was not considered by their accusers an unlawful act,—if it had been, they would have been as ready to accuse the disciples of it, as H. M. J. is now to accuse Christ, when he supposed that it was him that took the corn. Any such attack upon the character of the Saviour, I think, will prove unavailing.*

I will now give some reasons why the Sabbath day should be now kept, both by Jews and Gentiles, as holy time, and that it is not an institution which was done away by the introduction of the Gospel dispensation, as some suppose.

The first time the Jews were commanded to keep the Sabbath day holy, is found in Exodus 20: 8, 9, 10, 11, and it reads thus: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Six days shall thou labor and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God, in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man servant, nor thy maid servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day; wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it."—Here we learn that the Sabbath had its origin at the creation of the world: the word remember implying that the Sabbath had an antecedent date. And we learn too, that it is "the Sabbath of the Lord thy God." In other parts of Scripture, the Sabbath is called God's holy day—it is also called the Lord's day. The Saviour said, the Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath.

In the light of these Scriptures, no one need to doubt, that God claims the Sabbath day in a peculiar sense as his own, and that he requires it to be kept holy. If the question is asked, how long the Sabbath is to be kept holy, an answer will be found in Exodus 31: 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, which I will here transcribe for special purposes. "Speak also unto the children of Israel, saying, verily my Sabbath ye shall keep; for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations; that ye may know that I am the Lord that doth sanctify you. Ye shall keep my Sabbath therefore; for it is holy unto you. Every one that defileth it shall surely be put to death: for whosoever doeth any work therein, that soul shall be cut off from among his people. Six days may work be done; but in the seventh is the Sabbath of rest, holy to the Lord: whosoever doeth any work in the Sabbath day, he shall surely be put to death." (It does not here say "stoned to death for gathering a few sticks on the Sabbath, perchance to cook his food"—there is a second death—) "wherefore the children of Israel shall keep the Sabbath, to observe the Sabbath throughout their generations for a perpetual covenant. It is a sign between me and the children of Israel forever; for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he rested."

If any one should now say that these sayings were spoken to the children of Israel,—very well;—so were the ten commandments spoken.

It will be recollected that the middle wall or partition between the Jews and Gentiles is now broken down, and that there is no difference now between them,—therefore, the ten commandments with all their significant meaning, and typical references, belong to the Gentiles throughout their generations, as much so as to the Jews, and therefore are obligatory upon both, and will be throughout their generations, until they come into full enjoyment of all that which is shadowed forth in the types. No one need to doubt that the Sabbath day rest is typical of the saints' final rest. If any will take the trouble to turn to Heb. 3d and 4th chapters, they will find it there, more clearly unfolded.

God in his wisdom so arranged it, we believe, when he created the world, as to give it a two-fold significance, both to shadow forth the final rest, and also the time when it might be expected. St. Peter, in his Epistle, 3 chap., has brought to view another subject intimately connected with this, in which he says that one day with the Lord is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. If, then, the six days work, in creating the world, and the seventh day's rest, are to prefigure the seven ages of the world, of one thousand years each, then the commencement of the seventh day of rest cannot be far in the future.

After a re-examination of the subject, I am fully convinced that the views herein entertained are in accordance with all other parts of Scripture which have a relative bearing on the subject. And if the Sabbath is made for man as the Saviour taught, it is also claimed by God to be his holy day of rest, and he commands man so to keep it. T.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Maria A. Jackson, residing in Nile, Alleghany County, New York, is desirous of obtaining information of two brothers, supposed to be, one in New Hampshire, the other in Vermont: Marshall A. D. The writer of this, and her friends, will be very grateful to the Editor of any public journal in Portsmouth, for giving this notice insertion, and asking other papers to do the same.

FLOATING WOOD.—The Manchester Mirror says, last spring six thousand cords of wood were put into the river, to come down with Norcross' logs. The river was so low that the wood did not reach here till the freshet, and only about half of it then. The rest is probably sunk in the river. Rock-maple, as soon as it gets a little sand on it, will sink, and some kinds will sink as soon as they are soaked through.

WORTH KNOWING.

Prof. Wood, of St. Louis, has discovered a remedy for the grey and bald, which is at once practicable and cheap. It requires no dyeing, no wig, no extraordinary trouble. There can be no doubt whatever of its efficacy. We have seen testimonials almost without number, and from men of great intelligence, high standing and moral worth.

Those who have been bald for years are now wearing their own hair, and appear ten years younger than they did six months ago. As in most cases grey hairs and bald heads are both premature and unnatural, it is a duty to remedy them by the natural and undoubted means which Prof. Wood has invented, and now kindly offers to the afflicted. Try his wonderful remedy, and give the Professor a new testimonial.—Memphis Whig.

*In reality, Jesus and his disciples on this occasion did not in the least infringe the letter of the law on Sabbath, as laid down by Moses.—They only broke through the rubbish of exposition and paraphrase, by which the elders and doctors had made void the law. And as to the property taken, the law of Moses expressly allowed such a use of it, in eating on the spot, as the disciples made,—while it forbade them carrying any of it away.—Ed. Chron.

LOCAL.

THE BANNERS.—A large and showy American Flag was hung across Market Street, from the Navy Agent's office and the Keystone Club head quarters, on Tuesday afternoon. It contains thirty-two stars; and the inscription: "Keystone Club—Buchanan and Breckinridge—The Constitution and the Union."

An American Flag, was also hung over Elm street, at the residence of Hon. H. D. Walker, on Saturday. It bears the names of Fremont and Dayton. We are also informed that a very large Democratic Flag is to be hung near the same place, in a few days.

We should think both parties would get all their "banners hung on the outer wall," by-and-bye. We never saw flags so abound before. The trees are getting to be as profusely draperied as the ladies; and perhaps their extra clothing is fully as becoming.

☞ Out of justice to to the proprietor of the Ocean House and stables, at Rye Beach, we deem it but fair voluntarily to correct the statement which has been generally made, that the cause of the accident to Mrs. and Miss Matteson, on Portsmouth Bridge, last week, was occasioned by the breaking of the harness. We are assured that such was not the case, and that examination of the harness after the accident, proved, what the parties injured themselves state, that no portion of it gave way previous to the striking of the carriage against the pier. The ladies feared the cars were coming from the east, behind them; the boy urged the horses into a speed beyond his ability to manage; and they not being skilfully guided, the collision ensued which alone caused the accident. While we would not lightly censure any livery stable keeper for letting out break-neck carriages or rigging of any sort, it is not fair that they should be blamed (as they often are) for the consequences of carelessness or inefficiency in driving. And neither would we have ladies, or any body else, too much afraid that the cars or any other dreadful thing will come upon them.—Look out reasonably well, and then let events take their course. It were perhaps as well, to let the cars run you down, as to rush headlong against posts; and spirited horses may run away full soon enough, when spurred by even skilful drivers.

A SUCCESSFUL THIEF—R. W. Emerson, in his new work on English traits, calls Louis Napoleon a "successful thief" and is "sure that no Englishman whom he had the happiness to know consented, when the aristocracy and commons of London cringed, like a Neapolitan rabble," before the French Emperor.

CARELESS.—A letter from a bank, containing a genuine bill for one thousand dollars, was a few days since returned to the dead letter office at Washington, the pre-payment having been omitted. This act of carelessness has probably thrown more or less blame on city post offices.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; If you wish any person to see anything, show it; If you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

WASHINGTON NEWS. — Many items of it are quite interesting. Under the head of Congress, we give a brief but clear abstract from the Boston Advertiser.

The President's proclamation for an extra session, found in our columns to-day, shows that the House of Representatives, for the first time in this country, have refused the supplies to a President. The British House of Commons have often done so to the King. It is remarkable also, that the present Congress, (both Houses,) for the first time have passed many Internal Improvement Bills over the President's Veto. The two events together, show the extent of his popularity and influence.

In the debate on the bill in the Senate, Mr. Mason was willing to adhere, for he saw no chance of agreement. He was in favor of meeting the enemy on the threshhold.

Mr. Seward thought that must be figurative language, for the enemy of whom the Senator from Virginia spoke, was the House of Representatives, a coordinate branch of Legislature, and that body was, in no sense, the enemy of the Senate. He (Seward) said, with all deference to the Senator from Virginia, that public sentiment was in his opinion, the friend of constitutional law, and the principles on which our government is founded.

Mr. Hale referred to the English House of Commons, by which the sovereign is held in check, and thought if the House of Representatives was coerced into submission, we might as well give up the experiment of free government.

Mr. Clayton said if the army bill was lost, the army must be disbanded, as they could not be paid and fed. In that case, it would be the duty of the President to call an extra session immediately.

Mr. Toombs consented to change his motion, and let it be — "the Senate 'insist.'" He said the argument held out was that the army must be disbanded if the bill failed. Let it be disbanded,—but keep the Constitution for the protection of the people.

The motion was agreed to—39 to 12.

In the House, Mr. Cobb of Georgia, called the witholding of supplies a factious movement. In the meantime, between Monday and Thursday, if the President sees fit to dismiss those Border Ruffians, Lecompte, Donaldson & Co., put decent men in their places, nol. pros. the treason suits, and do a few more worthy deeds of the same sort, the army bill will pass the House easily and promptly.

The Boston Advertiser's correspondence dated Washington, Monday evening, says:

The assault of Mr. McMullen on Mr. Granger to-day was a disgraceful affair.—The parties were in an omnibus proceeding to the capitol, and fell into a conversation on political affairs. Both were very earnest. Mr. McMullen said "the South would not submit to the election of Fremont. Mr. Granger replied that after November they would have to submit. The discussion immediately became personal; Mr. McMullen said he was insulted, and told Mr. Granger his gray hairs alone protected him. Mr. Granger said he asked no immunity; whereupon Mr. McMullen clinched, and struck him two severe blows, bruising Mr. Granger's face badly. Mr. Granger defended himself as well as he was able. The parties were immediately separated by Col. Chester, of the Philadelphia Inquirer, who gives substantially the foregoing account of the affair. Mr. Granger is an old man, considerably under the medium height; very earnest in his manner, but frank, good-natured and generally popular.

Mr. McMullen proves himself a worthy brother of Brooks and Herbert

In the House, Mr. Simmons moved as a privileged question, a special committee of inquiry into the case.

Mr. Cobb of Ga., (true to his instincts) raised a point to the question of privilege involved, saying that the few remaining minutes of the session should not be consumed in making an inquiry into an assault and battery case.

The Speaker decided Mr. Simmons's question of privilege in order.

The resolution was adopted, and the Speaker appointed Mr. Simmons, Mr, Smith of Va., Mr. Pettit, and Mr. Fuller of Maine, the Committee to investigate the assault.

FIGHTING IN KANSAS.—St. Louis, August 18.—A Westport "Border Ruffian" extra, of the 13th, says: On Monday night a party of 200 free soilers attacked the town of Franklin, Kansas Territory, which contained at the time only about 20 pro-slavery men. A fight ensued lasting four hours, during which 6 free soilers and 4 pro-slavery men were killed. The free soilers afterwards robbed the Post Office, and set fire to it, and then retreated, carrying off the cannon belonging to the town. The next day 100 U. S. troops occupied the town.

Another report says there were 17 free soilers killed and wounded in this affair.

A party of 300 of Col. Lane's men had entered Topeka.

FOR FREEDOM.—The Emperor Alexander has declared, that from and after the day of his coronation in Moscow, all the children born of Russian serfs shall be free. For introducing a proposition just like this into the Virginia House of Delegates, Col. Blanc and Thomas Jefferson were denounced as the enemies of that commonwealth. Turkey is progressing. Egypt is progressing. The Hottentots are progressing. Slavery may be considered as extinguished in Russia. And what are we doing in this land of freedom? Laboring for the perpetuation of the vilest system of slavery that ever cursed the earth?

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, Aug. 18.

In accordance with the resolution previously agreed upon, the first session of the 34th Congress was terminated at noon. All the general appropriation bills had been passed with the exception of the army bill. The two houses disagreed respecting the Kansas amendment in this bill; the amendment of the House prohibited the employment of the army in the enforcement of the laws passed by the pretended legislature of Kansas.—Three Committees of Conference had failed to reconcile the difference. The Senate, however, refused to vote to "adhere," which by parliamentary law is the phrase employed to close the door against further conference; but simply voted to "insist." In the House the motion for a fourth conference was lost, 98 to 103.

It was now nearly 12 o'clock. A motion was made in the House to suspend the rules to allow the introduction of a resolution protracting the session two hours. This motion received 131 votes against 68, showing a large majority in favor of the resolution, but not two-thirds, which are necessary to suspend the rules. Meanwhile the Senate had agreed to a similar resolution, which was received in the House just as the clock struck 12. Mr. Campbell moved to take up the Senate resolution, which motion doubtless would have prevailed; but before a vote could be had, the Session had expired—and the army bill was lost.

None of the general appropriation bills were lost except the army bill; but several private bills were lost for want of time for the President to sign them.

The President issued a proclamation in the afternoon, convening an extra session of Congress to meet on Thursday, Aug 21.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—There was a meeting of the Cabinet this afternoon, and the following was decided upon:—

By the President of the United States.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas—Whilst hostilities exist with various Indian tribes on the remote frontiers of the United States, and whilst in other respects the public peace is seriously threatened—Congress has adjourned without granting the necessary supplies for the Army, depriving the Executive of the power to perform his duty in relation to the common defence and security, and as an extraordinary occasion has thus arisen for assembling the two Houses of Congress—

I do therefore, by this proclamation, convene the said Houses to meet at the Capitol, in the city of Washington, Thursday, the 21st of August inst.; and hereby request the senators and representatives then and there to assemble to consult and determine on such measures as the state of the Union may seem to require.

In testimony whereof, I have caused the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed, and signed the same with my own hand.

Done at the city of Washington, the 18th day of August, in the year of our Lord 1856, and of the Independence of the United States the 81st.

FRANKLIN PIERCE.

By order—W. L. Marcy, Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—A correspondent of the New York Herald says that the Southern Senators and members are very indignant with the President for calling an extra session. A number of them met this morning, and addressed a letter to the President urging him not to call an extra session. The letter was numerously signed. The whole subject was considered in the Cabinet. Cushing, McClelland and Campbell were opposed to the proclamation. The other members favored it, and it was sent to the printer immediately.

Quite a number of members and Senators left this evening, notwithstanding the proclamation. Under the new compensation bill, they will not receive anything for the time they are detained.

WASHINGTON, 19th.—No business to be done at the extra session.—Wise and discreet members of the Democratic, Republican, and American parties, acknowledged leaders of both Houses, express their determination to resist any attempt to go into any legislation at the extra session, to save the Army bill, or other great public measures. The members are exhausted from their excessive labors, and are painfully anxious to return to their homes.

[We suppose one word is omitted here, and that it should read, no legislation—except to save the army bill, &c.]

On Wednesday last, as we learn from the Vineyard Gazette, a little girl named Caroline Coleman, 13 years of age, was carried out in a boat in which she was playing, about four miles to sea, from Cape Poge beach. She was rescued by Elijah P. Smith and others; the boat in which she was, was half full of water, and would have soon sunk.

☞ The Christian Register says; "It is calculated that the clergy cost the United States six millions of dollars annually, the criminals nineteen, the lawyers thirty-five, tobacco forty, and rum one hundred millions."

NEGLIGENT CORRESPONDENTS—The Piedmont (Va.) Whig says, 'since the 25th of December, seventeen negroes have left the neighborhood of Middleburg, and not more than half have ever been heard from.'

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only tender it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

FIVE LUCKY FELLOWS.—In common with others who make it a rule to believe only half what they hear, we have often expressed doubts as to the reality of the enormous prizes which are said to be so frequently drawn by the holders of tickets in the State Lotteries of the South; but the following correspondence compels us to dismiss our incredulity and recognize Messrs. S. Swan & Co., Managers of Fort Gaines Academy Lottery, of Atlanta, Georgia, and Southern Military Academy Lottery, of Montgomery, Alabama, as fully entitled to public confidence. We are informed that Mr. Hopson is a tinsmith, Mr. Stephens a grocer, Dr. Williams a physician, Hon. Mr. Burton an ex-member of the Legislature, and Mr. M. L. Carroll is the assistant-postmaster of the town in which all reside. They each purchased a $5 ticket, agreeing that should any of the five get a prize, all should share. Had it not been for this arrangement, the lucky holder of 14,412 would have had the whole! Swan & Co. draw their lotteries August 28th and September 12th. The prices of tickets, we see, are, whole, $10; halves $5; quarters, $2,50.

Managers' Office of the Southern Military Academy and Fort Gaines Academy Lotteries.

To Messrs. HOPSON, STEPHENS & Co.:

Gentlemen,—You will doubtless be pleased to hear that your ticket in the above enterprise, numbered 14,412, has drawn the prize of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.) You will, therefore, either delegate one of your own number to come here and receive the funds, or we shall forward the amount to you by bill of exchange. If you would allow us the use of your names as recipients, your courtesy will be fully appreciated.—But use your own discretion in the matter, as, unless where consent is given, our business is strictly and inviolably confidential.

Very resp'y, your obed't servants,

S. SWAN & CO.

SHELBY, N. C., Aug. 4th, 1856.

Gentlemen,—Your letter, informing us that the ticket numbered 14,412, held by us in partnership, had drawn the prize of $20,000, only reached us yesterday morning. We need not say that it has pleased us greatly, and if the use of our names can be of the slightest service to your business, you are hereby given liberty to use them.

We will endeavor to be in your city in a few days, and receive the money. (Signed)

H. R. COBURN'S OIL WORKS.

Established, 1842.
H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.

This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.

This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considered, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.

H. R. O. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.

H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL

is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

A VESSEL SAVED.—A letter from Gloucester, Mass. Aug. 16, says: — "As a party of us were fishing from the rocks that gird the southerly side of the harbor, we saw, on Thursday afternoon, a large steamer come round Eastern Point, having in tow a barque in a sinking state. The barque was the Adieu, 36 days from Glasgow for Boston. Her escort was the U.S. steamer Vixen, Lieut. Trenchard.

It appears that the Adieu ran on the ledge known as the Little Salvages, some three miles from the shore of Cape Ann. The British Vice Consul at this place, Dr. Northall, immediately on hearing of the accident, hastened on board the disabled barque, where he found the crew rather the worse for the liquor on board, and which, with iron and sugar, constituted the cargo.

Dr. N. at once assumed the control of things, and the commander of the Vixen having kindly tendered his aid, Dr. N. determined to have the barque towed into Gloucester. This was against the advice of all the old salts from Rockport who had come to the scene of the disaster, and who recommended that she should be beached at once. The barque having been got off, began to settle fast. The men at the pumps were meanwhile falling off from their work, tempted by the abundance of good liquor on board; and it was not till Dr. N. threatened to throw the steward overboard, that he could put a stop to the dram-drinking. With the help of a good officer sent on board by Lieut. Trenchard, the Adieu was safely towed into Gloucester harbor till she struck the mud. She was so near sinking at this time, that the water was just ready to flow over the combings of the hatch.

As the barque was laden with iron, she would have gone down like a shot as soon as the water began to flow in. The old sea captains say, if the Consul had known the danger, he never would have attempted to bring the barque round. A little ignorance is sometimes an advantage. Certain it is, the owners and underwriters may thank the efficient course of Dr. Northall, seconded as he was by Lieut. Trenchard, for preventing a very heavy loss."—Boston Transcript.

NEW BRUNSWICK.—The St. John, N. B., Telegraph says:

What have we got in exchange for the law about which there has been all this fuss, and which has been the innocent occasion of the most disgusting exhibition on the part of our legislators which this country ever witnessed? We are once more, just as we were under the unmitigated curse of a license law. How long will the people of New Brunswick submit to this? We shall see. Meanwhile we respectfully suggest to all the Mayors of Cities and Towns and to all presiding Magistrates, at special and regular sessions—the propriety and importance of their immediately ordering a sufficiency of blank forms for liquor licenses, to be headed with a death's head and cross bones — and the following withering words of the Rev. John Pierpont:

"For so much gold we license thee,
So say our laws, a draught to sell
Which binds the strong, enslaves the free,
And opens wide the gates of hell;
For public good requires that some
Should live, since many die, by rum."

Prince William Street, Dock Street, Kelly's Row and other parts of the City contain not a few establishments which would be very appropriately embellished by such a document, framed, gilded, and conspicuously hung up.

A boiler burst on the Erie and Buffalo Railroad, killing Edward Willis, engineer, and a fireman, blowing a car full of sheep to peices, and throwing thirteen freight cars off the track.

DR. KANE AND THE ARCTIC SEARCH.—We published yesterday an article from the London papers, relative to another expedition proposed by the British Government, to the Arctic regions, to make final search for the remains or the official records of Sir John Franklin and his party, of which traces have at last been found. Dr. Kane has by common consent, even among the English navigators themselves, been looked to as the head of this expedition, and has been tendered the command in the fullest and most flattering manner by the English Admiralty. He has heretofore declined it; but the strong inducements held out in connection with the lately renewed appeals of Lady Franklin, the officers of the British Geographical Society, and the Ministry, all combine towards inducing him to reconsider his answer, and it may be that he is destined to again venture upon the perilous enterprise of settling forever the geography of the North Pole, while he performs the last offices for the lost navigators.—National Intelligencer, Aug. 16.

A MYRIAD OF FLIES.—The Dove, during her trip down the Kentucky river last week, when near Marion, Ky., was invaded by clouds of flies which literally covered the boat all over. They are the species known as the lake fly, with their bodies and wings about an inch in length. They covered the boiler deck to the depth of a foot or more. The cabin was filled, and they had to be swept to the guard and then shovelled overboard. —Louisville Courier.

AN AGED CLERGYMAN.—The Manchester American states that Rev. Laban Ainsworth, senior pastor of the Congregational Church, Jaffrey, N. H., is now in his one hundred and third year, having been born July 16, 1754. He is the oldest graduate of Dartmouth College, and probably the oldest clergyman in the country.

HOURS FOR MARRYING IN ENGLAND.—The limit of the time of the day for marrying in England is fixed by statute. The period between 8 o'clock in the morning and noon is assigned as the legal time for all marriages. In this country the evening is most generally selected for the ceremony.

NEW HAMPSHIRE HORSE SHOW.

The Manchester Mirror states that there is to be a Granite State Horse Show, on the Fair Field, in Manchester, for three days, commencing Sept. 30th; in connection with the Hillsborough County Agricultural and Mechanical Fair.

There has been a growing desire in this State to have a State Horse Show, with premiums large enough to induce farmers to bring their horses from every town and county in the State. At the State Fairs, the prizes have been small, from $1 to $15, and hence seldom drew a horse from distant counties, and persons from other parts of the country, have gone away thinking poorly of the extent of horse-raising here. Whereas, this is second to no State in New England for its beautiful horses. Scarcely a week passes but some noted horse is sold at a high figure. A gentleman in Hillsborough County, a week ago, had four horses, all fast, that could not be bought for less than $6,000. He has just sold two of them to go to New York at a price but little varying from two thirds of that sum.

Farmers throughout the State are getting wide awake for raising colts that will bring a large sum of money, and seem just beginning to learn that blood is everything in a horse, and that it is just as impossible to get a good colt from poor-blooded stock, from the "dunghill race," as it is called, as to see a flock of pigeons in January, in our snowy regions.

Gentlemen interested in horses have stepped forward and offered premiums to about half the extent given by the United States Society, large enough at any rate to bring together in one Show all the finest horses of the State. Disinterested Judges will be selected from each of the counties, and no money or pains will be spared to make it the greatest Show of Horses ever collected from a single State. These two attractions in one will bring to Manchester the largest crowd of people ever there at one time, and no doubt but the citizens will feel a just pride in making all the preliminary arrangements of fitting up the grounds, preparing the fence and track, furnishing water, tents, &c. The premium lists of both Shows are now being printed, and will be distributed in a couple of weeks.

LIGHT IN A DARK PLACE—BOOKSELLING DANGEROUS TO SOUTHERN INSTITUTIONS.—There has been great excitement in Mobile, Ala., which had its origin in the sale of Abolition books, by a stationery firm in that city. The name of the firm in question is Strickland & Co. The only charge against them was the selling of books that were regarded as of an incendiary character, inasmuch as they favored the freedom of the slaves. This, however, was more than the people could submit to, and a committee of five of the citizens was accordingly formed, who waited on the individuals above alluded to, and ordered them to leave the city within five days. As soon as the action of the Committee became known, the excitement rapidly increased, and the parties, for fear of more desperate measures, fled the city in the most secret manner possible.—The firm was in the enjoyment of a large business, and have heretofore been liberally patronized by the citizens.

And we are all invited and urged, as freemen and lovers of our country, to aid in extending that blessed institution which demands such folly and creates such cowardice, as we see exhibited in the above item. People of New England—don't all speak at once.

A GOOD IDEA.—The Lowell News states that "a merciful man," a stove dealer in that city, has erected a tasty awning on the shafts of his wagon, under which the horse travels with perfect ease and entirely in the shade.—The arrangement is quite cheap, and much superior to common horse-covers, as it does not come within six inches of the animal at any point—thus allowing a free circulation of air, and fully breaking the rays of the sun.—It is worthy of imitation by all who own work-horses, says the News.

We think so, too; and also that every man who drives a team in all sorts of weather, would more than save the cost of such a shade from the sun, a rubber covering for wet weather, and a wool ditto for cold—in the wear of his horse and harness. We don't believe, however, that horses, any more than men or women, are sugar or salt—but would have all dressed for the occasion, and then "put 'em through" in all weather.

THREE WHEELED CARRIAGES.—The last Scientific American gives a representation and explanation of a three-wheeled Phaeton, patented last month by C. W. Saladee, Columbus, Ohio. It is a handsome carriage, and is said to possess many advantages over common two or four-wheeled carriages.

☞A genius, who has searched deeply into the political prophecies of the coming Presidential election with commendable perseverance and zeal, has at last come to the conclusion that Fremont, Buchanan and Fillmore will all be the successful candidates! This most probable inference is drawn from the various representations of letters, newspapers, &c., in all parts of the Union.

Modesty is but the art of hiding one's vanity.

MAIL ROBBERIES.—Newburyport people are complaining, and not without good cause, of their losses by robberies of the U. S. mail. Several valuable letters recently mailed in that city are abstracted,—one containing $200 in bills. The letter was registered and duly forwarded, but never reached its destination, Providence, R. I. Two letters forwarded from New York to parties in Newburyport, and a package containing Jewelry, are missing. Where is Mr. Holbrook, with his "thirty years among the mail bags?"—[Exchange.

We have never been able to discover the whereabouts of a letter containing $10, which was put into the office, for us at Boston, sometime since. But after all, people who are sending letters, themselves make many mistakes—as in the case of the Bank letter we mentioned yesterday; which, though containing a $1000 bill, was carelessly sent to the Post Office unpaid, and of course went to the dead letter office.

We knew of another case, nearer home, which occurred a short time since. A gentleman in Saco registered a letter containing $17, for this city; and was surprised, afterwards, to learn from his creditor here, that the letter had not reached him. Our Postmaster thought there must be some mistake, as he never knew a registered letter to fail of reaching its destination here—and it turned out, after a while, that the letter had been duly taken from our office by the gentleman for whom it was intended, and laid away in the pocket of an old coat which was but seldom used. Doubtless a portion of the fault found with the mail department, may be owing to similar causes.

FROM KANSAS.—Judge Lecompte's court began its summer session on the 4th inst., at Whitehead. A letter says that the docket is large, and chiefly of a criminal and political character. The first case is that of Benjamin B. Brock, charged with acting as judge of an election. Gen. J. M. Bassett and Col. W. Broadus Thomson of St. Joseph, Mo., defend Mr. Brock. On the strength of a rumor that Gen. Lane, with five hundred troops on the Iowa frontier, stood ready to rescue those who might be convicted, Gen. Smith had stationed 50 troops within a short distance of the court room.

A letter from Hickory Point, K. T., of Aug. 7, says;

A report of a somewhat alarming kind has reached this vicinity recently. Two men, whom I shall not name, have received letters from friends in Missouri, (they are both Free State settlers, who came from Missouri.) These letters came from brothers in the Masonic fraternity. They urge them not to remain in the part of the Territory where they are. A scheme has been concocted in the Blue Lodges in Missouri to murder, and plunder, and drive out the free State settlers. The Free State settlements are to be broken up, all the leaders and influential persons and some whole neighborhoods are to suffer. Arrangements are making in Missouri to systematize attacks on certain points, and "wipe them out." This has been contemplated for some time, but has been delayed until after the Missouri elections, now over, and some of the blows are to be struck within a week.

They have had quite a disturbance at Lecompton among themselves. Jones, Lane, Donaldson, with all the other proslavery bullies, have been trying to get Gov. Shannon to call out the militia again, to "collect taxes." Shannon, for the first time, showed a little back bone against the audacious rascality of the ruffians, and has refused; nay, more, they have been threatening him for some days back, he still persists in refusing. What renders this more aggravated, is the fact that a few of the leaders of the Southern regiment have just got back from the South, with more means and more men, and want to do something before this strength is dissipated.

So indignant were they at Shannon's "un-lawful and dis-order-ly" conduct, that they have threatened a hydropathical remedy for this unprecedented stubbornness. The terms were; "Call out the militia, or be ducked in the Kan River." I wonder what Mrs. Shannon would think of "pro-slavery society" if she were at Lecompton now. Yesterday the Governor beat a retreat to the prisoners' camp, Capt. Sackett in command, and wanted to be protected. He was in a bad way, as he had to return to Lecompton.

We charge that Mr. Fremont is a Roman Catholic. Now if he is not a Catholic why don't he come out over his own signature and deny the fact.—[New York Express.

We charge that the editor of the Express is a consummate ass. Now, if he is not an ass, why don't he come out over his own signature and deny the fact.—[Syracuse Journal.

We have been engaged in a newspaper office now for some twenty years, and have always observed that the persons who find most fault with an editor's course of conducting his paper, are those who either beg, borrow or steal it.—Keene Republican.

That's a fact.

Rev. Dr. Peabody, in a discourse preached before the Associated Alumni of Harvard, recommended that clergymen should have some trade or calling from which they can derive a support, other than their preaching, that their opinions may be more independent.

TEMPERANCE IN COOS COUNTY.

Correspondence of the Chronicle & Phenix.

COLEBROOK, N. H., Aug. 18, '56.

Dear Uncle Toby:—I became acquainted with the Chronicle, as you know, not by my own choice, but by a transfer from the Phenix. I am, however, much pleased with the acquaintance; and hope it may long continue. I have no doubt it will, unless my poverty should compel me modestly to retire from your company. Should that unwished for event take place, I trust you will keep on the track just as though nothing had happened. So much for an introduction.

And now for the cause in which we are engaged. The cause of Temperance, though assailed on every side by the wicked, will, without doubt, advance, and finally prevail.—Good men are engaged to promote its interest and pray to Him who has all the power in heaven and on earth, that this cause may prevail over every obstacle.

But there is work before us, for there are many adversaries. In some localities we find the whole influence of those whose duty it is to see the law against intemperance executed, engaged, (secretly, as they suppose,) to defeat its execution. For instance, I know a certain town where the Selectmen are all opposed to the law, like the party to which they are attached; and although the town does not contain over one thousand inhabitants, yet they have appointed two agents in the town to sell liquor. And as may well be supposed, there has been a large increase of the medical business lately, and also in the chemical and mechanical departments of the trade. These agents are just about as scrupulous and conscientious in their business, as were those who appointed them. For chemical purposes, two gallons of New England Rum are considered enough for a peck of pickles; and for mechanical purposes, the same amount will be sufficient to raise a shed, if it is not too large;—(strong rum, that!) And then again the law lacked a little for special occasions; and another item has been added, so as to sell a little for musical purposes—when a young man has just got married, and expects to be serenaded.

Now it is not very hard work for agents, appointed by Selectmen, one of whom buys his rum by the barrel, and another sells a little "now and then" to particular friends,—to get off considerable rum, of which the register of sales has no knowledge, it being done in the back store or cellar.

This is the way the present law is brought into disrepute; and then those who are the agents in this dirty business, both buyer and seller, turn round and say, "the law is of no force, and public opinion will not sustain it." Just as though a few mercenary rumsellers, and their bloated customers, and a few rundown political hacks form public opinion.

But notwithstanding this, the cause is onward, and the law is doing much good; for there is not one quarter of the rum sold and drank now, that there was two years ago. But I am of the opinion that the law is defective, and a commissioner in each county should have been appointed, to employ agents who would comply with the letter of the law. Let this be done, and let the friends of the law have a little more back-bone, and prosecute all violations of the law, whether by agents or others; and the opposers will soon hide their heads. ANTI-BACCHUS.

FREE AND SLAVE LABOR.—Col. Lane, of Kansas, thus illustrates the relation of the two sorts of labor which are before the country. He says he was going down the Ohio once on a flat boat in company with a carpenter. The latter wished to get work in Kentucky, and going on shore they stopped at the door of a planter. "My dear fellow," said the planter to Col. Lane's companion, drawing himself up with his fingers in the arm holes of his waistcoat, "I would like to hire you, but the truth is, I bought two carpenters yesterday.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

WORTH KNOWING.

Prof. Wood, of St. Louis, has discovered a remedy for the grey and bald, which is at once practicable and cheap. It requires no dyeing, no wig, no extraordinary trouble. There can be no doubt whatever of its efficacy. We have seen testimonials almost without number, and from men of great intelligence, high standing and moral worth.

Those who have been bald for years are now wearing their own hair, and appear ten years younger than they did six months ago. As in most cases grey hairs and bald heads are both premature and unnatural, it is a duty to remedy them by the natural and undoubted means which Prof. Wood has invented, and now kindly offers to the afflicted. Try his wonderful remedy, and give the Professor a new testimonial.—Memphis Wig.

LETTER FROM JUDGE MCLEAN.—The Cincinnati Gazette of Aug. 14, contains the following note:

Your note in the paper of this morning in relation to the Kansas prisoners, though not intended, is calculated to mislead the public. The application for a habeas corpus was made, and after a full examination of the case, finding that the indictment for treason charged the offence as within the constitution, and that the defendants were arrested under a warrant issued by the court on the indictment, I refused the application for the writ, as there was no ground from the face of the papers to hold the detention as illegal; and that was the only ground on which the prisoners, on the habeas corpus, could be released.

The counsel asked leave to withdraw the papers, with the view of amending the return, and I granted them to him.

I acted upon certified copies of the indictment and the warrant under which the prisoners were held. JOHN MCLEAN.

The Republicans of Sanilac county, Michigan, have found a notable mode of saving trouble. They have adopted the entire Democratic organization of the county. Every man on the County Committee, and on the township committee, of the old Democratic organization, is now a thorough Fremont man, so they just voted to let 'em hold on.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

THE LIGHTNING ABOARD THE SYBIL.—e have seen a letter from a gentleman who s aboard the yacht Sybil, when struck by htning off our harbor a few days since.—he writer was severely affected, but has en ly recovered. He was below at the time vessel was struck — holding one of the ors, to keep out the storm; and says all y heard was a tremendous crash — they ard not the thunder at this time, nor saw y flash. He felt a slight shock on the arm xt the door, but did not know what had pened, and stepped on deck and asked pt. Preble—who was just rising near the eel, from which he had been stricken down what was the matter. He heard no answer nd had no further consciousness for a time. attributes the restoration of those most af-ted, to the liberal application of cold water, commends the practice in similar cases. acknowledges with gratitude, the kindest entions from the captain and crew of the bil, as well as the passengers who were njured.

BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD. The annual report of the directors of the ston & Maine Railroad Corporation, has en prepared in anticipation of the meet-of the stockholders, which will be held the 10th of September next. t is submitted by the President in be-f of a bare majority (five) of the Di-tors. Those who agree to the report Messrs. James Hayward of Boston, nes H. Duncan of Haverhill, Francis ggswell of Andover, George W. Kit-dge of Newmarket, N. H., and Peter Homer of Boston. Those who dissent Messrs. William J. Walker, Francis B. yes, Andrew Pierce, jr., and Henry L. lliams, all of Boston. The Boston Advertiser reviews the re-t, goes over the figures, and casts it up allacious, and says, "we protest against exhibition manifestly concocted to give rong impression of the actual state of ngs. It is the obvious duty of the direc-s in their reports to give the stockhold-a true and exact statement of the con-on of their property. When the di-tors fail in this obvious duty, it becomes part of the Press to take notice of the ure. Here is a report which actually resents the existence of a large balance "unexpended earnings," when in point fact there is a balance of indebtedness the other side. What an illusion is !" The Advertiser figures out "a balance inst the company of $298,042, instead a balance in favor of the company of 8,371, as represented by the majority the directors. Besides this, the company owes the State Massachusetts $150,000, for the pay-nt of which no provision is yet made, ough $100,000 of the amount is due in 7. The Advertiser stands up by saying, e are glad to find that nearly half of the rd of Directors, including some of se best known in this city, have refused give the sanction of their signatures to singular document. We trust to hear m them distinctly, a true and unvar-ied statement of the condition of the npany. There is fortunately a brief in-val before the annual meeting of the ckholders, in which they will have an portunity to inform themselves of the nner in which their property has been naged.

REV. H. D. MOORE.—The Portland Trans-pt gives a report of the recent annual ex-ination of the Maine Female Seminary, at tland—and from the manner in which he aks of our old friend Moore's address on occasion, we should judge him to be as ular in his new home as he ever was else-ere. The editor says: The address by Rev. H. D. Moore of Port-d, did not need the apologetic preface, ch introduced us to one of the most bril-t public performances to which we have ently listened. We shall not attempt to ort it, even in outline. Suffice it to say, t he held unusual command of his hearers' ention through more than an hour and a , while he carried them captive through ood, paragraph, and page to the end.

THE CLOSE, AND EXTRA SESSION.

In the House of Representatives on Monday, the Speaker announced that there had been discovered an error in the vote of the House on Saturday night upon receding from the proviso to the Army bill—that upon correction the vote was found to be ninety-eight yeas to ninety-eight nays, throwing the casting vote upon the Chair, and he should vote in the negative, and the House would thereby still refuse to recede.

Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, from the Committee of Conference on the Army bill, reported that after a full and free conference they could not agree, and asked to be discharged. Mr. Campbell then stated that the Senate desired another conference, and he therefore moved that the House insist upon its disagreement with the Senate and agree to another conference, and upon this the yeas and nays were called, and the motion was lost by a vote of 98 to 103.

The Speaker declared the bill passed, when Mr. Kunkel, of Penn., appealed from the decision of the Chair, and thus its passage was prevented.

The appeal took the South so by surprise, that they did not appear to know how to appropriate the triumph of the moment before, —and the hour of twelve closed the proceedings.

Mr. Campbell's motion was a double one;—and all the members did not understand it.—Hence the success of the appeal, which shows that a majority wished to insist on their amendment.

The silence in the halls of Congress has created a lull in the agitations in political circles at Washington. It is rumored that the Cabinet was somewhat angrily divided on the question of summoning an Extra Session.—The general opinion appears to be, that the session will be short and will be confined to action on supplies for the army. It is possible that a quorum of the House may not be present.

PERSONAL AND CONGRESSIONAL.—Fayette McMullen is a Representative from the 13th Congressional district of Virginia, and has served two or three terms in Congress. He is about forty years of age, and of a large and muscular frame. His manner of dress betrays great vanity; his brass buttons, gold chains, and a huge cane, making him very conspicuous as he promenades the streets. In intellect he ranks among the least in the House of Representatives. He is fond of speaking, and the commencement of his harangues is oftentimes the signal for a general smile. A spectator in the gallery once remarked that he seemed to be "compased of equal parts of ignorance, impudence, and gold watch chains."

Amos P. Granger represents the 24th Congressional district of New York. He is about 50 years of age, well built, but under the medium height. He is of a very nervous temperament, quick in his movements, and a ready debater. During the contest for Speakership, he was one of the staunchest supporters of Mr. Banks. He nominated the present venerable Chaplain of the House, and succeeded in effecting his election by a brief speech which evinced great tact and discrimination. We believe that his first speech was upon the unconstitutionality of slavery. His brief speech upon the Brooks outrage was one of the best delivered in the House, and has been extensively quoted. He is a man of amiable disposition, agreeable manners, and very popular with all parties, and a special favorite among his political associates. He is a warm personal friend of Senator Sumner.

The above is a north side view of the two men, taken by the Boston Transcript. The following, in relation to Mr. Sumner, is from the same source.

Hon. Charles Sumner writes from the Alleghany Mountains to a friend in Boston, under date of Aug. 16, that he is at last physically convalescent, though his physician tells him he cannot hope to leave the mountains without running the hazard of being an invalid for months to come. Mr. Sumner adds: "It is all uncertain when I shall be able to bear the excitement of public speaking. But I am confident that I shall rally in season to take part in the pending contest. I cannot for a moment tolerate the thought that this will not be."

Belle Brittan, the Newport correspondent of the New York Mirror, states that "letters are arriving addressed to the 'Hon. Preston S. Brooks, Ocean House, Newport.' So it seems that redoutable gentleman does not fear to travel in the enemy's country,' provided Burlingame is not on his track."

TEMPERANCE IN CONGRESS. — The Boston Journal says:

The session of Saturday was a very lengthy one, extending from 11 A. M. on Saturday to 4 1-2 A. M., on Sunday.—All accounts represent that unusual good order prevailed throughout the session.—This is attributed in great part to the fact that Speaker Banks peremptorily banished all wines and spirituous liquors from the Capitol. Coffee was substituted, to marked advantage. Only one member was intoxicated, and he was a Kentuckian, who was dragged up from his slumbers occasionally to vote on any important question.

Now we do not suppose that Speaker Banks's prohibition made the old sots in Congress into good temperance men.—But he used the legal power in his hands to break up the National Groggery—and so they had a sober session. That is exactly what the law can do—it can act in its own sphere—and the gospel and moral suasion can act in theirs. They need not come into collision.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by K. Crowley' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

H. R. COBURN'S OIL WORKS.

Established, 1842.

H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.

This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.

This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considerd, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.

H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.

H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL.

is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day, and can be paid for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. But to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $6 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be broken under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for such cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to
JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co., Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

ABUSE OF THE PUBLIC MONEY.—The Senate this morning gave power to all Committees to employ clerks during the recess of Congress, at the rate of fifteen hundred dollars per year. Mr. Bright left the president's chair to advocate the measure. Messrs. Trumbull and Wilson exposed the trick.—The latter said there would be no other business for these clerks during the recess but to mail Administration documents to the country, for not a single committee would meet.—He also exposed the fact that two Senate Committees that have not had a meeting this session, employed two clerks at a salary of fifteen hundred dollars, and that their principal business has been the private writing of the chairman of the Committees.—Cor. N. Y. Tribune.

HOW TO MAKE TEA PROPERLY.—The proper way to make a cup of tea is a matter of much importance. The plan which I have practiced for these twelve months is this: the teapot is at once filled up with boiling water, then tea is put into the pot, and is allowed to stand five minutes before it is used; the leaves gradually absorb the water and as gradually sink to the bottom; the result is that the tea leaves are not scalded, as they are when boiling water is poured on them, and you get all the flavor of the tea. In truth much less tea is required in this way than under the old and common practice.

QUEER ADVERTISEMENT.—The following appears as an advertisement—marked "till forbid"—in the Lawrenc Courier:

The lips of a strange woman drop as an honey-comb, and her mouth is smoother than oil: but her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword. Her feet go down to down to death: her steps take hold on hell. Lest thou shouldest ponder the path of life, her ways are moveable, that thou canst not know them.—Prov. v. 2, 3, 5, 9.

WOODEN CAR WHEELS.—Many English railroads use wooden wheels for passenger cars, constructed on a patent held by an English company. They are composed of sections of strong timber, so interlocked or dovetailed that the centrifugal force cannot seperate them. The first cost is greater than that of iron, but they claim to be more durable. They are to be introduced on the Cleveland & Cincinnati road, and on the Cleveland & Erie.

On Thursday last, Mr John Ginber, residing in the western section of Allegany Co., Maryland, killed, in the cavities of an old stump, near his residence, seventeen rattle snakes, one of which had sixteen rattles.

The failure of the Jerome Clock Company in Connecticut, has not put a stop to the business of making clocks. The New Haven Clock Company occupies the premises of the Jerome Company, and finishes clocks at the rate of 15,000 per month or 280,000 a year.

jel7 — 14½ Market street.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crossley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

WILLIAM CROWLEY & SON, Overely Mills, Alcester, England.

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market,) I am prepared to sell them

FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1856.

BLACK REPUBLICAN SENTIMENT.—The True American, a Black Republican organ in Erie county, Pa., in commenting upon a speech delivered at a Democratic meeting, says:

"This twaddle about the 'Union' and its 'preservation' is too silly and sickening for any good effect. We think the liberty of a single slave is worth more than all the Unions God's universe can hold!"

Suppose the editor of the Democrat were himself the single slave: what would then be his opinion? His case is exactly described in the following extract from the leading Buchanan paper in South Carolina:

"Slavery is the natural and normal condition of the laboring man, whether white or black. The great evil of Northern free society is, that it is burdened with a servile class of mechanics and laborers, unfit for self-government, and yet clothed with the attributes and powers of citizens."

The Union, if it cannot be made to promote the slavery of all laborers, including Mechanics, white as well as black, is deemed of no account by the slave oligarchy.

The editor of the Democrat, in their view, if not a slave, ought to be one. What does he think of the proposition? Is his liberty worth any thing?—If so, which will he value the highest—his own liberty, or the liberty of his master to hold and sell him?

NEWSPAPERS, &c.—The New York Herald, which has been engaged for some weeks preparing a table of the names, circulation and political position of the papers on its exchange list, and such others as it has been able to gather, publishes the result of its labors. The whole number of papers is 755, which are thus classified: Buchanan, 296; Fremont, 334; Fillmore, 125. Circulation of Democratic journals, 450,000; circulation of Fremont journals, 702,652; circulation of Fillmore journals, 176,371.

Such a document is of course imperfect; and it probably gives a view of circulation more favorable to slavery than the actual truth, as the exchanges of the Herald would embrace most of the pro-slavery papers.—Still, no one should infer from the great majority of readers of Fremont journals, that there will be a similar majority of voters! for there are thousands of them who don't read the papers; and these very thousands are among the men who will vote against him.

A GOOD HIT.—We cut the following keen rap at the intolerant spirit too often manifested by the partisan presses—from a sporting paper; a journal of the turf, the ring, and other pastimes considered "brutal."

Ace, Deuce, and Trey.—Our political friends are now deeply engaged in an exciting game of "sweat cloth," and if the Presidential aspirants are not pretty well "reduced" by the "sweating process" before November next, it will not be for want of "trainers." Well, we shall not grumble if all three are annihilated; for a more graceless set of scoundrels, (according to the Daily press,) have never before been met with. The conductors of the "immaculate," the "respectable press," are more than "brutal" in canvassing the merits of the three candidates for the greatest office in the gift of the American people, and yet the people seem to like it. "Ace.dence," one pays the other.—N. Y. Clipper.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says the late rains have been ruinous to a great extent to the marsh hay. That which was cut laid for two weeks without sun enough to make it, and much of it has been carted into the barn yard for litter and manure. In other cases it has been boated off to higher lands.

While on Cape Cod, owing to the drouth, some of the farmers have been obliged to cut their corn and feed it out for fodder, to save it from becoming entirely worthless.

DELIRIUM TREMENS.—A Mrs. Mary Flag died a few days ago, in Boston. It was surmised that she was murdered. Dr. Cornell was called to hold an inquest, but deemed one unnecessary, as it appeared from the statements of Dr. Coit, who has attended her, that she has suffered from illness, including delirium tremens, for some time past, and that her death was a natural result of her state of exhaustion. In her incoherence, befor [illegible] th, she charged some person with beating her severely, and hence the suspicion of improper dealings against her. There were no marks of violence on her body likely to cause permanent injury or death. Plain case.

On the 15th inst., Mr. Simeon Copp, o Gilmanton, committed suicide by hanging himself to a tree, in a pasture back of his house. He left his house at about 5 o'clock in the morning, after his [illegible] orse, as he said; but not returning, his wife became alarmed, and about nine o'clock sent a hired man to look for him, and he was found as above stated. His health for a few days previous had not been good, and he was at the time in a low, depressed state of mind, occasioned, it is supposed, although unnecessarily, by his pecuniary affairs. He leaves a wife and three children.

☞ Altha; or Shells from the Strand; a tale by Mrs. Ada M. Field—is a finely executed book of 300 pages, just published by Jas. French & Co., Boston, and for sale by James F. Shores, Jr., Portsmouth. It is an American tale, ingeniously wrought by an American woman;—and will be a popular book.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

THE RECENT TORNADO.

NORTH ANDOVER, MASS., Aug. 19.

Messrs. Editors:—I yesterday took a stroll over to the neighboring village of Boxford, to view the devastation produced by the tornado of Aug. 12. After waiting for an hour, with anything but patience, for the diligence, it came, three quarters of an hour behind time, and full of passengers,—leaving us the alternative, either to forego the sight, or walk three miles over tremendous hills. We chose the latter, and I can assure you that our pace was not accelerated by the large and delicious huckleberries which grew in profusion by the roadside.

On reaching Boxford, we could scarcely credit our own optics. Although a great deal has been done to repair the damage, in the week past, the work of destruction is visible on all sides. Here was a house with the roof gone, and the chimney shattered; there a large tree snapped short off close to the ground; and farther on, a whole orchard prostrate, the tops of one row of trees overlaying the roots of the next—resembling a field ploughed by Titans. You bare hill-side is the spot where a week ago was a flourishing garden,—the whole of which, to the dismay of the owner, was swept into the valley below. Those fragments of lumber scattered along the declivity, we are told, formed part of a shoemaker's shop; which, after turning a couple of somersets, in a style which would reflect credit on Jim Myers himself, or the other Mires family, dissolved copartnership—and left the astonished occupant thereof, in a slightly bruised condition, on terra firma.

The wind came from the north-west, having touched Londonderry, Chester, &c., but seems to have spent its fury here. It extends for half a mile in breadth, varying in intensity at different points. The sight is represented to have been terrific, the air being filled with shingles, branches of trees, sticks and dirt.—Fences were levelled; glass was broken; barns unroofed—one full of straw being carried some distance, and when it came down, broken to pieces, and its contents scattered to the four winds. The total damage is estimated at $15,000.

Large quantities of hay and grain have been ruined in this region by the rain.

RUSTICUS.

"Modesty is but the art of hiding one's vanity."

Nothing could be more false, says Uncle Toby, than the above line, with which a column was filled out on Wednesday. It is as false and absurd a saying as the following would be:

Honesty is but the art of secreting stolen goods.

Kindness is but the art of dissembling murderous hate.

But with the prefix of the adjective mock, it would be true, thus:

Mock modesty is but the art of hiding one's own vanity.

Pretended honesty—and pretended kindness, are but the arts, &c.

In other words, Hypocrisy always apes the virtues, in order the more successfully to practice the vices.

☞ A Mass Convention of the friends of Freedom and Fremont will be held at Wolfborough, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 28, 29. Hon. Henry Wilson, of Mass., our State delegation in Congress, and other distinguished speakers will address the Convention. Hon. N. P. Banks is expected. Bands of music and Glee Clubs will add interest to the occasion. A candidate for elector will be nominated for District No 2. Arrangements have been made with the railroads and steamboats to convey passengers for half price.

The Rockingham Association of Universalists, will hold its annual session in Kensington, N. H., on Wednesday and Thursday, the 27th and 28th of August.

The Grafton Association of Universalists meet in Rumney, N. H., on the first Wednesday and Thursday (3d and 4th) of September.

The Sullivan County Universalist Association will hold its next annual meeting in Newport, N. H., on the 3d Wednesday and following Thursday (17th and 18th) of Sept.

Rev. H. JEWELL will preach in the Town hall in Chester, N. H., a week from next Sunday.

Rev. T. J. GREENWOOD will preach in So. Hampton, N. H., next Sunday.

Rev. T. Farnsworth will preach in Brentwood N. H., next Sunday.

Rev. E G Brooks will preach in the Town Hall at Kingston Plain, N. H., the 5th Sunday in August.

Rev. S. Cobb, will preach in North Enfield N. H., the 5th Sunday in August.

☞ Quite a little excitement was created in Manchester on Monday, by seeing the City Marshal give chase to a man and overhaul him. He had been arrested on suspicion,—having sold jewelry on the street at half price,—and broke away and took to his heels, but was not smart enough.

FUEL.—The price of coal in Boston is $6 50 per ton. Wood is selling at $5 50 and $5 75 per cord, good quality. So says the Telegraph of Aug. 21.

Mr. John Hoit of Northwood, died by lock jaw, occasioned by an injury done to his hand while blasting rocks, last week.

☞ The storm of Wednesday and Thursday was extensive as well as violent,—and must have been injurious to vessels on the coast. The Boston papers of Thursday evening give a few particulars of damage in that harbor.

Yale's big tent which was pitched at Somerville for the dinner festivities at Tuffts College, was blown down, and a large amount of crockery broken.

☞ Rev. Geo. B. Jewett, just dismissed by request from the First Congregational Church in Nashua, "has thus," says the Telegraph, "speedily terminated a relationship which had been assumed with high hopes by both parties—the result of the terrible Norwalk railroad calamity, by which he lost his only child, his wife was maimed, and himself made a cripple for life."

☞ In New Hampton, last Sunday, Mr. Nathan Ballard, while in the act of climbing a poplar tree, to dislodge a grey squirrel which had been shot to make broth for a sick neighbor—the limb breaking—fell to the ground, a distance of some twenty-five feet, dislocating his neck, and killing him instantly. The deceased was a sober, industrious man, and greatly esteemed.

DEATH FROM HANDLING GUANO.—The Philadelphia Inquirer learns that Mr. Silas Gravel, a resident of Lower Merion, Montgomery County, Pa. while preparing a lot of guano to sow preparatory to putting in his turnip crop, had at the time a number of sores on the back of his hand, into which the guano penetrated. In a day or two after he experienced a sharp pain in one of his arms, which extended to the shoulder, and from thence to his body, growing most acute, and causing his whole system to become swollen. Physicians were sent for, who pronounced the case beyond medical skill. In this state he lingered in great agony for about a week, when death relieved him of his sufferings.

BLACK MEN AT BAY.—On Friday last a runaway negro camp was discovered on an 'island' in Big Swamp, situated between Bladen and Robeson counties. On Saturday morning a company of twelve or fifteen started out to hunt them, and after starting them from their camp one of the negroes fired at Mr. David C. Lewis, wounding him, from the effects of which he died on Sunday morning. On Friday a man named Taylor was shot at twice from the same place but was missed. The negroes had cleared a place for a garden, had cows, &c., in the swamp; none were arrested. The swamp is about four miles wide and almost impenetrable.—Wilmington (N. C.) Journal.

JEFFERSON AGAINST DOUGLAS.—This is the title of an able speech, by Hon. A. H. Cragin, of New Hampshire, delivered in the House of Representatives, Washington, August 4.

NEW POST OFFICE.—A Post Office has been established at North Hampton Depot, and John P. Elkins, Esq., appointed Postmaster. Letters for the Atlantic House, Rye Beach, should be mailed to this office.

☞ The trial of the women engaged in mobbing grog-shops in Salem, Ind., took place in the Common Pleas Court last week. Most of them were fined, while others, not able to pay the fines, were permitted to depart with an admonition.

CASE OF ASTHMA.

BELCHERTOWN, March 16.

Dr. Green;—I take great pleasure in informing you of the results of the Oxygenated Bitters you had the kindness to send me. For some twenty years I had suffered with Humoral Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one third of the nights, without going to bed at all; and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing, and great difficulty in breathing. In all my attendence upon our courts, I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years, but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took your medicine according to directions.—The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable.

Respy'yours, MYRON LAWRENCE.

Dyer's Healing Embrocation. HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

A FEMALE INCENDIARY.—Mrs. Catherine Crowley has been arrested in Manchester, N. H., on a charge of setting fire to a corporation shop. At an examination before Justice Smith, it was shown that she had attempted to set the fire three times. She is in poor circumstances, and has four small children, the youngest at the breast. In default of bail in $100, she was committed to jail.

MR. MASON.—The Washington Union states that Mr. Mason, U. S. Minister to France, has never asked to be recalled, that the government does not wish to recall him, nor to give his place to any other person; but "on the contrary, both the administration and the country have every reason to be satisfied with the success of his mission, and the ability with which it is conducted."

POLITICAL.—Portland, Aug. 20.—A meeting was held in this city this evening, to sustain the course of our Representatives in Congress, in voting for the amendment to the Appropriation bill. Resolutions were passed approving their course. Hon. E. D. Culver, of New York, and others addressed the meeting.

Three or four ladies of undoubted reputation were about to take possession of a house in Temperanceville, Canada, when ten respectable women of the place formed themselves into a committee of vigilance and pulled the building down.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

If it uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it: if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

PORTSMOUTH CUSTOM HOUSE, &c.—A letter has been received in this city from Hon. James Pike, Representative from this district, stating that an appropriation of $88,000 passed on Monday, for the Portsmouth Custom House and Post Office.

THE STORM from the north-east, which commenced here on Tuesday night, abated not until Thursday evening—having raged rather severely for the season, for forty-eight hours. We hear of no great damage done in this vicinity. In this city, trees were broken—but they may grow again; awnings were blown down—but they can be repaired, or new ones made; all the flags in the city were hauled down or clewed up—though we should think they might as well get used to a little "blowing," for this was nothing to a breeze that will come among 'em bye and bye, which we guess all can't stand.

DEATH.—We lament to learn of the recent death of Mr. Benjamin Frost, at Gonaives, Hayti. He was son of John N. Frost, Esq., of this city—a young man of much promise, about 20 years of age—and was first mate of a ship then at the port where he died. It is reported that he died of yellow fever — and that all the crew and officers, except the captain had died of the same disease.

☞ Rev. E. R. Fairchild, D. D., of New York City, a Secretary of the American and Foreign Christian Union, is expected to preach at the North Church next Sabbath. He will give some account of the field and labors of that most useful benevolent Union.

We understand that the congregation of St. Mark's church in Warren, Mass., have unanimously resolved to tender a call to the Rev. Henry Burroughs, Jr., of Boston, to become their rector.—Mr. Burroughs has officiated at the St. John's Church in this city, as assistant minister.

☞ "Scotty," of Brooklyn, and "Bob Wilson," of Boston, announce (by bills) a Sparring Exhibition at the Cameneum, on Monday evening next. They will be assisted by several amateur sporting men from Portland; and a couple of young pupils.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT—Narrow Escape.—The 10 o'clock A. M. Train from Concord, N. H., and the 7 1-2 o'clock up train from Boston, on Saturday, came in collision just below Hooksett bridge, and a dangerous accident was the consequence, although the results were not very serious. The second and third cars of the down train were nearly demolished, and although they were full of passengers, no one sustained material injury.—Twelve or fourteen persons received flesh wounds, but no bones were broken. This is very remarkable. Mrs. Barrow was in the third car and had a narrow escape, as the locomotive entered the car within two feet of her head, and stuck fast in the car, obliging passengers to escape by the windows.

☞ At a meeting of the Unitarian Society in Dover, held on Monday last, it was voted to extend a call to Mr. Wheelock, late of the Divinity School, Cambridge, to become their pastor.

FIRE.—The Jones Saw-mill in Farmington, owned by Joseph Jones, Esq., and others, was destroyed by fire on Friday night last. It was the work of an incendiary.—[Dover Enq.]

ZEPHYRS.—The Parisians call hoop skirts zephyrs. Fritz thinks this a highly appropriate name for them, for while walking with a lady the other evening, he was reminded at every step, of the zephyr's sighs. (!)

The house of M. B. Tallant, in Pelham, N. H., was broken into on the night of the 8th, and robbed of a silver watch and about $4000 worth of papers.

It is worse than useless, to suffer from a protracted cough when relief may be so easily obtained. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry undoubtedly the most reliable of all preparations offered for the cure of throat and lung complaints.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and delicate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," lather the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

HEADACHE.

HUTCHINS'S HEADACHE PILLS.—A sure cure for BILLIOUS, NERVOUS and SICK HEADACHE, and NEURALGIA. These PILLS are warranted a sure RELIEF. Try them and you shall not be disappointed. For sale by all the Druggists in Portsmouth. 6*je21

34TH CONGRESS,—EXTRA SESSION.

THURSDAY, Aug. 21.

SENATE.—38 members present. The President's proclamation was read, and the Secretary directed to inform the House that the Senate was ready to proceed to business.

HOUSE.—179 members present. The galleries of both Houses are crowded, and intense interest is everywhere manifested.

If the army bill is killed, the Com. on Ways and Means will report a new one containing the ordinary appropriations, when a contest will ensue about the Kansas proviso. An attempt will be made to incorporate the repeal of the Kansas laws, but no confidence of its being carried is entertained.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Although the Senate inserted in the Post Office Appropriation bill $500,000 for an over land semi weekly mail to San Francisco from some point on the Mississippi river, it was finally stricken out by the action of the committee of Conference.

It is calculated there is a majority of both Houses in Washington, but not enough to engraft the Kansas restrictive proviso on the army bill. The extra session, it is thought, will not extend beyond Saturday, and may probably terminate on Thursday.

FROM KANSAS.

The accounts from Kansas are conflicting and unintelligible. It is pretty certain, however, that the northern emigration has got through without stoppage. The "Battle" is a different affair.

"A letter received this morning from Rev. Mr. Parsons, dated Ordonville, Ohio, Aug. 13th, reports a rumor of a battle in Missouri, among the Border Ruffians themselves, in which 18 were killed. This is likely to be a correct version of the improbable story reported by telegraph in the papers of yesterday."

The following despatch comes from Chicago, dated Aug. 19:—

The following news from Kansas was received here this morning:—

The Free Soilers have discovered that the organized plan for the pro-slavery party is to concentrate men, arms and ammunition at different points of the territory for the purpose of making a sudden and general attack immediately after the adjournment of Congress, to expel all the Free-State settlers.—Twelve fortified block houses have been erected in different pro-slavery points, which are well supplied with cannon, rifles, and ammunition, garrisoned principally by Missourians.

On the night of the 12th instant, a company of Free-State men attacked the fort in Franklin, for the purpose of securing arms, when a fight ensued between them and the forces stationed there, which lasted four hours. One Free-State man was killed, and one seriously wounded. Three Missourians were wounded. The Free-State men captured a block-house, took one cannon and fifty stands of arms; the latter including many of the rifles seized at Lawrence in May by the pro-slavery men. The Missourians retreated to Camp Worthington, southwest of Lawrence, and it is feared there will be further disturbance between the parties, although quietness now exists.

FALL OF THE CHARTER OAK.—Hartford, Aug. 21.—The Charter Oak fell this morning, at a quarter before 1 o'clock, with a tremendous crash. About 6 feet of the stump remains.

This famous tree was far past its prime when the Charter was concealed in it, on the 9th of May, 1689, and was probably an old tree when Columbus discovered the new world.

It stood upon the old Wyllis estate, now owned by Hon. I. W. Stuart. Crowds of citizens are visiting the ruins, and each one bears away a portion of the venerable tree.

The Connecticut river has risen here ten feet since 6 o'clock last night, and is still rising rapidly and raining fast.

FROM EUROPE.

THREE DAYS LATER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Steamship Africa, from Liverpool, 9th inst., arrived here this evening.

Cotton was offered freely, and previous prices maintained with difficulty. Sales of the week upwards of 53,000 bales, speculators taking 5000, and exporters 7700. Estimated sales of Saturday 6000, market closing unchanged.

Flour had declined 3s4s. on the week, buyers holding back for a still further decline.—Wheat declined 1s. Corn steady. Weather very fine for agricultural prospects.

The provision market was not materially changed. Ashes firm, rice, sugar, and coffee unchanged.

The London produce market remains unchanged.

Liverpool, Saturday, P. M.—The panic in the Breadstaff Market has partially subsided, but there is not much doing. There is a trifling better demand for flour.

England.—Two London firms, Bickford & Keen, and Courtenay, Kingford & Co., have suspended, both engaged in the American trade.

The Mexican bondholders, dissatisfied with the position of their claims, have resolved to forward a memorial to President Comonfort, requesting him to attend to the matter; they also seek aid from the British government to enforce their demands, suggesting that if relief be not granted, that Americans be invited to purchase the bonds, and make Mexico pay in cash or territory.

Venezuelan bondholders are also uneasy, and talking about invoking government interference, and suggesting reprisals, if found necessary.

English journals begin to take a decided interest in the projected telegraphic communication with America, and a description of the Hughes instrument is going the rounds of the Press.

France.—The total amount of subscription to the sufferers by the inundation reaches nearly 10,000,000 francs.

Spain.—The terms on which Saragossa surrendered, are not yet known.

Gen. Dulce gave passports for France to all who wished them.

The troops which took part in the insurrection were to be sent to the Basque provinces to be reorganized.

All persons arrested have since been released, excepting two.

Russia.—The crops throughout the interior are excellent.

The Czar's coronation is now fixed for the 1st of September.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their INVISIBLE SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E. & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has mape arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would abl that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries, prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and successes. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R'H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and careful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern.

The cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, roads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduction of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be broke under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds all be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars, containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

STUBBORN FACTS.

"The Golden Rule," speaking of the "seven thousand rum shops" in the City of Gotham, says, what an appalling fact!

The rum traffic is stealing the bread from the mouths of our children, even when breadstuffs are at famine prices; 'tis stealing the senses of all who participate in it; 'tis demoralizing vast masses of the people; 'tis sweeping myriads to destruction; 'tis deluging the country as a mighty flood, dealing out want and woe, death and destruction, crime, vagrancy, prostitution, and pauperism, in its fiery march, and all, more or less, are suffering from the dire effects of it. Let us rise, then, as one man, and demand, as in a voice of thunder an act for the suppression of the traffic, and in a few years, at most, we shall have the happiness of seeing our labors crowned with success.

There's wicked rogues in every place,
Who prey upon the human race;
But there is not among them all,
A rogue so great as Alcohol.

Every day, all day, all night, more than seven thousand drinking places are open to inflame, debauch and render vile multitudes of young men; and although there is a law to close those foul resorts on Sundays, the law is despised as though it existed not."

The N. Y. Calvinist thus speaks of "eight families in a single town."

Their parents were moderate drinkers. Can heads of families read these facts without concern?

The first had one child, a daughter. A great sum was expended on her education. She died from the effects of Strong Drink.

The second had an only son. He was educated with great care and at great expense, but was killed by wine.

The third had four sons and one daughter. The daughter is a drunkard, and one son has gone to a drunkard's grave.

The fourth had three sons. One died of intemperance, one was killed in a duel and the other is a drunkard.

The fifth had a son who killed himself by drinking, and two step-sons are drunkards on wine.

The sixth had five sons. Four are drunkards, and one through the influence of liquor is an idiot.

The eigth had five sons and three nephews. Four of the sons have been killed by alcohol, and the fifth is a drunkard;—and the three nephews are in the drunkard's grave.

The New Jersey Reformer thus speaks of the 4th of July in Trenton.

"The streets of the City, as usual, resounded with the noise of squibs and crackers; decent people, as usual, were subject to the nuisance of scores of drunken men and boys, parading the walks and offending against morality and decency by their blasphemous and polluting conversation and behavior. These incidents of celebration day seem to be a matter of course under present circumstances.

"A rational celebration of public holidays cannot be expected, while rumsellers are permitted to quench every sentiment of true patriotism and manly honor by their poisonous decoctions.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crowley." A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 23, 1856.

EFFECT OF STIMULANTS.

The following statement of interesting facts, was furnished by Dr. Fuller, dentist, of this city, and comes before the public at our request. It will aid some minds in settling an important question, and is worthy the attention of every person who thinks or acts on the subject of temperance in any way.

Effect of Stimulants upon Reformed Inebriates.

It is generally conceded to be dangerous for an individual who has been addicted to the use of intoxicating drinks, and has at last made a successful effort to release himself from the thraldom which has bound him—to indulge, ever so moderately in the stimulus of the bowl. There is no such thing as safety in the experiment. To tamper is to fall.—Appetite may be defeated, but never annihilated. The serpent casts its skin, but it is the serpent still, and it lieth in wait forever.

Physicians usually avoid prescribing medicines into which alcohol enters in any form, where reasonable fears exist that a lurking appetite may thus be rendered vigorous and unmanageable. It is a satisfaction to know that the most scrupulous and conscientious care is exercised by physicians generally, in this department of medical practice, for the weight of responsibility resting upon them is fearful, inasmuch as all legislative enactments are impotent, as they should be, to deprive them of the power to wield those multifarious and subtle weapons, which come under the general title of alcoholic stimulants.

Ten years ago a physician prescribed frequent and copious draughts of brandy and milk, for a consumptive patient. The doctor's advice was faithfully followed, the sick man apparently recovered his health; at the end of a year simplified the prescription by omitting the milk, but continued the brandy treatment as long as he could command money to purchase his daily doses, and when that failed, fell back upon less expensive stimulants, until at last the vilest liquors were greedily swallowed, and even concentrated alcohol, in all its burning nakedness, was but fair fuel for the relentless and consuming fires of appetite.

No one enquires, "How did the case terminate?" In two years from the time of commencing this "medical treatment," the patient was a loathsome sot, and one dark and stormy night, in early winter, when ice had just began to form upon the pavements, and it required strong nerves, active muscles, and a sober brain, to move safely along the slippery streets—he left a low groggery at a late hour, and struck out on his devious homeward course. His brain was addled, his sensibilities blunted; the driving sleet blinded him, the keen blast wrapped his enfeebled form in its chilling embrace. His limbs refused their wonted office; he tottered and fell. He had not power to cry out for help, or strength to rise unaided; and all that night he lay exposed to the pitiless peltings of that cruel storm, his bed a gutter, and a curb-stone for his pillow.—Frozen, and just ready to perish, he was discovered at early dawn. Careful treatment was of little avail; a few days witnessed the close of his miserable life. And thus was "a case of consumption cured!"

Oh! it is terrible, this New England scourge, that creeps insidiously within the circle of so many homes, and carries the misery of desolation to so many hearts; yet for ourself, when death approaches, let it rather than in the befogged sensibilities, the helplessness and imbecility, the misery and degradation, amid which the drunkard's lamp of life expires!

But the incident we have related is altogether aside from the chief purpose of this article, which is intended rather to show, that, aside from alcoholic stimulants, there are agents which should be employed with like circumspection in similar cases, lest slumbering appetite should be fanned into renewed activity.

Eight years ago, chloroform, then but just discovered, was all the rage. In the section where we then resided, surgeons were expected to employ it in the most trivial operations; dentists were rarely permitted to extract teeth without first administering it, and multitudes kept a phial of the subtle fluid at hand, for private amusement and experiment.

A gentleman called upon us one day for the purpose of suffering at our hands, the performance of the least important of all the operations which devolve upon the dentist—the extraction of a tooth. He desired chloroform, and we unhesitatingly consented to administer it. During the process of inhalation the patient became considerably excited, talked in a blustering manner to some horses which he imagined himself in the act of driving, and finally relapsed into a sort of drunken insensibility, unlike the state usually induced by the agent, and in this condition the tooth was painlessly removed. The patient, on being restored to consciousness, remarked that it reminded him of old times, and he believed he preferred it to a glass of gin!

He took his departure; we thought no more of the case, and were somewhat surprised to see the same person enter our office a few days subsequently, with the request that we would again administer chloroform, and remove a certain tooth which he pointed out. We declined, as the tooth gave no indications of disease. We questioned him closely, and at length learned that his only object in having the tooth removed, was to gratify a desire to inhale some more of that "magnificent stuff," as, in his enthusiasm, he was pleased to term it—the effect of which was so agreeable on the previous occasion. We succeeded in inducing him to abandon the very singular idea, however, and he left.

About two weeks after this occurrence, an immediate neighbor of this person called upon us and inquired if we, on a recent occasion, administered chloroform to the individual in question. We replied in the affirmative, and went on to relate the circumstances connected with the case, and the fact of his repeated call upon us, and were not a little surprised to learn that but a few years before, our patient was a miserable, demented sot,—constantly intoxicated, and so addicted to his cups that his restoration was considered little less than a miracle. The Washingtonian Society had, however, taken him in hand, and induced him to sign the pledge, which he had religiously kept, and, becoming a sober, industrious citizen, had accumulated a handsome property.—After inhaling chloroform as before related, he returned home in high spirits, and informed his wife that he had just taken some "glorious stuff," and now felt sure that a glass of gin would do him good, and he believed he would go to a store near by, and procure a quantity. Fearing the worst, his wife, after much entreaty prevailed on him to substitute a bowl of hot tea, and he retired. The next day, as no allusion was made to the subject, she imagined the danger past. All went well till he returned from his second and unsuccessful visit to us,—utterly intoxicated, with a bottle of rum concealed upon his person,—"and," added our informant, "he has been drunk ever since."

How the case terminated, we never learned, but that the appetite for intoxicating drink, which had so long slumbered, was excited by the chloroform inhalation, cannot be for a moment doubted: and this fact may suggest the enquiry, "may not the appetite for alcoholic drinks, be primarily induced, or reawakened, by the common stimulants in use, as tobacco, opium, and the like?" To those benefactors of their race, Drs. Cutter and Jewett, who have devoted their energies so successfully to the work of exposing the physiological evils of intemperance, we leave the investigation of the subject.

THE EXTRA SESSION.—At Washington, on Thursday, Aug. 21, the extra session of Congress was convened. A message was received from the President rehearsing the inconveniences which would result from the stoppage of the supplies for the army.

The Senate voted to suspend one of the joint rules, with a view of proceeding at once with the business of the last session at the point where it was left on the adjournment.

The House instead of uniting in this proceeding, determined to begin de novo, and Mr. Campbell reported as a new army bill, the same bill as that which was lost, including the proviso. Mr. Orr objected that the proviso was not germane to the bill; his objection was overruled by the Speaker, and on appeal, the decision of the Chair was sustained 95 to 79. The House went into committee on the bill, 101 to 75; and it was reported and passed by the House, 93 to 85.

This large majority in support of the former action of the House has falsified many prophecies.

POOR OLD FEMALE SOT.—The Boston Advertiser says that on Monday morning an intoxicated Irish woman fell under the wheel of a truck while passing the corner of Sea and Beach streets, and one arm was crushed to a jelly. She was taken to the hospital, where the arm was amputated. The woman's name was Honora Hollohan, and she was 73 years of age.

☞ Harper's Magazine for September, has just been received from A. Williams & Co., Boston, via. J. F. Shores, jr., Portsmouth.—It contains illustrated articles on the Dismal Swamp, on Eastern Life, Story of James P. Beckworth, &c.

EMBARKATION OF MISSIONARIES.—On Monday, the 18th instant, at Boston, the following Missionaries under the patronage of the B. C. F. M., embarked in the ship J. Montgomery, Capt. Hamilton, for Bombay, India. Rev. Wm. S. Wood, Rev. S. B. Fairbank and wife, Rev. Samuel C. Dean and wife, and Rev. Charles Harding and wife.

Messrs. Fairbank, Dean and Harding are designated to the Ahmednuggar Mission, and Mr. Wood to the Sattara Mission.

It is an interesting fact, that two of the above mentioned ladies return to their native land. Mrs. Fairbank was born in Bombay, and is the daughter of the Rev. Mr. Bollanine, now a Missionary at Ahmednuggar.—Mrs. Dean was born at Ahmednuggar, and is a daughter of Mr. Abbot, formerly of that mission, and who expects to return there next spring.

Messrs. Dean and Harding go out for the first time; Messrs. Wood and Fairbank are returning to their former field of labor, after being in this country about a year. Religious services were held on board the ship at 10 o'clock, after which the numerous friends took their leave. It was truly delightful to see how cheerful that little band was as the ship left our shore. Why should they not be cheerful? they have gone on an errand of mercy in obedience to the Savior's command. May He in whose service they have enlisted take them safely to the place of their destination and there permit them to labor long and successfully in enlightening and elevating the Hindoos. And may those who are not thus permitted to go abroad, not forget their obligations to encourage and sustain those who do go. Com.

☞ Mrs. Nichols, editress of the late Brattleboro' (Vt.) Democrat, last week delivered three lectures in Claremont—two on Kansas, where she has been herself and has now two sons; and the other on Woman's Rights, or mostly on woman's wrongs, according to the Eagle.

Henry Ward Beecher was also announced to lecture in Claremont, on Friday evening.—Subject not announced—probably he may dabble a bit in politics.

☞ Mr. H. S. Thompson of Newburyport, will bring out his new Juvenile Operata; "The Nymphs of the Golden Fountain, or, The Reward of the Faithful," for the first time, on Tuesday evening, Aug. 26th, and continue through the week; with all its stage effects, scenery, dresses, &c., by 140 pupils.

☞ There is to be a grand Regatta in Newburyport harbor, on Tuesday, Aug. 26th. Six purses will be given:—for Sailing Vessels, $50 and $25; for Two-oared Boats, $25 and $15; Single-oared Boats, $20 and $10.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

CASE OF ASTHMA.

The following letter from Hon Myron Lawrence, of Belchertown, is a valuable testimony in favor of the Oxygenated Bitters:—

BELCHERTOWN, March 16.

Dr. Green:—I take great pleasure in informing you of the results of the Oxygenated Bitters you had the kindness to send me. For some twenty years I had suffered with Humoral Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one-third of the nights, without going to bed at all; and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing, and great difficulty in breathing. In all my attendence upon our courts, I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years, but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took your medicine according to directions.—The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable.

Respy yours, MYRON LAWRENCE.

WOODBURY, VT., DEC. 18, 1848.

I hereby certify I have used Dr. W. R. Hayden's Improved Vegetable Purgative Pills, and find them decidedly the best remedy for the Headache I ever used, and can recommend them to those afflicted with that complaint. Yours, ☞ Foot races came off at Lowell last week. A twenty-five mile heat, between Lewis E. J. Coleman of Dover, N. H., (known as the "Dover Pet,") and ——King, the New Hampshire Deer. King gave out on the 9th mile; Coleman ran 15 miles in 2 hours, 9 minutes, 10 seconds, and was declared the winner.

Mr. Samuel H. Tolman was ordained as Pastor of the Congregational church and society in Wilmington, Mass., on Thursday last. Sermon, by Prof. A. Phelps of Andover.

HISTORY AND SCRIPTURE.—Mr Keitt, in a Buchanan speech at Louisburg, Virginia, says that Mr. Fillmore was, like Belshazzar, "keeping up his revelry amd carnival while Roman legions were battling at the gate." This is not inferior to the verses of Solomon's song, introduced into the proclamation of the Governor of Texas as a quotation from Shakespeare; and hardly less than the Western orator's speech, about the time when "Gen. Scott met the Carthagenian army on the banks of Waterloo." Chilvalry gets along without much aid from scripture or history.

A WINDFALL.—We learn by the Newcastle (England) Journal, that a chancery case has recently been decided in one of the English courts, by which John Macdougal, of South Boston, a hard laboring man, receives £15,000.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "not" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family. "If you are coming, why don't you come along?" It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons as the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along." Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?" If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin: now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood. Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and red cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?" If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Everybody knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that is the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before the bitters are all gone!

For the Chronicle.

Uncle Toby:—Please inform a temperance reader, how you find it consistent with your openly professed temperance principles, to publish an advertisement like that of Richards & Sons', which for a long time has stared us in the face from the fourth page of the Chronicle. The enumeration of choice and delectable wines, brandies, gins and rums, sold in open defiance of law, seems to some people quite inconsistent with the articles often to be read on the inside of the same paper. Q.

Uncle Toby is in no wise disposed to waste his powder in showing how such incongruities are consistent;—and cannot enter into any defence of rum-selling, rum-drinking, or rum-advertising. Neither will he undertake to defend, on any ground, the advertising of fortune-tellers, clairvoyants, jim crow men, lotteries, fairs, circuses, quack medicines, nor the ten thousand other humbugs, that float through the press. Some of them he denounces, as he does the rum—others he thinks too trifling to demand denunciation,—and then he lets them slide. An editor is responsible for what he writes—so is the advertiser—and the publisher, to a certain extent for what he publishes. But consistency—where is it?

FROM HALIFAX.—There was a severe thunder storm at Dartmouth on the 17th, accompanied with torrents of rain, but not a drop fell in Halifax. Great quantities of hay have been itrrerrievably lost, owing to the continuance of wet weather, particularly on the Dartmouth side and eastern section of the country.

Outrages upon private property in Halifax continue to be perpetrated. The premises of Mr. Downs was entered on the night of the 15th, and five large pheasants, lately imported from England, were killed. The watchman arrested a young man about one o'clock on the morning of the 16th, in the act of destroying property in Brunswick street.

A correspondent of the Halifax Chronicle, writing from Annapolis, says:—The weather is glorious for harvesting purposes, and the bay is alive with mackerel. A clever man or a regular organized company might realize a fortune by fishing in this locality for a season, as there is not at this present moment a seine or six bushels of salt on the station.

THE UNITED STATES WAR BRIG BAINBRIDGE.—Some of the newspapers having intimated fears of the loss of this ship, we have great pleasure in announcing her return to Montevideo on the 12th of June last, from her cruise to the Straits of Magellan, on which she set out in March last. Her errand was to relieve the crew of the American ship Manchester, wrecked in those Straits. On arriving at the scene of her disaster it was found that the only two survivors of the ship Manchester's crew had been rescued by another ship. The Bainbridge, however, was so fortunate as to rescue the crew of the ship Western Bride, of Liverpool, England, from the Chincha Islands, bound for Queenstown, Ireland, with a cargo of guano, also wrecked in the same Straits, and carried them—thirty-one souls in all—to Montevideo. All were well on board the Bainbridge.

STAMPEDE OF NEGROES.—We are informed that five negroes lately ran away from their owners, Messrs. Andrew and James Crawford, of Augusta county, but their route being ascertained, two young men went in pursuit, and discovered the fugitives in the woods in Highland county. They refused to surrender even under threats of shooting, until they at once yielded. While one was being tied, however, the others started, and in the confusion of the moment, the one in custody also got away. Thus four made good their escape, but the fifth, was afterwards recaptured and secured.—[Richmond Whig.

CONVICTED.—The New York negro, Lot Mundy, steward of the schooner Danville, was tried before a Court of Oyer and Terminer, in Richmond on Tuesday, for aiding two slaves in attempt to abscond.—After a patient hearing, he was adjudged guilty, and sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

KANSAS NEWS.

Quite a large amount of dispatches, letters, &c., from Kansas, show that all is not yet quiet there. The great principle of squatter sovereignty is not developed in a very harmonious style. We give several items of interest.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 19th.—The Kansas Troubles.—The Democrat has a letter from Kansas of the 14th, explaining the attack on Franklin. It is stated that a large company of South Carolinians and Missourians were encamped at Washington Creek, and making daily depredations upon the farms of the settlers in the vicinity. These settlers sent to Lawrence for assistance.

The Lawrence people despatched Mr Hoyt formerly of Massachusetts, to the camp of the Southerners, to enquire into the cause of the depredations. Hoyt who was unarmed, was taken prisoner, and instantly shot dead. The Lawrence men were excited, and immediately proceeded to attack the fortification at Franklin, in order to obtain arms to drive the Southerners from the territory, but, in consequence of their loss in killed and wounded, they had returned to Lawrence without attacking the camp of the Southerners.

LAWRENCE, K. T., August 12.—Lane's party are all safe, and will be in Topeka on Wednesday night. They have met no opposition, have seen no Missourians or soldiers, and have built a good road all the way. They are in good health and spirits, well provided with teams and farming utensils. They have located two towns on the way, on pleasant sites, and left a party of men to settle them. Dr. Cutler's party are with them. Mr. Whitman has just arrived in Topeka, all safe, with funds.—[N. Y. Times Cor.

We are very glad to receive this intelligence in a public and authentic shape.—The name of "Lane's party" does not properly belong to the expedition which Gen. Lane left long before it entered Kansas. It is the party of northern emigrants from whose camp the two letters were written which were printed in our columns about two weeks since.—[Boston Adv.

The correspondent continues:

They report the settlements through which they passed, as nearly all free-state, not one in a hundred being pro-slavery.

A pro-slavery camp, mostly recent adventurers, from the South, numbering about 80, was broken up last Saturday near Osawattamie, just before our men arrived, so there was no blood shed. This camp has been the storehouse for all the plunder in the vicinity, but most of it was carried away by the plunderers.

An attack is now meditated upon another camp of a similar character, upon Washington Creek, some ten miles southwest of this place.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21.—The Leavenworth City Kansas Journal, of the 17th inst., contains an account of another outbreak which occurred in Kansas that day.

Mr. Brown, at the head of 300 freesoilers, attacked and drove into Missouri a colony of Georgians, who were near Osawattomie, burning houses and destroying the property of free-state men.

On the 15th, the Treadwell settlement in Douglas county, numbering 30 men, was attacked by 400 freesoilers, armed and mounted, under Messrs. Brown and Walker. The Treadwell party were on foot, and sent to Gov. Shannon for aid. He called upon the U. S. troops to go to their assistance, but they refuse to do so. [This is significant.]

The anti-slavery men are driving, as fast as they can, all the pro-slavery men out of Douglas county.

A fight occurred on the 14th, near Osawatomie, between 200 freesoilers and 12 proslavery men. The latter were in the fort; 14 freesoilers were killed and 6 wounded.

On the morning of the 16th, Lecompton was attacked and taken by 800 of Gen. Lane's men. The U. S. troops, having charge of Messrs. Robinson, Brown and others, surrendered without firing a gun. Col. Titus was absent at the time, having gone to the assistance of the pro-slavery party in Treadwell. His house about a mile from Lecompton, was burned. Mr. Clowes, the editor of the Southern Advocate, and Mr. Systarre, were killed.

A large body of men were organizing in the border counties of Missouri, for the purpose of entering Kansas.

It is reported that it is the purpose of the pro-slavery party to burn Lawrence on the 20th, for which place a large force had left Leavenworth.

The force under Gen. Lane, it is said, numbers from 300 to 800.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

The legislature of Texas has done something in earnest for the cause of slavery in Kansas, by an appropriation of $50,000 from the State Treasury, to carry emigrants thither and support them there for three months.

In Manchester, last week, one hundred and nineteen persons received their naturalization papers from the Supreme Court, now in session in that city.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

141 Washington St., Boston,

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb Java "	90
5 lb Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ anh ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. There are no required to be out down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $2 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles in land, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or transported water communication increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

THE BLUE RIDGE TUNNEL.—A correspondent of the Baltimore Sun relates the following alarming incident which lately occurred in the Blue Ridge Tunnel, in Va. This work, it is well known, has been carried on with remarkable perseverance for the last five or six years, under the direction of Col. Crozet, in the face of serious obstacles and dangers, sometimes from the hardness of the rock to be excavated, and sometimes from falling rocks, and floods of water. The excavation has been carried forward without interruption, except from these casualties, by working from the two extremities, without the aid of shafts, in the expectation at the date of our last accounts of meeting nearly midway in the course of the ensuing year. Whether the incident here detailed will expedite or retard the completion of the work, is a matter that remains to be seen.

STAUNTON, VA., Aug. 14.—A remarkable occurrence took place at the Blue Ridge Tunnel last night. The third set of workmen were engaged in digging as usual, when one of them, (Pat Flagan,) noticed that the texture of the rock before him changed suddenly from hard to soft, and that the soft was wet. Shortly afterwards a stream of water issued from an orifice he had made. This was succeeded by a heavy rumbling sound 'like the cars,' which so frightened the hands that they all made for the open air. Well was it for them that they did so! The sound continued to grow louder and louder for some minutes, till a crash was heard, and immediately a vast stream of water rolled out of the tunnel. An eye-witness says that the head of the stream was at least ten feet high, and that it swept carts and barrows before it like chaff. The stream continued to pour a perfect river until 12 o'clock, when it gradually subsided, and was low enough at 3 P. M. to allow us to make a hasty survey of its cause. It seems that there is, in the middle of the mountain, an immense cavern or pocket, in which water from the melting snow has been deposited for years, and that the line of the tunnel taps this cavern near its centre. The cavern is of immense extent, and will save the State a good deal of money, since nature has opened a road through near three hundred feet of solid rock. This will expedite the completion of the tunnel greatly: in fact I would not be surprised if the light shines through the mountain to-day. I do not know precisely how much remains to be cut, but Col. Crozet said last week that there remained only 318 feet, and this cavern is certainly 300 feet wide—perhaps more. The Colonel will be greatly surprised when he returns. He did not expect to get through before next January.

LAWS OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.
PASSED JUNE SESSION 1856.

AN ACT to disannex a portion of Grantham and annex the same to Plainfield.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That all that part of the town of Grantham in the county of Sullivan, lying westerly of the following described line to wit: beginning at a point on the northerly line of the town of Croydon, in said county, at the southeast corner of lot number sixty-seven in the third division of hundred acre lots in said town of Grantham, thence running north forty-two degrees east, on the range line so called, about seven hundred rods to the northeast corner of lot number fifty-six, in said third division of hundred acre lots, thence north about fifteen degrees, east about six hundred and fifty rods to the southeast corner of the lot in the second division of hundred acre lots in said town of Grantham, which was drawn to the original right of Gad Lyman, and is now owned by John Eaton, thence northerly on the easterly line of said lot mentioned lot about two hundred and forty rods to the northeast corner thereof, thence north forty two degrees east, about three hundred and thirty rods to the southerly line of the town of Enfield, in the county of Grafton, be, and the same hereby is, severed and disannexed from said town of Grantham, and annexed to and made a part of the town of Plainfield, in said county of Sullivan.

Morning Chronicle.

CONGRESS.

EXTRA SESSION.—The Boston Advertiser says, "We are gratified to state that the House remains firm on the army bill," and then proceeds to give the following plain history of Friday's proceedings.

In the Senate, the new army bill, with the Kansas proviso, which was passed by the House on Thursday, was received. The Senate forthwith amended the bill by striking out the Kansas proviso, (37 to 7); and the bill thus amended was returned to the House.

The House was thus brought to a question on the proviso, and by parliamentary law three courses were open to the House, from which one must be selected, viz:—

(1) to insist and ask for a committee of conference;

(2) to recede and agree with the Senate;

(3) to adhere, which shuts the door against all further action on the part of the House;—and leaves the Senate to decide whether on its part, it chooses to recede or lose the bill entirely.

In this position, Mr. Campbell of Ohio moved (No. 1) "to insist and ask for a conference"—rejected by 2 majority.

Mr. Orr of S. C. moved (No. 2) "to recede"—rejected by two majority.

Mr. Washburn of Me. moved (No. 3) "to adhere"—carried by four majority.

[The vote was 97 to 93; but if we allow for Mr. Bocock's vote, the real strength of this test was 96 to 94, or only two majority.]

Afterwards, a motion was made to re-consider this vote, which was lost, so the vote "to adhere" was clinched and rendered certain.

Thus the House definitely took its stand in support of the bill without amendment. A recess ensued to see what the Senate would do.

In the Senate, Mr. Hunter of Va. moved that the Senate likewise "adhere" to its former action, which would kill the bill effectually.

Mr. Bell of Tennessee suggested asking a conference; but this would not be strictly in order.

Mr. Cass of Michigan urged the propriety of the Senate's receding. This would cause the passage of the bill in the shape proposed by the House.

Without coming to any decision, the Senate adjourned; and the House adjourned also.

The matter now stands on a very clear footing. The whole responsibility rests with the Senate. The Senate may pass the bill, which grants all needful supplies to the army, subject only to a condition which is perfectly constitutional. If the Senate will not agree to this, the appropriations are lost. Mr. Cass has taken the right view of the subject and we entertain a confident hope that the Senate will to-day recede. The bill will then be passed and Congress can adjourn.

It is scarcely possible for the House to change its action. It has voted to adhere and has refused to re-consider that vote. If Mr. Bell's suggestion for a Committee of Conference should prevail in the Senate, the House would perhaps agree to grant the Committee, but this is not proper after a vote "to adhere."

In the debate, Mr. Orr threw out a hint about "general legislation," which we do not understand.

The Advertiser publishes a speech made by Mr. Campbell, on Sunday morning, on the subject of this difference between the two Houses, well worthy the attention of those readers who wish to understand the merits of the question.

The following is the proviso which is the cause of the difference:

Provided, however, and it is hereby declared, that no part of the military force of the United States for the support of which appropriations are made by this act shall be employed in aid of the enforcement of any enactment of the body claiming to be the Territorial Legislature of Kansas until such enactments shall have been affirmed and approved by Congress; but this proviso shall not be so construed as to prevent the President from employing an adequate military force, but it shall be his duty to employ such force, to prevent the invasion of said Territory by armed bands of non-residents, or any other body of non-residents, acting or claiming to act as a posse comitatus of any officer in said Territory in the enforcement of any such enactment, and to protect the persons and property therein, and upon the national highway leading to said Territory, from all unlawful searches and seizures; and it shall be his further duty to compel the return of and withold all arms of the United States distributed in or to said Territory in pursuance of any law of the United States authorizing the distribution of arms to the States and Territories.

In the Senate, Mr. Cass regarded this as the most solemn crisis that had ever occurred in the history of the country, and he expressed the hope that the people would awake to the sense of their danger before it was too late.—Instead of the House trying to dictate to the Senate, the Senate were, in fact, trying to dictate to the House. He urged the propriety of receding so as to pass the bill.

☞ The body of an unknown man was found upon the beach at Plum Island, Newburyport, on Friday morning. The head, both legs and both hands were gone, and the body otherwise much mutilated, probably by the action of the sea. There were no clothes or marks about the remains to identify it.—Coroner Smith held an inquest, the jury rendering a verdict that the manner and cause of the death was unknown, other than that drowning was apparent. The corpse was carried to Newburyport for burial.

On Monday last, as Mr. Upton, of the firm of Upton & Poor, Boston, was riding with his son, in Wolfborough, N. H., with Wm. C. Fox, Esq., the horse became unmanageable and plunged furiously down a hill, throwing them violently from the carriage, fracturing Mr. Upton's right leg, and severely injuring the lad internally.

William Lloyd Garrison, editor of the Liberator, after an absence of sixteen years from Newburyport, his native city, is spending a few days there.

KANSAS AFFAIRS.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22.—A letter to the Republican, dated the 19th inst., states that Governor Shannon, and nearly all the citizens of Lecompton have left town.

Secretary Woodson has been taken prisoner, and his house burned.

Sheriff Jones has also been taken prisoner.

The house of General Clark, Indian Agent, was burned. He and his family had escaped to Leavenworth.

Couriers are riding through the river and border counties, enlisting forces, and raising supplies. Everywhere preparations are making for war, and a most bloody conflict is anticipated.

General Richardson has gone to Leavenworth to ascertain if Gen. Smith acts by authority, and if not, he (Richardson) intends calling his militia into the field.

The steamer Polar Star came down last night with six companies of volunteers, ready for the field. Three companies of cavalry and one of artillery intended leaving Leavenworth City on the 19th.

The Republican above named, takes sides with the border ruffians. A letter to the same paper, dated St. Joseph, Aug. 11th, gives the following account, in which are some things to us incredible. We give them as we find them.

On Saturday night, at 10 o'clock, Judge Lecompte adjourned his court at Whitehead, Kansas Territory, and will go to Atchison on the Lucas this morning, to begin his term there to-day. Some of the indictments against political offenders were quashed for informality; some were continued, and to some few the defendants plead guilty and threw themselves upon the mercy of the Court. Not one went to a jury upon its merits. Those who threw themselves upon the mercy of the Court, were fined a moderate sum.

There was one case on attachment against Benjamin Harding, for contempt in refusing to obey the process of the Court. Mr. H. stated to the Court that he was a member of the Senate of the State of Kansas, and was absent at Topeka in the performance of his legislative duties in good faith and conscience, and that he had intended no contempt. He regretted his inability to obey the process of the Court; but had believed that the demand to perform his public and patriotic functions imperative, and therefore had to be distant from the Court.—He prayed the Court to pardon him. Upon such praying, and in view of all the circumstances surrounding the case—although all the pro slavery men present expected high fine and imprisonment to be imposed—the Judge, with commendable firmness and fairness, imposed upon him only the costs of the attachment.—This course was so conciliating as to go far toward mollifying those unhappy asperities which have so long sundered a people whose associations, sympathies and interests should be harmonious and identical.

Captain Wood moved down to Atchison, yesterday, with his company of dragoons, to protect the Court here. This is a sad necessity, but I am happy to say that I think the occasion for it is passing away. There was perfect order and observance of law at Whitehead, and the country is enjoying a more entire peace than it has ever known since the period of the first introduction of foreign aid influences.

LAWRENCE, (K. T.,) Aug. 18.— The emigrants who for some time have been collecting in Iowa have, at last, arrived in the territory. The company numbers in men, women and children, about 520. The men are very well armed. In their journey they bridged the stream, and prepared the road between the Nebraska line and Topeka. The emigrants found the settlers in Nebraska willing to rally to their defence, should they be attacked by the murderous crew who were supposed to be in wait for them. Their accounts in relation to the settlers in the Northern part of the Territory are highly encouraging. The emigrants were not disturbed or molested upon the journey. Their scouts, however, saw at different times, bodies of armed men.

The Massachusetts party under Dr Cutter, and the Chicago party, both of which were disarmed on the river and sent back, are with these emigrants.—[Correspondence of N Y Times.

QUICK WORK.—Frederick Brown broke open the store of Geo. W. Wadleigh, at Franklin, N. H., on Sunday morning. Monday he was arrested at Manchester. Tuesday he was conveyed to jail—Wednesday he was indicted by the Grand Jury—Thursday arraigned for trial, entered a plea of "guilty," and was sentenced by Judge Fowler to the N. H. State Prison for five years.

☞ During the late freshet, in Hebron, N. H., while several men were engaged in removing goods from the storehouse of David Hazleton & Co., the foundation of the building suddenly gave way, when it fell with a tremendous crash, seriously injuring the venerable George Washington Copp.

A boozy fellow sat and communed with himself as follows:—"I've seen a wood-tick (hic)—I've seen a bed-tick (hic)—but I never (hic) see a politic.

The animal may be seen about here, almost any time, between this and November,—running around like a boy with a bumble-bee in his hair.

Hastings; and the "Dulcimer," by I. B. Woodbury.

The Albany Journal gives the following idea of Southern logic:—"Rust beats Mr. Greely, to convince him that his resolutions ought to have been adopted by the House. Herbert shoots a waiter, to prove that he is entitled to breakfast after eleven o'clock. Brooks pounds Mr. Sumner on the head, to establish the fact that his State is prosperous, and his uncle a gentleman. Keitt puts pistols in his pockets, to satisfy the public that South Carolina had more troops in the Revolution than Massachusetts; and Pate, five assistants, attacks a newspaper correspondent, "vi et armis," by way of refutation of the charge that he is a 'Ruffian!'"

DEATH OF A FAST HORSE.—The "Milwaukee Wisconsin" tells of a horse that recently died in Oregon, Ill. He was very ugly, and would not be harnessed; under the saddle he could make extraordinary time. He could pass over 112 miles in 12 hours. His usual time, from Oregon to Rockford, 25 miles, was two hours. The doctor who owned him, and who alone could ride him, has been heard to say, that during six years past he had ridden him upwards of twenty thousand miles, and that during all this time he was never known to trip or stumble, so as to arrest the rider's attention. He was savage, because he was formerly a wild horse on the plains of Arkansas.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

CASE OF ASTHMA.

BELCHERTOWN, March 16.

Dr. Green;—I take great pleasure in informing you of the results of the Oxygenated Bitters you had the kindness to send me. For some twenty years I had suffered with Humoral Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one third of the nights, without going to bed at all; and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing, and great difficulty in breathing. In all my attendence upon our courts, I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years, but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took your medicine according to directions.—The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable.

Respy yours, MYRON LAWRENCE.

The following lines, from the pen of B. P. Shillaber, Esq., were drawn out by the death of Lillie, daughter of R. M. Yale, Esq., of Boston. The poet saw the child die, and was also at the funeral. We copy from the last Saturday Evening Gazette.

"LILLIE SLEEPS."

We saw, a few days since, an infant arrayed for the grave, with a profusion of bright and sweet flowers about her, that robbed it of all melancholy associations, among which the white lily was prominent, as if the beautiful and perishable plant claimed pleasant affinity with the Lillie at rest. Upon the casket in which the little one reposed was simply graven the words "Lillie sleeps," thus omitting even the usual age and date of death, that have such a meaning of mortality about them. The following lines were suggested by the scene:—

And loving hands have brought sweet flowers to strew
Around the couch where little Lillie lies;
Here are fair buds yet moist with morning dew,
And blossoms blushing with celestial dyes.

And Lillie sleeps!—mar not her peaceful rest,
But make her bed a bank of choicest bloom—
Her beauteous form with kindred sweets invest,
To breathe around a wealth of rich perfume.

'Tis meet they mingle thus—the budding flower,
On which love's fondest, tenderest care was shed,
And gems fresh plucked from Flora's fairest bower
Ere yet the morning flush had from them fled;

To melt away together from our view—
But not unheeded will they disappear,
For tender memory with feeling true,
Will hold them in affection ever near.

And Lillie in her blooming shroud will come,
A floral vision to the tearful eye,
Such glory shedding o'er the sorrowing home,
That love will e'en forget that she did die.

There is no terror in the guise of death,
As earth and heaven in such sweet union
twine,
When changed the cypress for the lily wreath,
To form a crown for innocence divine.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It need to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece of a breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries, prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the new ground sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found near the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds all be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, per rod or mile, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

PRINTERS' CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

One hundred years ago next month, Daniel Fowle established a Printing Office in Portsmouth, in the Province of New Hampshire; and on the 7th of the ensuing October commenced the publication of a small newspaper entitled the New Hampshire Gazette. This was the first introduction of printing into the State, and for many years the Gazette was the only newspaper within its borders. For a long time, by means of post-riders, then the only feasible mode of communication with the upper settlements, through the almost unbroken wilderness, it was supplied weekly to the hardy pioneers on the banks of the Merrimack, the Connecticut, and even scattered the very latest intelligence among the sparse population of the Green Mountains. During the existence of the Gazette, a large number of newspapers have been printed in this State.—But few of those whose publication commenced in the last century, still survive. We think the Gazette, the Keene Sentinel, and the Portsmouth Journal, are the only papers whose publication extends back of the present century. Of these the Portsmouth Journal is the oldest, and the Keene Sentinel the next in point of age. But the New Hampshire Gazette has been weekly issued in Portsmouth, (with perhaps the occasional exceptions of a failure of the publishers to receive a supply of paper) for nearly one hundred years. We have examined this subject attentively, and believe that the Gazette is now the oldest newspaper in the United States, which has preserved its name and locality without change from its earliest issue.

As centennial celebrations of various events are now quite common, and always interesting—a century being the most marked period of time in history: a wish has been generally expressed by the printers, editors and publishers of this and other States, and by many gentlemen of literary and scientific attainments, that a centennial celebration of the introduction of the art of Printing into the State of New Hampshire, might be held here the present autumn. It is unnecessary to enlarge upon the peculiar interest and novelty of the proposed celebration, which we predict, if held, will call together a more general representation, not only of the profession particularly interested, but of the various literary, scientific, and scholarly classes from all parts of the land, than almost any previous occasion.—Suffice it to say that the mere suggestion has been received with the warmest approval by the press everywhere; and the fitness and propriety of the celebration is universally recognized.

At the last annual meeting of the New Hampshire Historical Society, on motion of Rev. Dr. Bouton, it was Voted, That this Society approves of the proposition to celebrate during the present year, the centennial anniversary of the introduction of Printing into this State, and that a committee be appointed to confer with any individuals, societies, or committees, engaged in, or appointed for the purpose of carrying out the proposition.

Messrs. Chandler E. Potter, Nathaniel Bouton, and William Prescott were appointed a committee under the foregoing vote.

A meeting has been held by the editors, publishers and printers of Manchester, and a committee appointed to take the subject into consideration. This committee as well as that appointed by the State Historical Society, are in correspondence with members of the craft in this city in relation to the matter. It has been determined to have the celebration either at Manchester or Portsmouth. The printers and many citizens of the former place are very desirous to hold it in that city, the hospitality and enterprise of whose people are proverbial. It is universally conceded, however, that Portsmouth is legitimately entitled to the precedence, and that the celebration should be at this point.

We, as an old member of the craft, hope that Portsmouth may be decided upon as the locality for this interesting and useful celebration, which if properly arranged and carried out, cannot fail to be creditable to the city and the State. That Portsmouth can act the hospitable host to perfection, thousands were well convinced at the memorable celebration of July, 1853, when our absent sons and daughters gathered here to renew old friendships, and acquire a fresh love of home, by mingling the pleasing memories of childhood with the more dignified happiness of practical life.—The present occasion equally demands our attention and exertions, and it seems due to the credit of the city that the citizens should in some manner show their sympathy in the proposed celebration. Let us make a general holiday, and welcome to the home of Daniel Fowle, the first printer of the State, the honored members of a craft which is second to none other in its value and importance to our free institutions.

We would suggest a meeting of the printers, publishers, and citizens generally at Jefferson Hall this week, to take the subject into consideration, and hope that such a call may be issued immediately. If held here, the celebration will probably be about the middle of October, so that the time is quite limited for making the necessary arrangements.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.—The military spirit is manifesting itself in a political connexion.

We have a Company of Fremont Guards in Portsmouth,—who had a street drill, and visited the Fremont Club room, on Thursday evening.

And the Gazette states that a company of Buchanan Guards has been organized here, with Israel Marden for captain, A. J. Hill, lieutenant, George W. Towle, orderly sergeant; and four standard bearers, one of whom is Hon. Daniel Marcy.

The Keystone (Buchanan) Club held their first meeting at Washington Hall, on Tuesday evening, which is to be their regular evening for weekly meetings. President, Hon. R. Jenness. Speeches were made by Hon. Thomas P. Treadwell and C. L. Woodbury, Esq.

A meeting of the Democracy at Jefferson Hall, on Thursday evening, was addressed by Fletcher Webster, Esq., of Boston, and C. W. March, of this city.

MARRIAGE OF AN EDITER TO AN EDITRESS.—John W. Hasbrouck, editor of the Whig Press, at Middletown, N. Y., has recently married Lydia Sayer, M. D., editor of the Sybil, of the same town.—The following account is given of the ceremony;

The bride was dressed in the "reform costume"—skirt of white India book, with pants of white satin; a basque of brocade silk, (color of ashes of roses,) trimmed with dress lace; no ornaments except a simple breastpin. The ceremony was performed by themselves. The bride ignored that part of the accustomed ceremony which demands of women undue subjection and obedience, yet promising equally with the groom to stand true to his side in all the duties of life; each appealing to the other for their approval, and each consenting to the terms adopted by themselves. A short prayer was offered by the elder brother of the bride.

POTATOES.—The new potatoes which are brought into our market this season, have appeared to us to be unusually large, and we asked a person who deals in them and other kinds of vegetables extensively, if they were not of greater size than they had been for several years past. His reply was that they were much larger, and that they "seemed like old ones." We have not seen anything of the rot hereabouts, nor is anything said of it in our exchange papers. There seems to be good reason to hope that this highly prized esculent has escaped from the blight which has so injured it in quality and quantity.—Pawtucket Gazette.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The Erie Dispatch states that the engine of a down freight train exploded near that city on Wednesday last, killing Edward Willis, the engineer, and fireman, whose name was not learned, as well as severely injuring a brakeman. The head of Willis was severed from his body, and was found at a different point from the same. The body of the fireman has not been found. Fifteen cars were thrown off the track, and a large number of cattle were killed by the concussion.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market,) I am prepared to sell them

THE CHARTER OAK.

The telegraph brings us the sad intelligence that the famous charter oak at Hartford, was blown down Aug. 21, 1856, in the severity of the storm. We are pained to lose one of the old landmarks of the sturdy independence of the people in colonial times. The tree was a very ancient one.

"That venerable tree, which concealed the charter of our rights," says a daughter of Secretary Wyllys, "stands at the foot of Wyllys hill. The first inhabitant of that name found it standing in the height of its glory. Age seems to have curtailed its branches, yet it is not exceeded in the height of its coloring, or richness of its foliage. The trunk measures 21 feet in circumference, and near 7 feet in diameter. The cavity, which was the asylum of our charter, was near the roots, and large enough to admit a child. Within the space of eight years, that cavity has closed, as if it had fulfilled the divine purpose for which it had been reared."

The story of the "Charter Oak" is thus told by Mr. Barber, in his Historical Collections;

"Sir Edmund Andros being appointed the first governor-general over New England, arrived in Boston in December, 1686. From this place he wrote to the colony of Connecticut to resign their charter, but without success. The assembly met as usual, in October, and the government continued according to the charter, until the last of the month. About this time, Sir Edmund, with his suite and more than sixty regular troops, came to Hartford when the assembly were sitting, and demanded the charter, and declared the government under it to be dissolved. The assembly were extremely reluctant and slow with respect to any resolve to surrender the charter, or with respect to any motion to bring it forth. The tradition is, that Governor Treat strongly represented the great expense and hardships of the colonists in planting the country: the blood and treasure which they had expended in defending it, both against the savages and foreigners; to what hardships he himself had before been exposed for that purpose; and that it was like giving up his life, now to surrender the patent and privileges so dearly bought and so long enjoyed. The important affair was debated and kept in suspense until the evening, when the charter was brought and laid upon the table where the assembly were sitting. By this time great numbers of people were assembled, and men sufficiently bold to enterprise whatever might be necessary or expedient. The lights were instantly extinguished, and one Capt. Wadsworth, of Hartford, in the most silent and secret manner, carried off the charter, and secreted it in a large hollow tree, fronting the house of Hon. Samuel Wyllys, then one of the magistrates of the colony. The people all appeared peaceable and orderly. The candles were officially relighted, but the patent was gone, and no discovery could be made of it, or the persons who carried it away."

THE MILLIONAIRE BUTCHER OF LONDON. Mons. Wey, a French writer of distinction, who passed some weeks in London, during the great exhibition, has recently published, in Paris, his impressions, under the title of "The English at Home." On one occasion, while riding in an omnibus, he formed an acquaintance with a fellow-passenger, from whom he derived many explanations of the strange things which he saw. One of these we give: "I addressed a few words to him, concerning a carriage which just drove by. It was too fine to be elegant, and was drawn by two magnificent horses. On the box, adorned with beautiful fringe, sat a black-coated coachman; there was not a wrinkle in his white cravat—his snowy gloves were spotless. In the vehicle, on downy cushions, carelessly lounged a man, without a coat, his arms bare, his sleeves turned up to the shoulder; an apron, with the corners turned up, served him as a girdle—so that the coachman looked like a gentleman driving a mechanic in his working dress." Mr. W. asked his neighbor "who and what was the strange looking occupant of the dashing carriage?" "The richest butcher in London," was the reply; "he is returning in his own carriage from the slaughter house to his residence. His foretathers were in the same business; his father left him a fortune of more than two millions, and he, out of modesty, follows his profession. This gentleman butcher possesses four millions."

Punch gives the following receipt for making the ridiculously small bonnets that are now in fashion:

Two scraps of foundation, some fragments of lace,
A shower of French rose buds to droop o'er the face;
Fine ribbons and feathers, with crape and illusion,
Then mix and re-range them in graceful confusion.
Inveigle some fairy, out roaming for pleasure,
And beg the slight pleasure of taking her measure;
And length and breadth of her dear little pate,
And hasten a miniature frame to create.
Then pour, as above, the bright mixture upon it,
And lo! you possess "such a love of a bonnet!"

MISSIONARY CORRESPONDENCE.

EPPING AND KENSINGTON.—We have read in the Congregational Journal, several letters to that paper, from Wm. Clark, a missionary agent of the N. H. Missionary Society, describing the religious condition of several towns, with which we have been acquainted, and in which we feel an interest. As is very natural, he sees his own denomination, (orthodox congregational,) to be the first, and sometimes (as in the case of Epping) appears not to notice any other.

At the time his letter from Epping appeared, we did not see the paper containing it;—but a correspondent in Epping sent us some strictures upon it, and also upon a clergyman who proposed, (as our correspondent heard,) to give a sabbath's preaching.

The clergyman, however, did not propose to go to Epping at all—but to Kensington, where other ministers, a dozen or so, also proposed to go. The two towns were mingled together in some hearer's mind, and hence an erroneous impression.

Last week, a subscriber of ours in Epping, and a member we think of the Congregational Church, requested us to publish Mr. Clark's letter from Epping, and suggested the giving our correspondent's name, in connexion, we suppose, with his whole communication, of which we only gave a part.

Instead of this, we give a few extracts only, from Mr. Clark's letters, both from Epping and Kensington. The material facts in our correspondent's article, we have already given, omitting some things of no great consequence.

All the old facts in both towns, may be found in Rev. Robert F. Lawrence's Book of the N. H. Churches.

Speaking of Epping, as to new things, Mr. Clark writes, July 7:

Since Mr. White left, about a year ago, there has been preaching to the church here, only during the last two months, and that by transient preachers. I attended a meeting of a few of the brethren on Saturday evening, who met to consult on the interests of their church, and to devise means to secure preaching.

At the close of the 3d service on the Sabbath, "those who were particularly interested remained, and voted to write to Rev. Giles Pease, late of Sandwich, Mass., to preach a year on a support of $500,—$150 of which they hope to receive from the N. H. M. S.—Mr. P. had preached to them the Sabbath preceding, much to their acceptance."

Toward the close of the letter, he says:

Epping is a beautiful town, 10 miles from Exeter, 16 from Dover, and 20 from Portsmouth, containing 1,663 inhabitants, and a valuation of $499,941. But few better farming towns in the State. The people are abundantly able to support the gospel, but will not probably do this without Missionary aid for some time. It has been a Missionary ground, I believe, ever since the venerable Holt left it in 1821. It is, indeed, grievous that any community so prosperous externally, and made so by the influence of a godly, faithful ministry, from the first settlement of the town, for more than three-score subsequent years, should become so indifferent to the institutions of the gospel; and that these, if enjoyed at all, must be secured to them by foreign aid. Our hope and trust must be in God. The friends of Home Missions must not be weary in well-doing, for in due time they shall reap if they faint not.

In these extracts, and in the whole letter, no notice is taken of the fact that a Methodist Society meet and hold regular worship every Lord's day, in the Universalist House in the same village with the Congregational; and this, so far as we see, is its chief fault,—but such faults are so common as to be easily forgiven. Almost every sect commits them.

In relation to Kensington, Mr. Clark writes in glowing terms, and truly, as to the good farms and good farming, and says:

Altogether this is a truly charming section of country, combining everything material necessary for well-being in the highest degree. It is doubtful whether there is a spot on earth where, in this respect, life can have more value.

But to the serious, pious mind that looks to things unseen and eternal, rather than to those seen and temporal, there is a heavy drawback in many, indeed in most of the towns in this vicinity; for multitudes of the favored inhabitants love not the house of God. * * * * All this is sadly illustrated in this town, in which there are 700 inhabitants. Here are two meeting-houses: a Union House," belonging to Congregationalists, Unitarians and Universalists, and one belonging to Christian Baptists. In the latter, public worship is sustained regularly on the Sabbath, though the preacher resides in Exeter. I attended meeting there in the afternoon yesterday, not being able to preach myself in the "Union House," it being occupied by Universalists. There were present about 80. I am told that 100 is a large congregation there. In the "Union House," I was informed there were 40 present. Sometimes there are 50 or 60 attendants when Universalism has the occupancy.

Till within a few Sabbaths, there has been no preaching in the "Union House," except by advocates of this doctrine once in two Sabbaths, for three years. * * * * But that form of religious error is not embraced, avowedly, by any considerable portion of the inhabitants, as is seen by the small attendance—40 to 60 on its public services.

There are other and more cogent reasons than doctrinal differences, for the small attendance. Mr. Clark says farther:—

A gentleman of the place informs me, that some 12 or 15 prominent, wealthy and substantial farmers would prefer sound evangelical preaching to any other, and would contribute to its support were the way opened for it. Several now contribute, some to the Christian Baptists, some to the Universalists, who would at once transfer their support to Congregationalism were it again established here. They now contribute because they do not wish to enjoy the privilege of public worship gratuitously.

There is no doubt that a talented and respectable Congregational minister, whether evangelical or liberal, would gather a larger congregation than any now in Kensington, if he could be sustained for a season; and if he preached but little distinctive doctrine, and that little was universalian in its tendency, it would not render him less acceptable to the hearers in general. They are attached to Congregationalism by education and habit;—and they would prefer it quite liberal as to doctrine. But in default of this, as before remarked, they would doubtless be glad of a respectable evangelical ministry.

Mr. Clark says:

Said two intelligent ladies to me yesterday, "We are Unitarians, but we are satisfied Unitarianism, after a fair trial here, does not and cannot meet the feelings and desires of the people generally, and we will cheerfully contribute to the support of a Trintarian preacher, if a man of that faith can be had here."—From conversation with others, the same views and feelings I find to exist somewhat extensively.

We have no doubt, if the N. H. Missionary Society could find such a man, as 50 years ago would have been called a moderate calvinist, (i. e. rather a catholic man,) to go there, he might reconstruct a congregation in a reasonable time.

The New Hampshire Patriot says:

"We can scarcely take up a religious newspaper of whatever denomination, or an agricultural paper, or a temperance paper, or a so called literary or miscellaneous journal, all professedly neutral in politics, and soliciting patronage from all classes of the community, but what you will discover a deep and settled hatred and opposition to the present Democratic administration, and the men and measures of the Democratic party generally, insidiously running through their columns, and more openly displayed whenever an opportunity offers to give an effectual side thrust."

Well: this is important if true; and what does it signify? Does it show the popularity of the present administration? or the general hope of the religious, agricultural, literary or temperance people in a future administration of the same kind? We ask the reader to look at the paragraph again, and consider what paper makes the statement, that the religious papers of all denominations, and all literary and miscellaneous, are against it.

These papers either lead public opinion or follow it. In either case, their unanimity is remarkable—and more remarkable still is the statement of the fact by the Patriot.

☞ The New York Musical World commences its sixteenth volume, Sept. 1st—a good time to subscribe, and a good paper to subscribe for. $2 per year—published weekly. Besides giving the musical intelligence and gossip of the old and new worlds, it devotes considerable space to "news and literature." Altogether, it is a very acceptable family paper—ably edited and beautifully printed. Willis & Morand henceforth to be aided by Dr. Hodges, editors.

By the way, speaking of musical papers; it seems to us they are most all affected with what we shall call the New Hampshire "burdock fever"—that is, they are altogether to acrid and bitter when writing of and to one another. It seems to us they might chord better.

IOWA.—A gentleman just from Iowa informs us that the late Republican triumph in Iowa is no triumph at all. The People's State ticket is elected, but the fact is that out of the four persons on the ticket, three of them were Fillmore men.—[Boston Ledger.

We presume no other paper has the news. The Republicans in Iowa city have not heard of it—for they illuminated their houses and stores in honor of the triumph—and there was a report that some Republican members of Congress were chosen.

☞ The General Association of Congregational Ministers in New Hampshire, will commence their Annual Meeting, this morning at 10 o'clock, at the Second Church in Exeter.

☞ The Rockingham Agricultural Society's Annual Exhibition and Fair, will be held at Exeter, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 24 and 25.

CONGRESS.

Saturday, Aug. 29.

In the Senate, on the Army Bill, the motion to adhere was agreed to, by yeas 35, nays 9:

Nays—Messrs. Bell of Tennessee, Clayton of Delaware, Durkee of Wisconsin, Foot of Vermont, Foster of Connecticut, Harlan of Illinois, Trumbull, Wilson and Wade.

The House, on motion of Mr. Cobb of Georgia, concurred in the resolution of the Senate suspending the 21st rule, in order that the former Army bill might be taken from the table.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio made an unsuccessful suggestion that the House insist on its disagreement, and ask a Committee of Conference.

Mr. Cobb of Georgia moved that the House recede from the Kansas proviso. Motion negatived by 97 against 100.

Mr. Washburn moved that the House adhere. Motion agreed to by 67 against 98.—Adj.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The Army Bill. There are still hopes of the passage of the Army bill. A new one will probably be introduced on Monday. Mr. Campbell of Ohio has already prepared a proviso prohibiting the employment of the Army in Kansas to enforce the laws of the Territorial Legislature, embodying the sections of the Senate's Pacification bill, — abolishing test oaths, securing freedom of speech and of the press, and appropriating twenty-five thousand dollars for re-organization by the election of a new Legislature.

The Free-State men of Kansas despatched Mr. Arny as a special messenger to Washington, to call upon the President for protection from the Buford men, as the Southerners are called out there, but the President was too much occupied to see the free-state agent when he called at the White House on the subject, and he was turned over to Sydney Webster, the private Secretary of the President, who informed him that it was his opinion that the free-state men would have to take care of themselves,—that the President was just now so much engaged that he could not attend to the matter; with which consolation Mr. Arny left his papers in the hands of the Private Secretary and departed. The documents embrace a letter to the President from Mr. Arny, and a semi-official account of the recent attack upon Franklin, drawn up by Robert Morrow, a member of the Kansas Central Committee. Mr. Morrow's account of that affair does not differ materially from that already published.

Political.—The Democratic Senatorial Caucus this morning determined to adhere to their amendment striking out the House proviso in the Army bill, and to remain in session until they transact all the business for which Congress convened.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

CASE OF ASTHMA.

BELCHERTOWN, March 16.

Dr. Green:—I take great pleasure in informing you of the results of the Oxygenated Bitters you had the kindness to send me. For some twenty years I had suffered with Humoral Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one third of the nights, without going to bed at all; and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing, and great difficulty in breathing. In all my attendence upon our courts, I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years, but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took your medicine according to directions—The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable.

DEMOCRATIC FREMONT CLUB.

A letter from Concord, N. H., to the Boston Telegraph, dated Aug. 23, says:

A large meeting was held in this city, last evening, composed entirely of those who have hitherto acted with the democratic party. The call for this meeting was signed by over one hundred and fifty democrats, embracing many very prominent and very active members of said party. H. H. Bailey, Esq., was called to the Chair, and Andrew Jackson Hill, son of Ex-Gov. Isaac Hill, was appointed Secretary.

A proposition was then made to organize a Democratic Fremont Club, whereupon a committee was chosen, of which J. Y. Mugridge was chosen chairman. Mr. M. is a prominent lawyer of this place, and never voted any other than the democratic ticket. This committee reported a constitution and by-laws, which were unanimously adopted, and nearly all present walked up to the Secretary's table and put their signatures to the same.

Several eloquent and stirring speeches were made during the evening, all for freedom and Fremont. I. Sedgerly, Esq., was chosen President of the Club, with fourteen Vice Presidents, Recording and Corresponding Secretaries, and an Executive Committee.—Great enthusiasm and good feeling prevailed throughout.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ The celebrated Poem on Freedom and Kansas which has been delighting the people in the principal places in New England the past three or four months, and which was so highly spoken of by the Boston press at the time of its delivery at the Tremont Temple and at the Capitol, in Boston, last winter, and of whigh Longfellow, Pierpoint, Wendell Phillips and many others of like literary character have spoken in the very higest terms, is to be delivered by its author, Dr. Hebbard of Boston, at the Temple on Wednesday evening. As there is to be no charge for admission, those who wish for a comfortable seat should go early. The doors will be open at 7 o'clock.

Of the Poem itself, Mr Shillaber, (Mrs Partington,) though taking exceptions to some sentiments, yet says it is "a most excellent composition—and delivered in a most admirable manner."

The press in our own State, where the poem has been delivered, recommend it highly.

☞ We are mucn gratified to learn that the suggestion we made a few weeks since, that Auburn street be ornamented with shade trees, is already being complied with. It is contemplated to set a row of trees on each side the street—which will render this one of the most agreeable walks in the city. A subscrption-paper is in circulation for this purpose.

ANOTHER.—On Monday, a large flag was hung across Islington street near Ann street, opposite the house occupied by A. L. Marden, Esq. It bears the inscription —"The Union forever — Buchanan and Breckinridge."

☞ The annual Camp Meeting held by the Methodists, at Kennebunk, Me., commenced on Monday, and will continue through the week till Saturday. Tickets down and back, from Portsmouth, over the Eastern railroad, may be had (at 85 cents) at the store of R. K. Oxford, State St.

A CASE FOR SYMPATHY.—Mr. William A. Gove, a young man living on the farm of Capt. Robert Lefavour, on Peverly Hill road, while cutting bushes with a keen axe in April last, cut his foot very badly. Since the accident he has not been able to resume work;—and has been dependent upon his friends for the support of himself and family, which consists of a wife and at least one child.—The wound was healing well, and Mr. Gove's entire recovery was apparently at hand; but from some cause, the foot became worse,—and physicians have now decided that it must be amputated, which will probably be done the present week. A mutual friend who called on him, Saturday evening, communicates to us these facts; and we have deemed best to lay them before our readers—many of whom would doubtless be pleased to contribute a trifle in aid of an industrious and worthy young man, thus disabled from providing for himself and family.

☞ The sale of horses, carriages, &c., belonging to Messrs. C. H. Sides & Co., Saturday, was reasonably successful—a good company being in attendance, and bidding rather briskly. All the stock was disposed of, in a short time, and at good auction rates. J. P. Morse, Esq., was auctioneer, and did himself credit in that capacity—though we believe he gave no "credit" to the company. Messrs. Sides have closed business here, having removed most their stock to East Boston, where also they have been engaged in the livery business for two or three years past.

☞ A letter received in this city by Capt. Preble, of the yacht Sybil,—which was struck by lightning a short time since—from Mr. Nicholas Lawson, who was severely affected, and whose wife was so badly and dangerously burned; states that both are fast recovering from the effects of the shock. He speaks very highly of the Sybil, her officers and crew; and returns thanks to them, his fellow passengers, and the host of the Atlantic House, Gosport, for their attentions to himself and wife, in their distress.

Population Statistics in France are very curious—peculiar in their character to Europe, and unknown among us. It appears from a late publication of the government, that the increase of population in France is very small. This happens to be the case in all catholic countries, and suggests the inquiry whether it is not the direct providence of God in the development of the race. The old in religion, and the low in morality, are being surpassed in every section of the globe, by the later and the higher; thus by natural means changing the balance of power to hands better capable of the labors of to-day.

The German procession in New York, on Friday evening, was a mile long. The demonstration at the Tabernacle fixes the fact that a considerable portion of them will go the republican ticket. —[Newburyport Herald.

FROM EUROPE—4 DAYS LATER.

QUEBEC, Aug 24.—The propeller North American, from Liverpool 13th, arrived at this port this morning. She brings 103 cabin and 150 steerage passengers.

There is no political news of importance from Britian.

Napoleon has returned to Paris, but leaves immediately for the Baths.

The French have gained another victory over the Mountain Kybales in Algeria.

Spain is reported quiet. Espartero has taken amicable leave of the Queen.

The Russians have notified that they are ready to give up Kars to the Turks.

The Russians still maintain that the Island of Serpents belongs to them, and it is rumored that Napoleon has sent a supplementary note to be inserted in the treaty to settle the point.

Portugal officially notifies her adherence to the doctrine propounded by the Congress of Paris, respecting the rights of neutrals and arbitration.

Distressing accounts are received of cholera in Madrid.

The Czar's coronation is now fixed for the 7th of September—new style.

The harvest has terminated in the South of France, and is proceeding in the centre and North. It is inferior beyond the Garonne and along the banks of the Rhone and Saone; middling between the Garonne and Loire, but magnificent in every part of the country north of the latter river. The new wheat brought to market is of a superior quality. There are immense arrivals of wheat at Marseilles.

The Brussels paper Nord affirms that the Russian government has made a concession of railway lines to capitalize, extending to upwards of 3000 English miles.

LONDON, Tuesday evening.—The great piano-forte factory of Broadwood & Sons, on the horse-ferry road, Westminster, is now on fire, with little hope of saving any portion of the valuable stock.

The following extraordinary paragraph is from the editorial columns of the London Star:—

There are some very unhappy rumors floating all over Paris, about the state of things established at the Tuilleries, which, it is very much to be hoped, are entirely without foundation. Moreover, the statements gather strength, and they are reported from day to day. No doubt the Legitimists and Republicans parties in Paris will take care that the stories do not lose excited interest in the repetition, and we are sorry to add, that the character of the Empress herself continues to be cruelly aspersed. Now that the Empefor returns to Paris, it ought to be his first duty to bring the authors of those calumnies to justice.

The mail brings disastrous accounts from Madeira. Dates are to 13th of August. In Funchal alone there had been 5000 cases of cholera, and 1500 deaths, out of a population of 28,000. Both medicine and physicians were deficient. The dead remained unburied, and fires were kept burning to mitigate the pestilence arising from the putrefaction of the corpses.

John A. Martin, for many years United States Consul at Lisbon, died on the 3d inst, after an illness of eight hours. His death was much regretted.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—Kansas Matters. Private advices from Boonville state that the late Kansas news created intense excitement there, and that five thousand dollars were raised, and that it would be immediately sent to the relief of the pro-slavery citizens in the territory. A very high state of feeling exists in all the river and border counties. Public meetings had been held, and a gang of men had volunteered to go to the aid of the Governor of Kansas. Men of discretion and property are going with the determination to remain until peace and order are restored to the territory. Circulars and appeals were being signed by prominent and influential citizens, and freely circulated, for aid to drive Gen. Lane from the country. Large bodies of men have doubtless before this entered the territory, and reports of bloody conflicts are hourly expected.

The St Louis Democrat gives the following version of the recent affairs in Kansas. The attack on the pro-slavery camp at Ossawatomie was occasioned by the plundering of provision wagons belonging to citizens between Kansas city and that place. The pro-slavery forces were entirely driven out of Franklin. Two hundred men of Lawrence marched to the pro-slavery camp at Washington Creek, and ordered those there to disperse, when they retreated, and occupied the fortified blockhouse near Lecompton. Heavy firing was heard in that direction on that day, and it is feared that a sanguinary engagement took place.

SENATOR BENJAMIN.—The N. York Times, a Black Republican paper, states that Senator Benjamin has transferred his allegiance to the Democratic party, "because it is the only party upon which the slaveholding interest in the Southern States can rely for support and aid in its projects of extension." A true bill.—[Richmond Enquirer.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.
THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but protect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." These are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladie, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
Nos. 76 State st. opposite Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid each by others), will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a saying invention that I can not employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

5 lb Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the CHEAPEST ARTICLE. The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections &c.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be broken under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,

WHIMSICAL PROVISOS.—The Boston Correspondent of the New York Evening Post says:

The legacy of Dr. Treadwell, of Salem, to Harvard College, is encumbered with some whimsical conditions, which almost seem to render it questionable whether the college can accept it, or whether any scientific man of reputation would consent to be a candidate for the chair. Imagine a candidate for a professor of anatomy undergoing a public examination as to his qualifications. Not only is the candidate to be examined by a board of scientific gentlemen, but the public must be present, and he must answer all the questions that any one may think fit to propound! He must not lecture before the Lowell Institute, and if present at a lecture there, he is required to sit, not on the platform, but among the audience.

If the college does not accept the legacy, which vests on the death of the testator's mother, now over eighty years of age, it goes to the Massachusetts General Hospital, without conditions. Dr. Treadwell's medical library, I learn is large and valuable, made up entirely of English editions; for one of his peculiarities, I am told was, that he would look at no American book. It is almost unnecessary to add that he was eccentric in many respects; his standing was high in his profession, and he was an accomplished and learned man.

Another paper says, the provisions of the will are not yet made public.

AMERICAN FLOUR IN PARIS.—A Paris letter to the New York Evening Post says;

I have found a very general aversion to American flour in this city. Bakers and housewives declaim against it. "Your flour is ground too much," is the charge. I asked an intelligent miller, and he told me: "In the first place, your wheat is not well cleaned; in the second place, your millstones run too close; and in the third place, you do not hull right." Would it not be worth while for the patent office to obtain, through this legation, more detailed information in this matter? The miller told me further: "I can make good flour out of American wheat, but it is difficult." The news that the New York inspectors have raised their standard is rejoiced over here.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

LEAVENWORTH CITY, Aug. 15, '56.

Dear Friends:—I returned to this place day before yesterday, after an absence of upwards of two weeks, which time I passed in the interior of the territory, mostly at the new town of Hiawatha. Peace and quietness have prevailed for the last few weeks, to an unusual extent, in this distracted land. The Free State party in this place have mustered courage enough to nominate a Free State ticket for the municipal election which takes place in September; and will, if they show themselves men, run the pro-slavery faction a hard race. That gloriously confederacy of bullies who have so long and so arrogantly "ruled the roost;" that "law and order" party, (I thank thee, Jew, for teaching me that word,) of which we have heard so much, who, headed by our worthy Mayor and a member of a certain firm of the government contractors, — who aspire to sway the destinies of this infant city,—sought many months ago, through their ruffian minions, to banish all who dared to lift their voices in favor of free "institutions." These law and order men swaggered through our streets with revolvers and bowie knives displayed, and ruled with undisputed away the destinies of our populace. That very party now talk of temporizing and a compromise; they propose to run a candidate who shall represent both parties—a mild pro-slavery man; one who promises to "roar you as gently as any sucking dove." But "coming events cast their shadows before" — the "hand writing is on the wall," and they feel that their doom is sealed. Very little excitement prevails, however; and I think all will pass off quietly.

It is said that Shannon feels his dismissal keenly. He has been the passive tool of a party, and has but met the fate of all time-servers,—to be used as long as they can be made useful, and then cast off. He left Kansas a few weeks ago, for Washington, with the intention of tendering his resignation, but was persuaded by his friends at St. Louis to return. His family had but just joined him here, when the tidings came of the appointment of his successor.

Our territorial election occurs in October, but I hardly think it will be attended by any very important results. Robinson is still confined at Lecompton.

Quite a number of the members of the Topeka Legislature have been arrested and held to bail; among them Mr. Menard, the Speaker.

The new Governor is expected here in a day or two. It is presumed he will land at this place. A committee has been appointed to receive him, and tender him the freedom of the city—whether in a gold snuff box or otherwise, deponent saith not.

Gen. Smith is in command here now, and makes Fort Leavenworth his head-quarters. Col. Sumner has left. Most of the Free State officers have been ordered to Texas.

I saw a man last night, direct from Topeka. He told me he saw the party sent in by Lane; that their wagons formed a train upwards of a mile in length. Among them is a party from Chicago, who were turned back some time ago on the river; and also Dr. Cutter's Massachusett's company. They came on a projected stage-route from Iowa City, and have selected four town sites on the line.

Two companies of dragoons left the Fort to intercept this party, who report that they (the dragoons) met them, divided and filed by on either side, till they reached the rear of the train, when they reformed and rode off without exchanging a word! A party of Carolinians afterwards met them, but did not come to close quarters. This company will be a valuable acquisition to the population of the territory.

A report reached this city yesterday morning, that there had been a desperate fight at Franklin, between the "Stubbs" (a Lawrente company) and a gang of horse thieves. Report said that six of the "Stubbs" were killed and about forty of the "thieves;" but it turned out to be all a—bum. I afterwards learned a true version of the story. It seems a certain livery stable keeper in this city lost two valuable horses a short time ago, and learning that they had been "pressed," and were at Franklin, he sent a couple of men to recover them. These men were fired on — one was killed, and the other was wounded. The wounded man returned to Lawrence, which is but a few miles distant, and having told his story, the "Stubbs" mustered and marched for "the seat of war." They gave the thieves fifteen minutes to produce the horses,—and they were produced. The "Stubbs" then returned home with the horses.

Horse-stealing prevails to an alarming extent, and seems to be on the increase. A few sittings of Judge Lynch would prove to be a benefit. I shall visit Topeka next week, and will write again in that would-be capital.

F. H. B.

In the Maine Supreme Court on Tuesday of last week, Michael Dunrow, convicted about a year since of placing obstructions on the Oldtown Railroad, in which case exceptions were filed and overruled, was sentenced to 30 days solitary, and 20 years in State Prison.

For the Chronicle.

POLITENESS.

We Americans are not, generally speaking, termed a polite people; in fact, travellers style us diametrically opposite, and accuse us of all sorts of barbarisms—saying that we murder our language, as well as the feelings of our best friends. That their charges are, in a measure, true, we hardly dare deny; but that we are lacking in all the finer feelings, to such an extent as those who write books about us affirm, is too absurd to need refuting. Since so much stress is laid upon the term "politeness," let us see what it means.

The word comes primarily from the Greek "polis," meaning a city—whose inhabitants, by frequent contact with each other, have the rough points in their characters smoothed; or, to keep up the philological figure, they become "polished." Thus, a man polished in his outward bearing and intercourse, is termed a polite man. To many persons a refined manner is natural, by some peculiarity of their constitutions; to others, by far the greater portion of mankind, an intercourse with refined persons is an indispensable step to the attainment of a pleasing and courtly bearing; and upon many more the association with persons of polished manners would not have the least effect—save to render their own natural coarseness more glaring by the contrast.

We have thus seen that some persons may, either naturally or by acquirement, be polished and courtly in manner, and we have also seen a third class of individuals who seem to have been formed by Nature as foils to set off the lustre of the other classes—so very conspicuous is their own coarseness. But a great mistake, and one which society as a whole can hardly ever hope to correct, is the confounding of "gentility" with "politeness;" though, as the word politeness is generally understood, they would seem to be synonomous. It we might be permitted, we should define politeness as "a desire to avoid saying or doing anything to injure the feelings of another; which desire also leads us, as a logical sequence, to try and please those with whom we associate;" while gentility merely implies a knowledge of, and a conformity with, the laws and conventionalities of what is termed fashionable society, which laws frequently lead a person to sacrifice his own self-respect, as well as the feelings of others.

Thus, as we have defined politeness, no man could possess it and not also be good at heart; while a genteel person may be the veriest scamp that ever breathed, and yet, being well versed in the laws of etiquette, be the Magnus Apollo of genteel society. Why, we have seen many a man who would think it a crime to put his knife to his mouth, who would not scruple to commit the blackest of deeds, were he sure of gaining his ends, and escaping detection. To such a man a copy of "Etiquette for Gentlemen" and a good suit of clothes are the only things necessary to make him a "perfect gentleman."

A genteel man may cut his old acquaintance who has not been as fortunate as himself; a polite man would scorn to do such things.—A genteel man would ask a thousand pardons of Lady Toddlejob, for treading on her Ladyship's poodle dog's tail, and swear at his washerwoman for not bringing home his linen at the stated time; while a polite man would offer his umbrella as quickly to a poor Irish woman, or speak as kindly to the outcast, as to Lady Teazle or any of "her set." A genteel man, on the battle field, would, like Shakespeare's fop, "call the soldiers untaught knaves, unmannerly, to bring a slovenly, unhandsome corse betwixt the wind and his nobility;" while the polite man, the true nobleman, would, like Sir Phillip Sidney, deny his own fevered lips the cup of refreshing water, and give it to the dying soldier at his side.

To the genteel man principle is not indispensable; indeed, he often has it not. Whilst the truly polite man has engraved on his heart's tablets the Golden Rule:—"Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you."

VATHEK.

HON. THOMAS CORWIN has signified to his friends in this city his intention to vote for Fremont and Dayton, at the next election.—[N. Y. Eve. Post, 22d.

NO FRIENDSHIP IN TRADE.—The Newburyport Herald says:

There is no trick more mean than attempting to injure one's business because of his politics. This is seldom resorted to in this country except in times of great excitement This year there havr been frequent looks that way. The south have threatened not to purchase of northern merchants, though if they should carry out that threat they would have to go barefooted, for there are not enough anti-Fremont men among the shoemakers to count. And early in the campaign when some Philadelphians signed a call for a Fremont club, the Pennsylvanian published the names of such traders, and called the attention of southern buyers to them. This was a bad operation for their own friends—for it happens that the western trade at Philadelphia is much more in amount, and much surer pay, than the southern; and the western Fremonters, determined to offset any losses their friends might sustain by such action, have directed their trade to the very men that were thus held up for the avoidance of the south. The Philadelphians that have taken the pains to inquire, now say that the proscribed list have done a better business than ever before. We are glad of this, and should be whether they were republicans, democrats or Americans. It is a just rebuke upon a senseless trick and fraud in politics. Their curses, like chickens, come home to roost.

☞ A pic-nic of the Universalist Society in this city, took place on Tuesday at the Sagamore Creek and Woods.

FROM WASHINGTON. — The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says: The feeling of the Senate now is to sit the session through till next March, unless the Army bill is sooner passed. An effort will be made to take up the regular order of business, notwithstanding they agreed in caucus to do nothing until the army bill was disposed of. They are evidently not united on this point. Gen. Cass had a protracted interview this morning with Secretary Davis, who urged that there should be no adjournment until supplies were voted the army.

The correspondent of the Courier & Enquirer says that the Com. of Ways and Means this morning, decided, by a vote of 5 to 3, to report no new Army bill. Mr. Campbell, the Chairman, proposed appointing five Commissioners to settle the difficulties. This was voted down. The Democrats intended to move in the House instructions to the Com. of Ways and Means to report an Army bill without provisos. Messrs. Douglas and Toombs in the Senate, and Mr. Cable in the House, with the anti-Buchanan faction, are anxious for adjournment, but the Buchanan leaders in both houses are eager for some compromise. Senators Jones and Bigler desire to repeal the worst of the Kansas spurious laws, and that motion will be made to-morrow.

The correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says: The special committee appointed to investigate the attack on Gen. Granger are prepared to report. They claim jurisdiction of such offences.

SINGULAR PHENOMENON. — Buildings Struck by lightning in a clear Day.—On Monday, the 11th inst., the barns (three in number and adjoining each other,) of Comfort Kent, Suffield, were struck by lightning and set on fire, and with the contents entirely consumed. The barns were full of hay and grain, and contained about two hundr d bushels of old grain, with various farming implements. Loss $1500; insured for $750, in the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company of Suffield. The barns were struck at about 4 o'clock, P. M., and at the time the sun was shining brightly, and not a cloud was to be seen in the horizon. Mr. Kent, with his son and son-in-law, had just left the barn for the house, and were but a few rods off when they heard the crash, and looking around, the flames were bursting through the roof. They hastened back, and were barely able to get the cattle out of the yard, but could save none of the contents of the barn.—Hartford Times, Aug. 21.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThS 6m.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

CASE OF ASTHMA.

BELCHERTOWN, March 16.

Dr. Green:—I take great pleasure in informing you of the results of the Oxygenated Bitters you had the kindness to send me. For some twenty years I had suffered with Humoral Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one-third of the nights, without going to bed at all; and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing, and great difficulty in breathing. In all my attendence upon our courts, I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years, but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took your medicine according to directions.—Its violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable.

Respy 'yours, MYRON LAWRENCE.

Dyer's Healing Embrocation. The ease with which it is applied, the absence of any greasy or oily substance in its composition, its perfect neatness, leaving no stain upon the dress or skin, its agreeable odor, and its prompt, unfailing and efficacious effects, render it the most valuable medicine in use.

THE HERBERT CASE.—Herbert, a Know Nothing member of Congress, coming from a free State, gets into an affray with a free Irish waiter, and in the struggle kills him, is arrested, tried by jury, and, all the facts being investigated, is acquitted upon the ground that the act of killing was in self-defence. Now, what do we see? The black republicans charge it all to the slave power, accuse the democratic party as guilty of murder, arraign judge, jury, witnesses, and everybody in any way connected with the matter, as tools of the slave oligarchy, &c.—[Augusta Age.

The editors of the Age know perfectly well that Herbert is an administration representative, an advocate of Pierce and Buchanan; they know also that the southern vote and the vote of the democratic party, in the House, with scarcely an exception, was to make no inquiry into Herbert's conduct: and that the southern slavery extension papers have a special defence of Herbert, as one of their men. The Charleston (S. C.) Standard, in defending the murderer Herbert, who shot the poor Irish waiter, says;

If white men accept the offices of menials, it should be expected that they will do so with an apprehension of their relation to society, and the disposition quietly to encounter both the responsibilities and liabilities which the relation imposes.

The editors of the Age, we repeat, know these things—and in their conscience must deem Herbert a murderer, his trial a mockery of law, and his acquittal an outrage on justice.

There are rumors of potato rot at Bangor, Eastport and the Provinces. In some parts of Massachusett it has also made its appearance.

CURIOUS FACT FOR POULTRY FANCIERS.—A short time since, a pigeon, belonging to Mr. Meetens of London Hotel, sat on three eggs in a nest of her own, in the pigeon house, and on Friday last a perfectly white chick of the Bantam breed emerged from the nest, when it was found two pigeon eggs remained. The chick has deserted the pigeon-mother, and has made friends with an old hen, who feeds and tends it with remarkable fondness and care. —[Taunton Courier.

"PLEASURE PARTIES?"—Pleasure parties, according to the accepted fashionable slang of the times may be described thus: We went out clean and came home dirty—we went out sober and we came home "excited" (the new word for drunk)—we went out well and came home sick—we went out laughing and came home crying—we went out with cash and came home with empty pockets—we went out principally for change of scenery and we came home choked with dust—in fact we had a very uncomfortable time generally.—Charlestown Advertiser.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin: now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "foed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

SIGHTS.—At 1 P. M. two men come out of a groggery at the North End, striking their fists together, and talking loud—passing on they come to the yard where they labor, and one knocks the other down, to settle some important question, we presume, a la Brooks and Rusk.

At 2 P. M. two young men, not over twenty-five years, staggered along Market Square, one of them making most elegant flourishes.

At 3 P. M. a drunken man, 50 years old, standing opposite the Post Office, insults passengers, male an female, and finally gets into a fight with another man, not quite so drunk as himself.

About 9 P. M. somebody not very sober nor quite dead drunk, threw two stones, one as big as a piece of chalk, and the other a good deal bigger, through the windows of a store, among the customers who were buying their daily and weekly supplies.

Midnight;—the children of the topers, and often the topers themselves, steal wood from the wood-yards, potatoes from the fields, and clothes from the lines; and some do malicious or wanton mischief, as breaking windows and such like.

These are no fancy sketches. The stones, one of them weighing a pound, are on our table; we saw several of the sights; and they all occurred within the compass of a few hours. There is need of some adequate suasion, moral or legal—room for the exercise of government in family and city, school and state.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF THE INTRODUCTION OF PRINTING INTO NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The publishers and printers of Portsmouth, and citizens generally favorable to this celebration, are requested to meet in the Common Council Room, this (Wednesday) evening at 8 o'clock, to take measures to secure the Celebration in Portsmouth.

At the Regatta at Newburyport, on Tuesday, the sloop-boat Viper, of Portsmouth, of between five and six tons burthen—won the first purse of $50. She is owned and was sailed by Mr. Wm. C. Merrill and others, of this city—and made the five miles (two and a half each way of the wind) in 1 hour 13 1-2 minutes. We shall give a report of the race to-morrow.

☞ The celebrated Poem on Freedom and Kansas which has been delighting the people in the principal places in New England the past three or four months, and which was so highly spoken of by the Boston press at the time of its delivery at the Tremont Temple and at the Capitol, in Boston, last winter, and of which Longfellow, Pierpont, Wendell Phillips and many others of like literary character have spoken in the very highest terms, is to be delivered by its author, Dr. Hebbard of Boston, at the Temple, this, (Wednesday,) evening. As there is to be no charge for admission, those who wish for a comfortable seat should go early. The doors will be open at 7 o'clock.

Of the Poem itself, Mr Shillaber, (Mrs Partington,) though taking exceptions to some sentiments, yet says it is "a most excellent composition—and delivered in a most admirable manner."

The press in our own State, where the poem has been delivered, recommend it highly.

☞ The Rockingham Convention of Universalists commences at Kensington this morning.

SUICIDE IN HAMILTON.— Mr. Solomon Annable, about 75 years old, committed suicide Sunday morning, by drowning, in a creek called "Miles River," in the town of Hamilton, Mass. He is supposed to have been partially deranged.

☞ The N. H. General Association of Congregational Ministers, commenced its session at Exeter on Tuesday morning, and was very fully attended by ministers as members, and by a large audience of the churches and societies in Exeter and vicinity.

MR. CHOATE gets snubbed occasionally by his new friends. The Salem Postmaster says in the Salem Advocate, that he can not refrain from expressing his regret at the reflection Mr. Choate casts upon the administration. He adds; "In nominating Mr. Buchanan, the Democratic party took especial pains to approve the policy of President Pierce, and to adopt his principles for their platform."

☞ It was Mr Wade of Ohio, and not Mr Cass of Michigan, who made the sensible remark on the delay of the Army bill, that it was the Senate that was trying to coerce the House and not the House trying to coerce the Senate. This was one of the grandest mistakes of history.

LIQUOR-AGENCY. — From the Report of the Liquor Agency it appears that this reform institution fell behind hand and ran the city of Manchester, N. H. in debt about $24 last year; and this year, thus far, it has cleared above all expenses, $18, 31.

FROM EUROPE.

THREE DAYS LATER.

HALIFAX, Aug. 25.—Steamship Niagara, from Liverpool on Saturday, Aug. 16th, arrived here this evening.

A lamentable accident occurred on board the Canadian on her passage. Rev. William Marsh, a passenger, drank by mistake a quantity of disinfecting fluid, and notwithstanding every care it proved fatal. The body was conveyed ashore, and an inquest held.

GREAT BRITAIN.—From every part of the United Kingdom the harvest reports are of a favorable character, and little doubt is now entertained that the crops will be at least a fair average in quality and quantity. In Scotland the crops are very heavy. With respect to potatoes, also, there is generally a concurrence of evidence that the crops, though not entirely free from disease in some parts of England, Ireland and Scotland, promise to be abundant and excellent. Late rains have been beneficial to green crops. Harvest operations are now general, and so much labor is wanted that farmers outbid railway contractors, and the latter find themselves compelled to suspend for the present all but pressing public works. Sir Morton Peto, in a letter, suggests that the Government might wisely imitate the example of the French soldiers of regiments stationed in the rural districts, to earn wages by helping to get in corn.

In the political world there reigns the profoundest quietness.

Miss Nightingale has returned to her home in Derbyshire, avoiding all public demonstrations of welcome.

FRANCE.—Friday, 15th, was the fete of the Empress. Salutes of artillery were fired at 6 A. M. and 6 P. M. A military mass was celebrated in Notre Dame in presence of the State dignitaries. Te Deum was sung in all the churches of France. The afternoon, from 2 to 6 o'clock, was devoted to dramatic representations of military events, games, balloon ascensions, &c. In the evening a concert in the garden of the Tuileries; at night the gardens and Place Concorde illuminated with colored lanterns; and a good display of fireworks.

SPAIN.—Spanish news is uninteresting.

Fears entertained of scarcity were diminishing.

PORTUGAL.—Government has sent the war steamer Mendello to Madeira, with a cargo of provisions and medical stores.

Cholera was increasing at Lisbon.

ITALY.—A report was circulated on Paris Bourse that there had been an attempt at insurrection in Naples. It is not, however, true, and from precautions taken to repress attempts, it is not likely. The secret liberal press has, however, just issued another proclamation to the people, calling on them to agitate, firmly and quietly.

Garibaldi publishes in a Genoa paper, a letter saying he has just discovered that the gallant Roman Ceceruacchis, his two young sons, and five other victims, who were reported to have escaped, were shot in cold blood by the Austrians in 1849, at La Cantarina, and that the massacre was concealed. This statement has created excitement throughout Italy.

THE EAST.—The English war steamer Gladiator has returned from the Isle of Serpents to Constantinople, and reports on Island 50 Turkish and 8 Russian soldiers. There was no armed seizure of the Island, as reported. The island is nothing but a bare rock of very limited size, and contains only one building, Turks and Russians living together, and the latter are treated by the former as their guests. The Gladiator left again for the Black Sea with new instructions of a more positive nature. English presses protest against the indifference expressed by the French government, whether the Isle of Serpents belongs to Russia or Turkey. As proof that Isle of Serpents, called also Tidonisi, is valuable, it is stated that all the allied fleets made it a rendezvous before landing the army at Eupatoria.

The Archbishop of Kherson and Tawrida has formally consecrated the south of Sevastopol, preparatory to its being rebuilt.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, Aug. 25.

SENATE.—Mr Weller gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill to abrogate certain laws enacted by the Legislature of Kansas. It is the same as the 18th section of the Senate Kansas bill, abolishing test oaths, providing for freedom of speech and the press, and for the security of the people in person and property in accordance with the Constitution, &c.

A message was received from the House, announcing the death of James Meacham of Vermont.

Mr Foot dwelt with much eloquence on the learning and public and private usefulness of the deceased, who was removed hence at the age of 46 years. He traced him from the time that he was a poor orphan boy in a cabinet maker's shop, up to the high position which he occupied at the time of his decease.

Mr Douglas said he was born in the same county with Mr Meacham, and was acquainted with him in early life. He bore testimony to his honesty of purpose and elevated character.

The usual resolutions of respect were then adopted, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr Merrill of Vermont announced the death of his colleague, passed a glowing eulogy on his character, and offered the customary resolutions.

The resolution of respect was then adopted, and the House adjourned.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

BLACK SILK LACE LONG MITTS for 12½ cents, at PEYSER'S.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladie, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their proper place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents, as much as any two or three other persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

"August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates,
Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz.:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1 00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	80
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Cows, swine, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

Proof of the great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS, Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. Without the experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of lands, the time of sale, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

A SAD STORY—BUT TRUE.

The following communication from the Keene Sentinel, tells its own story simply and plainly, of wrong and outrage, though in homely language. The letter which follows must commend itself to every reader.

FRIEND WOODWARD:—By permission of the friends who reside in this town, I send you this letter from Mary Hill, for publication. She is a young Irish lady of some 18 or 19 summers, who with her brother Robert Hill, (who is the one so inhumanly murdered) resided in our neighborhood a year or more. They, as will be seen by the letter, were pious. Robert was a member of that religious sect called Covenanters. He possessed the strictest moral and religious sentiments, so much so that, when he was about to leave for the West, he was offered by his Uncle a revolver as a means of defence, but would not accept the gift, said he would, but not defend himself if he knew one were going to take his life. I can bring many witnesses to prove the inoffensiveness of this young man. Now will the editor of the Republican continue in his debased position, and call this letter, as he has others, a fabrication and lie? Or will he take it and make extracts from it, commenting upon it, giving it an entirely different meaning, as he did to Mrs. White's letter? We can expect nothing better from men who burned so much powder on the reception of the news of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Men found wallowing so low in political corruption will not shrink from defending border ruffianism, murder or treason.

Mr. Editor, how long will the dupes of the Cheshire Republican continue to follow this demoralizing course? Let it proceed on with its train. Thank God the clergy are all on the side of right, or nearly so, (I had forgotten the Sullivan divine) and soon we shall see all the moral portions of our community on the side of freedom — and haters of all kinds of slavery and oppression. They will not be led on by political demagogues—men void of moral principles, who have caused all the blood-shed, crime and trouble in Kansas, by the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, of over thirty years standing.

THOMAS WHITE,

NEWTON, Iowa, July 29, 1856.

DEAR UNCLE AND AUNT:—I now lift my pen to inform you that all of us that are alive, are well. Oh, don't I have bad news to write to you; but I hope you will try and not take it hard. I wrote you that Robert had gone to Kansas, and that he liked out there very well. Cousin Hill sent him to Kansas city with his team for a load of goods. He had with him $200 in gold, besides $10 of his own money.—When going, the border ruffians took him off the road, robbed him of his money, took his team, and tied his hands and feet behind him, gagged him, tied his hat over his eyes, and left him there to die. But the Lord had fixed it otherwise; he spared him a little longer in the land of the living. He stayed there until after the ruffians went off, when he worked off one of his boots, and so got his feet free, getting his hat off between his knees, and soon found himself at liberty. It was getting dark, and he did not know what direction to take, so he took the north star for his guide, and arrived at a house about 12 o'clock at night, having walked eleven miles.

Uncle, I cannot tell you all the brutality with which they tormented him. We had heard the news before he wrote to us, and you may expect it was sorrowful news to us, but I have not told you all yet. Robert and four other men went in search of the team, which they found and were returning home, when the murderers fell upon them and killed them. Three of them they hung up on a tree, and the other two they brutally murdered. My brother was recognized as one of them. Oh! Aunt, we have had great trouble ever since we came out here; but the Lord's will be done. We must submit. We all mourn for our lost brother. Mother takes it very hard. I think she will not live long. Good bye.

OUR TRIP TO NEWBURYPORT.

We wished to witness the Regatta, at Newburyport, on Tuesday afternoon; and to attend Mr. Thompson's Concert in the evening. And as being absent from our post (not bedpost) over night, was rather out of the question; we jumped into a buggy, with a friend, and after a pleasant drive of "some" two hours and "some" minutes, drew up at the door of the hospitable Ocean House—which, by the way, has changed proprietors since we last stopped there; but we found Mr. Enoch T. Pickard (late clerk,) a worthy and efficient successor of the late popular landlord, Mr. Hamblet. On the way over, we "beat everything" in the shape of horse-flesh, which came in our way; that is, we should probably have beat them all, if any of them had tried with us—which s ithe way a great many small races are won.

We did expect the Regatta would, as usual on all similar occasions, be a little behindhand; but were beginning to wax a little impatient, when "the first note (gun) of preparation" was sounded from the judges' boat, in the middle of the river, a little below the Eastern Railroad Bridge. A full hour after the time, the second gun was fired, and off went the boats—for fun, glory, and the purses.

The Newburyport Regatta Club had offered six purses—$50 and $25 for sailing vessels; $25 and $15 for two-oared boats; $20 and $10 for single-oared boats. Sailing distance, two and a half miles down (before the wind, as it happened,) and beat back. Distance for rowing, three miles. The tonnage of boats was limited to twenty tons—which shut out most of the Newburyport boats with keels, including the pilot boats—and thirty seconds per ton was allowed in favor of the smaller boats.

The Regatta drew a crowd of people into Newburyport, — though, singularly enough, there was but a single competing boat from abroad—the Viper, from Portsmouth, which won the first purse. Not less than 5000 strangers were estimated to be in the city; while 10,000 persons lined the wharves and the streets and the banks of the river, and filled the windows, and covered every roof available for a prospect.

The race created much interest, and rarely have we beheld a more beautiful sight than was here presented. Between the bridge and the piers, were upwards of fifty sail boats, (a large portion of them filled with gentlemen and ladies, who were spectators of the exciting scene,) and hundreds of row boats, filled with men and boys. Indeed, almost everything that would float was called into service.

To add to the scene, Major Poore marched his battalion of Rifles—which had been out for street drill,—to the head of the wharf, presenting arms to the judges' party, while his band discoursed excellent music.

Eight boats entered for the purses—each bearing a letter of the alphabet at her peak—and each being timed separately, as she passed the judges' flag-boat, on the start and return—and not attempted to be started together, as in a home-race. The result was as follows:

The Viper, of Portsmouth, measuring between 5 and 6 tons, sloop rigged, sailed by Mr. Wm. C. Merrill, came in first, making the five miles in 1 hour 13 1-2 minutes.

The Neptune, 6 tons, schooner rigged, came in in 1 hour 18 1-2 minutes.

The Lizzie Scott, 9 tons, schooner rigged, 1 hour 18 1-2 minutes.

The Evening Star, 5 tons, 1 hour 21 1-2 minutes.

The Morning Star, 8 tons, 1 hour 27 min.

The Hampden, 5 tons, 1 hour 35 min.

The Sea Lion, 1 hour 40 1-3 min.

The Fly Market, 1 ton, 1 hour 53 2 3 min.

The wind was rather light, (from the Northeast,) favorable to the smaller boats,—and the sailing qualities of the craft could not be so well tested.

The Neptune was the first to pass the lower flag-boat, the Lizzie Scott second, and the Viper the third—which we believe was the order in which they started; but the Viper beat them all by out-"beating" on the back stretch, and coming in first. She was well managed, and had a larger amount of sail in proportion to her tonnage, than any boat entered. The first purse of $50 was awarded to to the Viper, and the second of $25 to the Neptune.

Three two-oared boats were entered; the Merrimac, the Vision; and the Blue Jacket, rowed by a lad of 14 years. The boats were light skiffs, built of cedar for the purpose.—The distance was three miles, and the time made as follows: Merrimac 27 minutes, Vision 32 minutes, Blue Jacket 33 minutes. The first purse of $20 was awarded to the Merrimac, and the second of $10 to the Vision.

Three boats with 4 oars started: the pilot boat Fremont, 4 oars; the Vision, 2 pair of sculls; and a "Joppa chaise" or wherry, 1 pair sculls and 2 oars. The Fremont came in ahead, making the three miles in 25 1-2 minutes, and the Vision in 26 1-2 minutes.—The wherry did not return. The first purse of $25 was awarded to the pilot boat, and the second of $15 to the Vision.

We were informed that another Regatta, with similar purses, will take place in Newburyport, early in October, on one of the days of the Essex County Cattle Show—when there will doubtless be more competitors, and so more fun.

The "Juvenile Operata," announced and partly composed by Mr. H. S. Thompson, and brought out on Tuesday evening for the first time, is an entertainment of much merit and unusual attractions. It was well put upon the stage, with one hundred and forty misses, variously and richly dressed, and handsome scenery, &c. The singing by the class was uncommonly good, and the chorus the best we ever heard at a juvenile concert—in time, tune, and rendering of words. Thompson made much fun in his Irish character of Patrick Cazey; and well assumed the part of the hermit, or the Old Man of the Mountain.—The closing Tableaux, of the beautiful Fairy Queen mounted on a flaming steed, was specially fine. In fact all was well conceived and successfully carried out—though we fear there may sometimes be too much even of a good thing.

One little incident, not put down on the bills, excited some fears and more fun. While Patrick was tuning his fiddle, a host of the juveniles rushed from their ante-room, upon the stage, uttering subdued cries of terror. Upon which, Thompson soon explained that a piece of paper had caught fire, and the little girls were afraid of the "sparks," as usual!

We anticipate the pleasure of hearing a Concert by Mr. Thompson in this city, at an early day.

Of our ride home, "some" twenty miles, in an open carriage, after 11 o'clock at night, and just after reeking for three hours in a close and hot hall—not much need be said, though something was said during the three hours occupied in making it. Having made many similar journeys, we "feared no evil;" but it is tough work to sleep with nothing to lean against. And so, resigning the reins into the hands of friend P., we resigned ourself to sleep—if we could. But, O, Morpheus! what a shaking! and how cold! Coats and shawls are not protection against it.

Besides being kept awake all the time by the motion of the wagon, we were waked up every five minutes, with the inquiry, "Wonder which road now"—till we wish we might ride "round the square," and fetch up nowhere, rather than be startled out o so many dreams of regattas, fairies, and flying horses, only to find ourselves shivering, in altogether less romantic circumstances, and surroundings not celestial. But two o'clock finds us at home, with "the eye satisfied with seeing," and "the ear with hearing," for the present. F.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The debate in the Senate, on the 26th, as will be seen, makes some important admissions as to the outrageous character of the bogus laws of Kansas! And yet the Senate who admit this, are willing to lose the Army bill, rather than prohibit the use of the Army to enforce these very laws!—A Washington dispatch of the 26th says,

While the Republicans insist upon their proviso, or its equivalent, as a condition to the passage of the Army bill, those opposed to them favor a delay of business, in hopes of the return of certain absentees favorable to their side of the question.

Gov. Gerry is still here, waiting for something to be done towards the pacification of Kansas, before he leaves for the territory. Gen. Persifer Smith has not been heard from in reference to the late disturbances in Kansas. Intelligence has been received here of a very heavy defalcation in California, on the part of a government officer and one of the revolutionists.

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post, says:

Mr. Arny, the agent of the free state men in Kansas, who came here to bespeak executive interference for protection against Buford's men and the border ruffians, was unable to see the President, who referred him to Secretary Webster, with whom his negotiations appear not to have amounted to much. Mr. Arny having given information of the purposes of his call, was asked by Mr. Webster what new facts were set forth in the petition he bore to the President relative to Kansas affairs. He replied that the Missourians were about making further descents on the free state settlers, with a view to drive them from the territory, and he sought the interposition of the executive to restrain the invaders. Mr. Webster inquired if Mr. Arny was not informed of the orders recently issued to the United States troops, and did not believe that under them, even if these descents were made, good citizens would receive protection. Mr. Arny answered that the troops would not interfere. Then said Mr. Webster, I suppose you do not dread the Missourians if the federal troops do not interfere, as your boast has been that the free state men had the power to drive off every body, if the President would keep his hands off.

This version of the story is worse than the other.

The National Intelligencer of Monday, hopes for a compromise on the Army Bill, and says:

The supporters of the proviso are aiming at a just and proper object, which, if not positively wrong, is at least questionable. That portion of the territorial laws which they denounce, and of which they seek to prevent the enforcement, whether enacted by competent or incompetent authority, are a disgrace to the country, and to its free institutions. They are a greater invasion of public liberty than were the acts which brought the head of Charles I. to the block. Yet it would be an equal wrong, odious as they are, to put them down by unconstitutional means. The English King suffered death for trampling on the privileges of the Parliament. The American Congress should be quite as careful not to invade the constitutional privileges of the Executive. * * Both Houses have already virtually condemned these odious enactments, and even if it were ever so admissible to arrest their execution by the restriction proposed, it would be a more convenient and appropriate mode to de so by striking them from the statute book. In fact, if to tie up the hands of the President in the way proposed were entirely free from objection, Congress owes it to public decency to abrogate laws, so offensive to every notion of free government.

The reader will please to observe that the National Intelligencer calls the bogus laws indecent—the Senate calls them outrageous. Yet they were enacted by the Douglas, Stringfellow, Oliver and Atchison voters from Missouri.

☞ A new and handsome American Flag, bearing the names of Freemont and Dayton, has just been given to the breeze of National Republicanism, by Mr. John B. Hill, of Greenland — it being suspended across the road at the residence of Capt. James Hill.

This, we are told, is the only banner yet raised in that town; though it is said the Democrats are soon to hoist one.

Johnny Cook's Restaurant, Albany, N. Y., was robbed, Tuesday afternoon, of $90. The crime was committed by a young man who tended bar for him.

400 of Lane's men are stationed on the north side of Kansas river for the purpose of intercepting troops going to the relief of Lecompton.

Gen. Smith has gone with a large body of troops.

Gen. Richardson, with a large body of territorial militia has gone to the northwestern part of the territory to cut off Lane's retreat.

The mail carriers from Lecompton report Col. Titus at Lawrence, suffering from wounds received in the late attack on his house, and he is not expected to live.

Shocking excesses have been committed on the free State Settlers near Leavenworth.

Gov. Price, who had been in disturbed districts, has hurried home, in anticipation of despatches from the President, authorizing him to order out the militia, in which event he will take the field in person.

NEW YORK, AUG. 27th.— Reply to Mr. Choate's Letter.—Geo. W. Curtis has written a reply to Mr. Choate's letter to the Old Line Whigs of Maine, which will be published in a pamphlet in a few days.

Ex-Gov. Reeder on the State of Kansas.—It was a great gathering at the Tabernacle last evening, to hear ex Governor Reeder, of Kansas, discuss the affairs of that distracted Territory. The edifice was crowded. Edgar Ketchum presided. Gov. Reeder's address was of two hours' duration, and was a masterly exposition of the affairs of Kansas,

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThâS 6m.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

☞ We understand that the Fremont Mass Meeting at M on Wednesday, was a very great assembly. We heard the number stated at 25,000;—but this seems improbable. Half that number would be a great gathering.

☞ The Boston papers contain glowing accounts of the great Fremont barbecue, held at Needham, Mass., on Tuesday. Some of them estimate the gathering at 30,000. The Boston Courier, which is not very favorable to that movement, says those who originated the meeting had very good cause to be satisfied with it.

"If you are Coming, Why do you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family "If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan throughout the political world, and the "Old Fogies" creeping along among the baggage wagons of the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?" Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?" If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It need to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood. Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and red cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?" If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that is the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before the are all gone?

CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY OF PRINTING. — Agreeably to previous notice, a meeting of our city printers and other gentlemen interested in the matter, was held at the City Council Room on Wednesday evening, to consider the subject of celebrating the one hundredth Anniversary of the introduction of Printing into New Hampshire.

Hon, Richard Jenness was chosen as Chairman of the meeting, and Samuel Gray, Esq. Secretary.

Remarks were made by Rev. Dr. Peabody, of the North American Review; C. W. Brewster, Esq of the Jonrnal; E. N. Fuller, Esq. of the Gazette, Rev. T. H. Miller, of the Chronicle; and Messrs. Robert Morrison, Jenness, Gray, and others.

It was the evident and earnest desire of the meeting, to have the celebration; and to hold it in Portsmouth, where the first printing-press was set up and the first newspaper struck off, in the State. The time proposed is in the last week of September.

A Committee was chosen to carry out this purpose, consisting of the following gentlemen:

Richard Jenness, Edward N. Fuller, Ichabod Goodwin, Charles W. Brewster, Frank W. Miller, Robert Morrison, Samuel Gray.

The Meeting adjourned, subject to the call of this Committee.

☞ On Tuesday afternoon, at Kittery, Navy Yard Village, a little daughter of A. A. Hayes, fell from a third story window, upon a dog. Both child and dog were badly hurt, —and but for the dog, the child would probably have been killed.

On the same day, Mr. Frank Fernald of this city, carpenter, cut his foot badly, at the Navy Yard.

On Wednesday, Mr. Abraham Brooks, of Eliot, quarterman of carpenter's laborers on the Navy Yard, had his foot so badly crushed as to make it expedient to amputate several toes—which was performed by Dr. Delany.

☞ We understand that Mr. Wm. F. Laighton, carpenter in the U. S. Navy, waiting orders at this station, has been ordered to the frigate St. Lawrence, at Norfolk, Va.

DR. HEBBARD'S Poem on Kansas and Freedom, was finely delivered at the Temple on Wednesday evening, to an attentive audience.—It is a piece for the times, written with great spirit and force.

FREMONT MASS CONVENTION.—A special train on the P. & C. Railroad will leave Portsmouth at 6 o'clock, on Friday morning, 29th, for Wolfborough. Return 29th, 30th, or Sept. 1. Fare, from Portsmouth to Wolfborough and back, $2.20.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

A meeting of the Trustees of the Rocking Agricultural Society, 16th inst., voted that the next annual exhibition of the Society be held at Exeter, on Wednesday and Thursday, the 24th and 25th days of September next. The Hon. Allen W. Dodge, will deliver an address before the society on the 2d day of the exhibition.

The Committee of Arrangements at the Hall, consists of Messrs. Amos Tuck, Joseph G. Hoyt, S. H. Stevens, J. T. Porter, Adoniram J. Towle, Benj. L. Merrill, Alva Wood, J. W. Clark, Thomas Conner, Charles G. Conner, John P. Allison, John E. Gardner, and John K. Cilley. Retire H. Parker, Esq., will have charge of the Field, provide forage for stock, &c.

A list of Judges, to award premiums, were appointed and will be published.

All are invited, whether members of the society or not, to present at the show, animals and products of the farm, fabrics of the manufactory, workshop and household.

On Wednesday, the first day of the exhibition, at 10 o'clock, A. M., a procession will be formed, passing through some of the principal streets of Exeter up to the field heretofore occupied by the Society, near the Depot.

All animals and articles intended for exhibition should be presented and entered with the Secretary, at or before 10 o'clock A. M., on Wednesday, that they may be examined on that day by the several committees having charge of those subjects.

Manufactures, flowers, fruit, products of the dairy, vegetables, &c., will be displayed at the new Town Hall. The Hall will be open for the admission of the public on Wednesday afternoon and evening, and also on Thursday all day and evening.

All animals entered for premiums or exhibition, will be kept during the exhibition at the expense of the Society.

A prominent feature in the exhibition will be the "Plowing Match,"—and as the premiums awarded by the Trustees are extremely liberal, it is anticipated that the competitors for the prizes offered for the best plowing, (not the quickest) will be more numerous than heretofore. The large premiums offered were designed to exert a deeper interest in the farmers of old Rockingham in this important branch of agriculture,—and it is hoped that the inducements offered by the Board will tend to accomplish so important a result.

The premiums to be awarded on plowing, are as follows:

First Plow and Plowman,		$20 00
Second "	"	15 00
Third "	"	12 00
Fourth "	"	8 00
Fifth "	"	5 00

Competitors of the Plowing Match must own their respective oxen; and the plowman, if not the owner, must have been employed on the owner's farm for not less than 2 months previous. Those who intend to compete for the prizes are requested to give notice to the Secretary ten days before the Fair, that a suitable field may be procured. Persons not members of the Society, will be required to pay an entry fee of $5.00—the payment of which sum will also entitle the person paying the same to a badge of membership.

WM. P. MOULTON, Sec'y.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, Aug. 26.

SENATE.—In the Senate to-day, Mr. Crittenden gave notice of a bill for the pacification of Kansas, and Mr. Weller introduced the bill on the same subject, of which he gave notice yesterday.

A debate ensued: Mr. Mason of Virginia, in a haughty, overseer-like style,—said "the proposition seemed to be introduced now as a concession to the House, which had engrafted a measure they knew to be obnoxious to the Senate," but he "would move to lay upon the table every proposition of that kind until those who were endeavoring to carry into effect their revolutionary purposes should be reduced to submission, and be forced to desist from their efforts to overturn the government.

[That is, we presume, till the House should do exactly as the President or Mr. Mason says.]

Mr. Mason said after the army bill had passed, if it should pass at all, he would listen with great respect to such propositions, and deliberate upon their propriety; but never until then, would he entertain the subject for a moment. He moved that the bill and amendment be tabled.

Mr. Weller urged him to withdraw the motion, as he wished to speak on the subject, and Mr. Mason acquiesced

Mr. Weller said he was one of the last Senators that would sympathize with the House in its factious course on the army bill. The only object which he had in view was to do what the Senate had done some three or four weeks ago, and the bill which he offered was no more nor less than one section of that bill which the Senate had passed, but which, for some reason or other, had been suffered to slumber on the Speaker's table; but as the House finds so much fault with the oppressive laws of Kansas, and he would admit some of them were oppressive and infamous as any laws which had found their way upon the statute book of a free people in any age of the world, why should the Senate hesitate to declare them null and void, as he had declared many of them were, not only in derogation of organic law, but of the Constitution of the United States? Freedom of speech was guaranteed by the Conititution, but by some of these laws it is denied. When he found laws which were in conflict with the Constitution, he did not choose to wait for the judiciary, but wanted to wipe them out at once.

Mr. Butler regarded it as a subject which was somewhat delicate to meddle with, and thought the attempt to legislate would involve us in greater difficulties than those now existing. If the laws were unconstitutional, they were void without any act of Congress to declare them so, and the proper tribunal would settle these questions. He deprecated the idea of holding out anything like concession to the House.

Mr. Brown pursued a similar line of argument. He was willing to admit that these laws were unconstitutional, and that, therefore, Congress was bound to blot them out of the statute book. Some of them were unjust and outrageous, to be sure; but some of the laws of Virginia might be outrageous, too; and was that a reason why Congress should interpose to prevent their execution? The people who make their own laws are the best judges of what they need, and, after giving them the right to make their own laws, Congress had no power to interfere and overthrow them. If Congress could do that, it might as well make laws itself for the government of the territories, and abandon the idea altogether of popular government.

HOUSE.—The proceedings in the House were of no great consequence. The committee on the McMuller and Granger quarrel were discharged, and that farce ended.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—[Correspondence of the New York Herald.]—Mr. Crittendon gave notice of a bill which he should introduce to-morrow, annulling the objectionable laws of Kansas, and re-organizing the territory by transferring the legislative powe to the Governor and Judges, and abolishing the Legislature. This was the system under which the old Territories existed and operated.

The Senate held another caucus immediately after the adjournment, to-day, to consider Senator Weller's proposition. They finally agreed to adopt it now, inasmuch as they had twice before presented it to the House, and they had refused to take any action on it. I am informed this evening, that the Secretary of War has issued orders to the various armories, owing to the present condition of the Army bill, to discharge all the employees, as there is no money to pay them. Mr. Stehpens of Ga, and Mr. McQueen of S. C., have each a resolution, which they tried to get in to day, and which will be submitted to-morrow, to adjourn sine die on Wednesday at 12 o'clock.

CHICAGO, August 26.—An immense Republican demonstration, by some 6000 Germans, took place here last night. Judge Hall of Cincinnati was the principal speaker.

Kansas Affairs.—Advices from Leavenworth up to Thursday state that Lawrence was still unharmed, and 1000 men, completely armed, were ready to defend it at a moment's warning.

Percy Walker, of Alabama, recently declared in Congress that "he would go in for a dissolution of the Union if the Missouri Compromise were restored." Immediately after this declaration he announced his intention of supporting Buchanan. He had before been a Fillmore man.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 26.—Steamer Daniel Webster has arrived at the Balize. She brings San Fransisco dates of the 5th and Aspinwall of the 20th August. The Illinois left Aspinwall on the latter date for New York, with a million and a half dollars, and 500 passengers.

Business dull at San Fransisco.

The Vigilance Committee was in full force. They had made many additional arrests, and executed two persons since the departure of the last steamer.

EASTON, Pa., Aug. 26.—One span of the Lehigh Valley Railroad bridge, across the Delaware river, at this place, gave way this morning, while two engines were passing over it. One of the engines was precipitated into the Morris Canal, a distance of sixty feet, and the other caught on an abutment. There were six persons in the engine at the time of the disaster. Two of them escaped injury, two were severely hurt, and two were killed.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gobl Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crowley" A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladie, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others), will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thrown upon him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are now saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, or the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water conveyance, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

AN ECLIPSE.—The editor of the Saratogian, thus describes it:

We suppose the occultatian of the planet Jupiter took place Monday night. Astronomers said it would, and they generally guess about right on those matters. We didn't see the performance, however, although, with true devotion to science, we had determined upon doing so. About 11 o'clock we placed ourself bolt upright in our easy chair, with our head propped by a pillow, and armed with a formidable Havana, prepared to see it out. We fixed our eyes upon the moon, that we might not miss the slightest appearance of a phenomenon. The smoke, as it left our mouth, floated idly out of the opened windows, and seemed to curl in fantastic shapes around the luminous mass, until it looked like a bunch of oiled rags warming in a camphene lamp. Anon, it removed further and further, and a radiant circle of light shot from its rim, until we seemed to be looking into a huge telescope, at the other end of which a brilliant illumination was going on. Then it wavered, and flickered, and danced to and fro, and seemed bent upon knocking all the other planets in the vicinity into a regular heap of illumined misappropriation. Then the homely fellow up there, commenced making faces at us; such horrible grins and contortions as were never seen before.—Then the planets seemed to be having a grand ball. Jupiter, Cynthia, Vulcan, Taurus, and all the other luminaries footing it in fine style. Then they all seemed to get ashamed of themselves suddenly, became as quiet as mice, drew a great white counterpane over their heads, and—

We looked up. It was four o'clock.—The moon was way over on the other side of our dwelling. Our cigar had buried itself in the folds of our buff vest, and its embers had died in a fraternal embrace with our clean white bosom. The silence of Nature in general and mankind in particular, convinced us that it was time to retire, and we crawled over the sheets, fully impressed with the conclusion that if there had been an occultation we hadn't seen it.

AN EXTREMITY.—The New York Musical Review tells the following good anecdote of one of the chaps who wear other people's clothes:

Notwithstanding the large salaries paid to Italian opera soloists, it seems they can not always keep clear of pecuniary embarrassments. A member of the late troupe of the N. Y. Academy, and a great favorite with the ladies, found himself in an awkward predicament a few days since, from want of the needful. The Signor, it seems, has been living on his wits for some time past; but his stock of that article has not sufficed to carry him safely through until Max again opens the doors of the opera-house. This gentleman had ordered a coat from his tailor's, which, in all confidence, was sent home in due time. By some accident, however, it did not fit the singer's rather unusual figure, and a few days after its receipt he wore it down Broadway and stopped at the shop to make an exhibit of the demerits of his garment. Unluckily for its wearer, the maker had meantime a hint given him that the pay might be a long time coming; so when the Signor showed the misfit of the coat, the man of the scissors very readily coincided in opinion, and requested that the garment be removed for better inspection. But no sooner was the coat off, than the Signor, to his surprise, saw it neatly folded and placed in a drawer, with an intimation of "cash-down" terms. The walk home, displaying his rotund figure in his shirt-sleeves, must have been more comfortable (in this hot weather) than pleasant to the renowned vocalist.

BROTHERLY LOVE.

No distance breaks the tie of blood;
Brothers are brothers evermore;
Nor wrong, nor wrath of deadliest mood,
That magic may o'erpower.
Oft are the common source be known,
The kindred drops will claim their own,
And throbbing pulses silently
Move heart towards heart by sympathy.

So is it with true Christian hearts:
Their usual share in Jesus' blood
An everlasting bond imparts,
Of holiest brotherhood.
Oh might we all our lineage prove.—
Give and forgive—do good and love;
By soft endearments in kind strife,
Lightening the load of human life.—Keble.

Rev. Dr. Bushnell, having received an invitation to remove to another field of labor, wrote a reply, in which occurs the following passage, worth pondering by pastors and people everywhere. Dr. B. says:

I am a christian pastor holding a very peculiar relation to my flock, because of their most honorable constancy and fidelity towards me in time of public trial. I can never think it honorable, either to me or religion, that I should leave them, unless by the compulsion of stern necessity. Whenever it is clear that I can be of no service longer to them, they will be glad, I am sure, to have me placed, if possible, where I can serve others.

THE NEW ORLEANS GALE.—The Crescent of the 19th says, it is now a settled conviction that the steamer Nautilus, and all on board, perished in the disastrous storm of the 10th inst. Among the passengers on board the Nautilus, we understand, were the following persons belonging to New Orleans, viz:—Rev. Jerome Twitchell, Mr. N. Pereliat, merchant, Capt. Wm. Muir, U. S. Inspector of Boilers, Andy Mayhew, police officer. There were in all, 30 passengers on board.

The great storm in the Gulf Coast of Louisiana has damaged the sugar cane and the corn in the Attakapas region. At Franklin, the roof was blown from the Odd Fellows' Hall.

The Planter's Banner says:—"The cane and corn crop is almost totally ruined. We have been told that on many plantations the cane has been twisted off and blown all over the field. An accurate account of all the losses sustained by the storm cannot yet be had; but, as far as we can obtain information, the loss to the citizens of our parish cannot be less than half a million of dollars. In addition to the destruction of sugar houses, we have been told that along the whole extent of the bayou there is scarcely a sugar house standing.

Several of the persons supposed to have been lost on Lest Island have been picked up.

Six of the pirates who stripped the dead bodies there have been arrested, and a large amount of money and jewelry recovered.

A correspondent, writing to the Savannah Republican from Holmesville, Appling Co., Ga., states that a white man, who had been visiting a liquor shop in that neighborhood, was returning home on horseback very much intoxicated, when his horse took fright at a large rattlesnake in the road, and threw him on the reptile, which struck at him, inserting his fangs in four different parts of his body. Getting away from the snake he drew from his pocket a brandy-bottle, and drank the contents. The next day he is said to have been as well as if nothing had happened to him.

Brooks of South Carolina got drunk in Washington on Wednesday night, and hunted round for Messrs. Sage and Morgan, of New York, in order, as he said, to pull their noses and break their heads. He didn't find them, and the next day he became sober and expressed his regret at the occurrence.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1856.

WHAT IT WAS ALL ABOUT.—The Mobile papers of Saturday last give further particulars of the expulsion of Messrs. Strickland & Upson, booksellers, from that city. The Advertiser says that the books they sold, it would be not only injudicious but unsafe to make public. The Register says that they were of the most incendiary and insurrectionary character. We learn, however, from another source, that the objectionable book was Frederick Douglas's "My Bondage and My Freedom," a copy of which, secretly obtained from Messrs. Strickland & Upson, had been found in the hands of a slave.

Of the expelled firm, one was a Scotchman and the other an Englishman; and they have made $60,000 since they have been in business in Mobile.

The Herald says of this book of Douglass:

"It aims at immediate emancipation at any cost, and insurrection at any hazard. 'The crushed worm,' says Douglass, 'may yet turn under the heel of the oppressor. Those sable arms that for the last two centuries have been engaged in cultivating and adorning the fair fields of our country, may yet become the instruments of terror, desolation, and death throughout our borders. Let the slaveholder,' continues he, 'be made to feel that at every step he takes 'with the hellish purpose' of reducing a brother man to slavery, he is running the risk of having his hot brains dashed out by an invisible hand.'"

No wonder the Mobile people were alarmed and excited. With a powder magazine beneath them, which some have called the foundation or corner stone of our republic,—how naturally they dread a torch or even a spark from an incendiary book or paper. And how careful they will be of books and book-sellers hereafter. They will have, we suppose, an Index Expurgatorius,—and an inspector of books,—but there is probably no safety except in prohibiting the sale of books and papers altogether.

What a blessed institution! why can't we copy it in New Hampshire?

MR. CASS DID NOT SAY IT.—The telegraph, a day or two since, reported Gen. Cass as saying that the Senate were trying to "dictate to the House" relative to the Army Bill. We knew it was a false report—and so did the Black Republicans; but in this city, so eager were they to use it before it could be contradicted, they issued a scurrilous hand bill announcing the fact! The following is the true report as we find it in the New York Herald, of Saturday:

Mr. Cass, (dem.) of Mich., regarded this as the most solemn crisis that had ever occurred in the history of the country, and he expressed the hope that the people would awake to the sense of their danger before it was too late.

Mr. Wade said instead of the House trying to dictate to the Senate, the Senate were in fact trying to dictate to the House. He urged the propriety of receding, so as to pass bills.

We have not the slightest hope that the black republicans will rectify the error. Such an act of fairness would infringe on their settled principles of action.—Portland Argus, 26th.

Those Black Republicans of whom the Argus here speaks, must be a very wicked people. Its neighbor of the Advertiser is not one of them, for the Advertiser of the same day, viz. the 26th, contains the correction. The Boston Chronicle is not one, for it corrects the error on the same day. The Portsmouth Chronicle is not one of them, for we believed the story, tho' the Argus says the Black Republicans knew it was false. We did not know it—on the contrary we supposed the old gentleman might have spoken such a plain truth. But we will make it all right now, by saying we are very sorry he did not speak on the side of truth and justice, as it was reported.

The Texas Legislature has passed a set of resolutions endorsing the character of Hon. D. S. Terry, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court of California, who was arrested by the Vigilance Committee. Judge Terry was formerly a citizen of Texas, and has many warm friends there. The resolutions request the Texas Representatives in Congress to use their utmost efforts with the Executive to induce him to employ such constitutional means as he can to secure for Judge Terry a fair and legal trial. The citizens of Houston have held a public meeting to express their sympathy with Judge Terry.—Traveller.

Exactly: and the people of South Carolina, including some of the slaves, expressed their sympathy with Brooks and Butler.—Their legislature might have done the same thing, if it had been in session.

☞ The Manchester American of the 26th, speaks of the Fremont Mass Meeting there on that day, as one of the greatest gatherings which has ever been held in this State.

There was a great Buchanan meeting there the evening before, which the Mirror calls a rousing meeting, the most enthusiastic the Democrats have held in that city since the Jubilee after the defeat of John Atwood.

The same paper says one speech was "by Geo. W. Stevens, of Laconia, who bolted from the Democratic party with John P. Hale, has been a Hindoo, and now returns to the Democrats."

Rev. Lauren Armsby, of Chester, has received a call to become the pastor of the Congregational church in Fairbault, Minnesota Territory.

CATHOLIC PAPERS.—The St. Louis Leader boasts that all the Catholic papers in the United States, except the Celt, support Buchanan and the extension of slavery.

EXECUTIONS IN ENGLAND.—Wm. Dove, who was tried for poisoning his wife with strychnine, and found guilty, but recommended to mercy by the jury, on the ground of a defective intellect, his defence being that he had an "uncontrollable impulse" to murder his wife, and was not responsible, was executed at York, England, on the 3d of August, in the presence of from twenty to thirty thousand spectators. He made full confession, before his execution, saying he used strychnine, to which his attention had been called by the case of Palmer. He was married in 1852, his wife being the daughter of a wealthy merchant, with whom, on account of his intemperate habits, he had lived unhappily.—There were numerous applications for the office of executioner. The Liverpool Mercury says:—

To give some idea of the excitement which the execution of Dove produced in the minds of the public, it may be stated that on Thursday evening there was a terrible crush in a certain quarter of York to catch a glimpse—to have a touch of the rope with which the murderer was to be hanged. And on Friday there was an equally prevailing anxiety evinced to see the coffin in which the body of Dove was to be deposited prior to its burial within the precincts of the castle after the execution. Mr. T. Taylor, of St. Andrewgate, has had to prepare the encasement for the mortal remains of this culprit of world-wide notoriety, and his workshops were beset with applicants to inspect it. Trains, heavily loaded, from Leeds and other places in the country, arrived as early as Friday evening with passengers who were anxious to witness the execution of one who, unfortunately, along with perhaps a greater criminal than himself—Palmer—had rendered himself so notorious in the country.

On the same day, at Dorchester, England, Elizabeth Martha Brown was executed for the murder of her husband. The deceased and his murderer had been fellow-servants, and she murdered him with a hatchet, from motives of jealousy. There was a great disparity in their ages. He was 20 and she was 40.

POLITICS VS. TEMPERANCE.—The Cincinnati Crusader has the following remarks upon the "danger ahead" to the temperance cause, and to reformed temperance men, from the exciting political contest that is pervading the land. Says the editor:

It is on occasions like the present that the great and holy cause of Temperance suffers those shocks and revulsions that have so often checked its onward progress, and for the time discouraged and disheartened its most steadfast and hopeful friends. The cause suffers not only by being made secondary, and of minor importance by many of its advocates, but often from their entire apostacy and withdrawal from our ranks; but the most deplorable consequences growing out of these heated political excitements, are the dangers and temptations that are thrown in the way of our reformed brethren by the hireling political parties who go about buying votes for their more wary and careful, but no less unprincipled leaders. Thousands have thus been annually ruined, and their families made dependent upon the cold charities of the world for their subsistence.

To which the New Jersey Reformer adds:

It is undoubtedly true that a Presidential election, with its excitements and temptations, and the opportunities it affords to reckless party men to intrigue by the most despicable means for the success of their candidates, is the source of a deplorable amount of dissipation, and the stepping-stone to the destruction of thousands of our fellow citizens. It should be a matter of principle with every voter who deprecates such results, to let it be known that no party or candidate shall have his support, directly or indirectly, if guilty of these disreputable practices.

GOOD AGAIN.—We have a good deal of fun with the letters of all sorts, which we receive from the old subscribers to the Phenix. Here is a good one.

NASHUA, Aug. 25th, 1856.

Enclosed please find $2 00, to settle bill, according to your circular sent me some days since; and discontinue the paper, as I have no time to read it—and further, I never subscribed for it. According to your statement, I owe you $1 42. Yours truly,

F. C. M.

☞ The Rockingham Convention of Universalists at Kensington, was well attended, the weather being very favorable. The opening sermon, on Wednesday morning, was by Rev. Mr. Chambre, of Newark; and the sermon in the afternoon was by Rev. D. M. Reed of Newburyport. the evening was devoted to conference.

SPRINGFIELD ARMORY.—A dispatch from from Springfield, Mass., Aug. 27th, says, that an order from Washington had just reached that place, to discharge all workmen, and other employees not holding commissions from the president, whose pay, wages or salaries are taken from the Appropriation for the Manufacture of arms at the National Armories. The dispatch adds:

About 250 men were discharged under this order; the four principal officers and six watchmen are alone retained of the whole force employed. The rebuilding of the water shop department of the armory goes on without interruption for the present. The order was unexpected and created some excitement with armory workmen and citizens. The opponents of the administration believe that it was entirely unnecessary, and that the object is simply to drive the House into abandoning its proviso. Most of the armoriers are Fremont men, and they lift their voices with indignation against the administration for the proceedings.

"DEMOCRATIC FREMONT CLUB."—The black leaders are telling large stories about a club in this city composed of men who were formerly Democrats. It is sufficient to say that there is not a man among them who voted with us last March; every one of them left us two or three years ago — Concord, N. H., Patriot.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25.—At a Kansas meeting held yesterday, the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, That, as organized bands of desperate men have invaded Kansas for the purpose of expelling or exterminating peaceable, law-abiding citizens, and, in carrying out the said purpose, have been guilty of arson, robbery and murdering of inoffensive citizens while engaged in their lawful pursuits; women and children have been driven from their homes, rendered widows, orphans, houseless and penniless; therefore

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the sufferers, and are willing to extend them shelter and protection, and whatever aid may be required, to supply their necessities; that we condemn the spirit of bigotry of the lunatical Abolitionists, which has produced this state of things: that a committee of ten be appointed to gain proper information; and, if thought advisable, to visit Kansas and report if they recommend the raising of relief funds; and if so, that a committee be appointed to effect that object, and appropriate properly the funds raised; that, in no event, will we sanction any interference or action against the Constitution, or anything not warranted by law and right: that we desire the interposition of the federal government to subdue insurrection and protect the rights of citizens in the territories.

From the above proceedings, it will be seen that Anti-Abolitionists in St. Louis, do not doubt, (as some papers in New England pretend to,) whether much crime or outrage has been committed in Kansas. The Boston Chronicle of the 27th, thus sums up the news from that quarter:

The smoke of Ruffian lies has so far cleared away that we now know the long suffering free State settlers of Kansas have not departed from their policy of submitting to the tyranny of the Federal government. Robinson and his fellow prisoners have not been rescued, as they most righteously might be. Neither has Lecompton or any other town been taken or sacked. The free State men have only broken up the camp of marauders that murdered Hoyt at Franklin, and taken the blockhouse of Col. Titus near Lecompton—a fortress which he had wrongfully built on a claim belonging to a free State man. All this was done under the noses of the U. S. Dragoons, and they did not interfere to prevent it. Indeed, they were first asked by the free State man to do it for them, and they seem to have been quite sensible that they ought to have done it, but they were probably under orders not to make themselves too useful in protecting the settlers. It was obviously the game of the Missourians, with which the Dragoons were not to interfere, to provoke the free State men to resistance, and then sound the tocsin and raise the blue-lodges. It has been done, and, before this, probably two or three thousand Missourians, armed and provisioned, are ravaging the territory. Convinced that they will be beaten at the ballot-box, the slavery propagandists have doubtless determined to pour ruffians into Kansas, and subdue it to slavery before November.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuTh&S 6m.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

Not only cures every species of lung complaints but exerts a very powerful influence on a DISEASED LIVER. In this complaint it has undoubtedly, proved more efficious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients have endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when the resort to mercury has been vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected permanent cures, after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to every body and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are in fact the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

ANGELS IN PETTICOATS.—A funny correspondent of the Portland Transcript says:

"I have recently gin up all idea of women folks, and come back to perlitical life. I am more at hum in this line, than in hunting the fair seckts. Aingils in petticoats an' kiss-me-quicks, is pretty to look at, I give in; but blow 'em, they are slippery as eels, and when you have stuffed 'em with pea-nuts, candy and doggertypes, they'll throw you away as they would a cold tater— leastwise, that's my experience. But I've done with them now.—The Queen Sheber, the sleepin' beauty, Kleopatry's Needle, Pompey's Pillar, an' Lot's wife, with a steam engine to help 'em, could not tempt me. The very sight of a bonnet riles me all over."

The Haverhill Gazette relates that a large dog belonging to James B. Brickett of that town, was accidentally fastened beneath the plank floor of a building in process of construction in the rear of Merrimac street, on the afternoon of July 26th, where he remained till the morning of August 16th, twenty-one days, without tasting of a particle of food or water. "Turk's" weight, at the time of entering this prison, was sixty-eight pounds. When he came out he weighed eighteen lbs. less.

FUGITIVE SLAVES.—A mother and six children recently passed through Elmira, N. Y., for Canada. The husband and father had preceded them long enough to provide a comfortable home in Hamilton, C. W. On the 10th inst. seven slaves made their escape from the vicinity of Parkersburg, Va.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a rare collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the granting of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules and practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections &c.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly adapted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the sward by broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 8 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—and any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

At a meeting held on Thursday, of the Committee of Arrangements chosen at the citizens' meeting on Wednesday evening, to decide the matter and manner of celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the introduction of Printing into New Hampshire,—it was voted to appoint a sub-committee of three gentlemen, to wait upon those of our citizens supposed to feel interested in this occasion; to raise by subscription, a sum sufficient to carry the celebration through creditably. This soliciting committee consists of Messrs. Charles W. Brewster, Edward N. Fuller, and Frank W. Miller; who will accordingly circulate this subscription-paper on Saturday. It is designed to have a public Oration, Dinner, &c.,—to which guests from abroad will be invited: natives of this city and State now holding high positions connected with the Art, and others. Our "press gang" abroad is very large, and second to none otherin ability and fame.

It is certainly desirable to have the gathering here—where it belongs; and we have no doubt a liberal sum can be easily raised.—At least $500 will be needed, to provide the dinner, with music, and other general expenses. The citizens of Manchester are very desirous of having the celebration there, and would gladly pay well for it—and also those of Concord; but will cheerfully submit to our pre-emption right, and join with us here. Let us have the "Sons" reception over again.

BOY DROWNED IN KITTERY.—On Saturday last, Carlton Deering, aged 14 years, a son of Capt. Isaac Deering, fell overboard from a boat which he was sculling across the the cove near Mr. Seawards', at Kittery Point, and was drowned. His father is away at sea, and cannot yet have heard the sad tidings. A.

MR. WILLIAM A. GOVE.—We are much gratified to learn that many of our citizens who have thus far been applied to, have cordially contributed to the aid of this worthy young man, to whose sad condition we referred, Tuesday. We doubt not that others, who have not as yet been applied to, will exhibit the same readiness to those who kindly volunteer to solicit aid in his behalf.

WASHINGTON, Aug 27.—The following is one of the letters from Gen. Smith read in the Senate by Mr. Cass:

Fort Leavenworth, Aug. 14.—I have received a letter from Gov. Shannon, asking me to take the field with the whole disposable force in the Territory, to prevent the ingress of Lane's party by the northern boundary of the Territory. The information given to the Governor has been so exaggerated, and is, to my knowledge, so incorrect, that I decline making a movement that would introduce as much disorder as existed six weeks ago.—Capt. T. J. Wood, with his company of cavalry, is upon the northern frontier, and I shall depend upon his reports to govern my action.

Some of the companies along the Kansas were sent by the commanding officer there, at the request of the Governor, to break up the camps of armed men at several places he designated. On the arrival of the troops at the points designated, not only were no camps found, but none had ever existed there, or any where else in the neighborhood. I know that each party is training to engage the action of the troops to expel their adversaries, and I place no dependence on the reports that do not come from what I consider good authority.

Your obedient servant,
PERSIFER F. SMITH.

The new Com. of Conference on the Army Bill met this afternoon, but without coming to any determination, adjourned till 8 o'clock this evening. There is no prospect of agreement. The Democrats think themselves strong enough to pass the bill without the proviso. They hear they have gained three votes since yesterday.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—The following, dated Lawrence Aug. 23, has been received here:—The Quaker Mission, on the road from Westport to this place, was attacked by a band of Georgians yesterday. They plundered the place, taking all the horses they could find.—They insulted the inmates, and said they would take some women to their camp. The people of the Mission had to flee. Gen. Shannon made a treaty here a few days ago, by which there was an interchange of prisoners, and the gun taken at Lawrence last May was given up. This was done through the mediation of the dragoons and peace was supposed to be concluded. It is said that Missouri has raised 2000 men to send into Kansas. If the the Missourians try to burn Lawrence, there will be a fight.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 27.

SENATE.—Mr. Cass presented letters from Gen. Persifer F. Smith, which he obtained at the War Department, giving an account of the movements of the U. S. troops in Kansas. The letters were redd.

Gen. Smith states that the reports which have been going the rounds of the newspapers are gross fabrications, and that the troops have not done anything to interfere with the citizens, except to guard the prisoners charged with treason.

The Senate proceeded to consider the bill introduced yesterday by Mr. Weller, to repeal certain laws of the Kanzas Legislature.

Mr. Hunter moved to lay the bill on the table, (for the purpose of taking up the army bill.) After debate, it was agreed, 28 to 11.

YEAS—Messrs. Adams, Allen, Bayard, Benjamin, Brodhead, Briggs, Bigler, Bright, Brown, Butler, Cass, Clay, Dodge, Douglas, Geyer, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson, Jones of Tenn., Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Pratt, Pugh, Reid, Sebastian, Toucey, Weller.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell of Tenn., Clayton, Crittenden, Foote, Foster, Harlan, Houston, Seward, Trumbull, Wade, Wilson.

The Senate then proceeded to consider the Army bill.

Mr. Hunter moved the Senate insist, and ask another conference. He had no doubt of his parliamentary right to make this motion.

This would give the House two more opportunities to vote upon the question. When the bill should go back to the House, if there should be a majority in that body in favor of passing the bill in the usual form, they would have a chance to recede, or if another Committee of Conference should be appointed and be unable to agree, when that fact should be reported to the House, there would still be a chance to take another vote upon receding.

Mr. Bell of Tennessee, took this opportunity to ask Mr. Cass whether he understood from those letters which he had caused to be read this morning, there were at this time no disturbances in Kanzas.

Mr. Cass replied that they were the latest official returns that had been received at the War Department, and they showed what had been the conduct of the military there. As to the subsequent telegraphic reports, there might be some foundation for them, although it was very probable that the actual condition of things was exaggerated.

Mr. Bell said, twice before he had been led to suppose all the difficulties were terminated, from information derived from the Executive Departments, and from officers in command in Kansas, that there were ample forces to suppress all disorder. Upon both those occasions, however, it turned out that he had been deceived, and he did not wish to be deceived again. If difficulties exist there, as he was afraid was the case, he hoped that measures would be taken to restore tranquillity, and he hailed with pleasure the movement of the Senator from Virginia (Hunter) for another Committee of Conference on this bill.

Mr Clayton was glad to hear the motion of the Senator from Virginia, but he thought it would have been much better to start right and pursue a straight forward course than to go wrong, and have to back out. The majority of the Senate were wrong the other day when they undertook to adhere to their disagreement on a bill precisely like this, and he hoped they would not agree to another Committee of Conference. He proceeded to comment with much severity on what he termed the infamous laws of the Kansas Legislature, saying they should be repealed before the adjournment of Congress, and if the Senate refuse to take that step, the responsibility must rest upon them. One of those laws sentenced a man to hard labor for not less than two years, for discussing the question whether slavery does or does not legally exist in Kansas. It was not less than two years, but it might be fifty years, and if a man should live to the age of Methuselah, he might be confined nine hundred and odd years for that offence.

This was as tyrannical an act as was ever passed by the Stuarts, Tudors, or Plantagenets of England. These laws also require test oaths to support the Fugitive Slave Law, and there were hundreds of honest men in the Union, who, while they never intended to resist that law, would never take an oath to support it. Such laws as these he characterized as infamous and oppressive, and there were others as bad as these, and unless the Committee of Conference should go their whole length and repeal these abominable laws, the responsibility of refusing will rest upon the Senate as well as the House.

Mr. Weller read extracts from the Congressional Globe, of debates in former years on Appropriation bills, to show that the course of the House in inserting the Kansas proviso was neither unprecedented nor unparliamentary, and that the Senator from Virginia himself (Hunter) had voted for measures of general legislation when inserted in appropriation bills. Then there was no pretence that such action was revolutionary or factious; but now the cry is raised that the responsibility of defeating the Army bill must rest upon the House of Representatives, in consequence of its proviso, to which the Senate refuses to agree. The Senator from Virginia, the other day, moved to adhere, and said he was willing to let the issue go before the country, and take the responsibility; but now the majority dared not accept the issue, and were willing to ask another conference, and that Senator took the lead and made the motion.

This was neither more nor less than backing out, and it showed their position was untenable. He proceeded to read extracts from articles written by James Madison in the Federalist, to show it was the right of the House to refuse appropriations unless their equality as one branch of the national legislature was conceded by the Senate.

The motion of Mr. Hunter was then agreed to by yeas 33, nays 6.

NAYS—Messrs. Durkee, Foster, Harlan, Trumbull, Wade, Wilson.

Messrs. Hunter, Crittenden and Bigler were appointed the Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate.

HOUSE.—Various attempts were made to bring in bills, without success.

Mr. Smith of Virginia, moved a call of the House.

Motion disagreed to by 86 against 99.

Mr. Williams offered a resolution providing for the adjournment of Congress (the Senate concurring) on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Adopted—110 against 76.

Mr. Wheeler offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to report a bill which he proposed, being essentially the same with the omission of the Kansas proviso, as that heretofore acted upon for the support of the army, the Committee to have leave to report at any time.

Mr. Wheeler moved the previous question Mr. Washburn of Illinois, inquired what would be the effect of refusing to sustain the demand for the previous question.

The Speaker replied, if debate arise, the resolution must go over.

After taking a vote on seconding the demand for the previous question, the tellers reported—Ayes 94, noes 93.

The Speaker voted in the negative, making a tie, in which case the question was lost.

After some further debate, Mr. Vail rose to offer another resolution, but at this point the morning hour expired, and a message was received from the Senate, further insisting on its disagreement to the amendment of the House to the Senate amendment striking out the Kansas proviso to the Army bill, and asking a Committee of Conference.

On motion of Mr. Campbell of Ohio, the House further insisted on its amendment, and a Committee of Conference was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Campbell of Ohio, Stevens and Sherman.

Adjourned till to-morrow at 10 A. M. in order to afford ample time to finish the business of the session.

THURSDAY, 28th.

The House this morning passed the joint resolution passed in the Senate, appropriating $40,000 for the purchase of the ship Resolute, and presenting her to the British government. Mr. Campbell, from the Com. of Conference, reported that no compromise had been made, and he was satisfied the two houses would not agree on the bill, which would afford relief to Kansas. He had submitted to the conference the proposition that no money should be used for enforcing the enactments of the body claiming to be the Legislature of Kansas, leaving out the rest of the proviso, but the Senate Committee refused to accept even that compromise.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The President is under medical treatment for a slight attack of of chills and fever.

According to official despatches from General Smith, the disturbances in Kanzas are greatly exaggerated.

Col. Sumner has leave of brief absence. He has not yet responded to the demand of the Secretary of War, asking explanations relative to his late military conduct in Kansas.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all fraude or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. COAL LOCOMOTIVES.—After a variety of experiments, A. S. Adams, master machinist of the Boston & Worcester railroad, has now in operation a freight locomotive adapted to burning coal, which seems so well to meet the wants of the road that all the engines of the company, used in drawing freight, are to be altered to the same style. The engine in question, the "Bison," has one of the Delano grates, by which the coal is forced from the bottom up through the bed of the fire. This grate is but 38 inches in length, but by its manner of operation all the gas is consumed and the top of the bed of coal is kept always ignited, no new coal ever being thrown upon it. The draft is also kept good and is never obstructed by clinkers. Careful estimations of the precise cost of running this engine have been made, and it appears that with it for 12 cents per mile a common freight train can be run and make the usual speed. A wood engine to run the same train costs 30 cents per mile. The saving, as will be seen, is very great. The cost of altering a common wood engine to fit it for burning coal is but $150; and as we have before remarked, the Worcester Company have decided to have all their freight engines converted into coalers as speedily as possible.

A THIMBLE FOR MRS. FREMONT.—Messrs Ketcham & Brother, New York, says the Evening Post, have manufactured a "finger shoe," designed as a complimentary present to Mrs. Fremont. It is made of California gold, and the exterior surface is beautifully and ingeniously illustrated. It is divided into three sections, by as many pillars, on which are inscribed respectively the words, "Liberty, Justice, and Union." On the first section, Col. Fremont is represented planting the American flag on the Fremont Peak of the Rocky Mountains. In the second section, we have a view of the National Capitol at Washington; and in the third, an American eagle holding the national shield, with a belt, on which the name of "Jessie" is inscribed in German text. Around the rim the Republican mottoes, "Free Soil," "Free Speech," "Free Men," "Fremont," are engraved; the last name directly under and in the same style of lettering as "Jessie."

LIFE OF FILLMORE.—Wanzer, McKim & Co. of Buffalo, will publish, immediately, The Life of Hon. Millard Fillmore, by W. L. Barre, Esq., of Kentucky. The publishers say:

It will be published in one vol. 12mo. Cloth, with a fine steel plate, and will contain about 400 pages.

This work is not intended as a campaign or political document, but is a faithful and correct record of the rise and progress of a man whose course has been such as to create a bright example for American Youth and earn for himself a world-wide reputation and respect.

Col. Lane in his speech at Lafayette, Indiana, stated that there were more sawmills in Kansas than in the whole State of Missouri. Most of these were erected through the exertions of the "Massachusetts Aid Society." This is the way the Northern men have interfered with Kansas affairs.

A trotting match of twenty miles is to take place next month on the Union Course, Rochester. If anybody ought to be imprisoned for life, the men who will make such a match are pre-eminently deserving such a fate. The authorities who will allow such proceedings should meet with a like penalty.—[Saratogian.

CAN DO THEIR OWN KISSING.—Not a thousand miles from this village lives a very exacting landholder. He makes his tenants "come to time" on the day rent becomes due, will not relax his stern decree when a handsome woman is in question. Not long since he called for his rent of a very worthy mechanic, who by the way rejoices in the possession of a pretty little wife. The husband was not at home when Shylock called, and he was enchanted with the pretty little wife of the tenant. She could not liquidate the amount due; but the landlord, becoming really enamored, told her he would give her a receipt in full for just one kiss.

"Sir," said she, boiling with indignation, "myself and husband are very poor; perhaps we cannot pay our rent, but I tell you sir, we're not so poor but that we can do our own kissing."

Ain't that a glorious consolation for poor folks? The hardened creditor may take all their property, but he can't deprve them of the privilege of kissing.—[Elmira Gazette (N. Y.)

The white mechanics of South Carolina are getting jealous of the competition of slave mechanics and at Columbia have questioned the candidates for the legislature as to their opinion about a law to prevent the employment of slaves in mechanical trades.

Most of the candidates go for the right of the slave-owners to put their chattels to any profitable use without regard to the interests of white laborers, and one William Wallace meets the issue thus squarely: "Drive out the negro on account of his coming in competition with the white man in mechanical pursuits, and the same principle will force you to drive him out from competition in all kinds of labor. I need scarcely say that I am opposed to such a principle."

MRS. MALAPROP IN KENTUCKY.—Another Yankee schoolmaster came near being treated to a coat of tar and feathers in Kentucky lately, for having taught his scholars abolitionism. Before the "chivalrous" Kentuckians proceeded to extremities, however, they traced back the charge, and found that it emenated from a lecture on chemistry given by the schoolmaster, in which he explained the principles of ebullition, a word that a sensitive visitor construed into abolition!

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—An Irishman, name unknown, while walking upon the track of the Providence and Worcester Railroad near Woonsocket, was struck by the engine of the evening train from Worcester, yesterday, and instantly killed. The accident occurred on a curve in the road, so that the man could not be seen only a little distance ahead.—A woman, supposed to be his wife, was taken from the track a few moments previous in a state of extreme intoxication. The unfortunate man was also intoxicated.—[Providence Journal.

A DOUBLE-HEADED LIE!—Herbert was not at the Cincinnati convention, and did not go for Buchanan. He heads the K. N. electoral ticket in California.—Lawrence Sentinel.

A double-headed lie you have made of it, sure enough. Herbert was at the Cincinnati convention, and does not "head the k. n. electoral ticket in California." Even if he were a k. n., which he is not, he—as all members of Congress are—is ineligible to the office of elector.—Lowell News.

Thomas H. Clay, oldest son of Henry Clay, has been elected President of the Know Nothing Council of Kentucky. A brother of his is stumping the West for Buchanan.

METHODIST CAMP MEETING.

KENNEBUNK, Aug. 27, 1856.

Messrs. Editors:—We have never before attended a camp-meeting; and are satisfying our curiosity by witnessing the forms and methods of worship, amid the hundreds now here, and who annually assemble at this place. This grove is the largest and best we were ever in, and has long been famous for such gatherings. It is but half a mile from the depot, and three and a half miles from the village, from which carriages run every hour or so.

Monday was the day appointed for the commencement of the meeting; but most of the day was spent in erecting and arranging tents, &c. Yesterday (Tuesday) was a beautiful day, and the meeting commenced in earnest; the cars brought hundreds from various sections, and teams came loaded with people from this vicinity. In the afternoon it was estimated that 2000 persons were on the ground, and there are certainly no less than fifty tents or houses erected for the accommodation of those present. Some of the visitors are from Boston, and others as far east as Sacarrappa. Last evening we had quite an addition to our number, from Biddeford, Saco, and other places near; and the whole multitude gathered together in the open air to listen to an address from Rev. Mr. Willetts of Providence. It was a beautiful sight to see every tent illuminated, and lamps hanging upon the trees in every direction; and so many people, young and old, seated thus for worship. Mr. Willetts took his text from Jeremiah, 9th chapter, 1st verse:

"Oh that my head were water, and mine eyes a fountain of tears; that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughters of my people!"

He is a young man, but handled his subject in a very able and eloquent manner, and caused all to feel the truth and importance of what he said.

As usual, after a sermon in the evening, each company went to their respective tents and held meetings until ten o'clock, when every light was extinguished and all retired.

It is a rule that all on the ground shall rise at 5 o'clock in the morning; consequently this morning (it being my first at such a place) I found all life and activity on my arrival, at an early hour; while the good people in the city, no doubt, were quiet in sleep.

To-day (Wednesday) we are to hear quite a number of speakers, among which is Rev. Prof. Rest, now of Great Falls.

There is a large delegation here from Portsmouth, with their pastor, Rev. Mr. Holman. He has taken great interest in the meeting, and it is by his exertions that so many are here from our goodly city, and that their tent (which is one of the largest and best on the ground) is so well arranged and supplied with all things necessary for their comfort and ease. The Portsmouth delegation are very courteous, as usual; and by their invitation I am stopping under their own "vine and fig tree," and enjoying camp life with all its charms. Yours truly,

S. W. C.

Quite a suicidal mania appears to prevail in New York. On Saturday afternoon a Frenchman cut his throat, and also opened a vein in his arm and swallowed laudanum, at the house of Helena Braun, a milliner in Canal street, but he is likely to recover. He came to this country five years ago with 20,000 francs, but had lost it nearly all by land speculations.—He cohabited with the woman Braun, and had made his will in favor of her.

JEALOUSY AND MURDEROUS ASSAULT.—On Saturday evening, the police at New York arrested a German named John Dosher, for terribly beating with a bludgeon another German named Charles Cordez. It appears that Dosher was about to sail for California, and having long suspected his wife of infidelity, determined to test her virtue before his departure.

Accordingly, he says, he told her Saturday that he was going to be absent for a few days, instead of which he remained in the vicinity watching the house. Soon after his supposed departure, his wife sent a note to Cordez, and then left the house. He followed her, and saw her go into a saloon in Broadway with Cordez. In the evening he returned to his house, where he found the parties in bed together, and immediately fell upon the intruder with a club, and gave him a terrible beating. The wounded man is scarcely expected to recover.

☞ The Catholics of Newburyport, to the number of about 500, had a picnic in Georgetown, on Wednesday last. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasures of the day; and this may be said to their credit, no spirituous liquor was had, and not one intoxicated person was seen upon the grounds. Perhaps this was owing to the influence of the Temperance society which, the Herald states, the young men of the congregation have lately instituted.

Wednesday evening last, as Mr. [illegible]xbury, of Newburyport, was [illegible]ge of powder from a gun, it discharged, and the ball en-

CONSISTENCY.

RUM ADVERTISING.—We cannot understand from Uncle Toby's remarks, whether he considers his course in inserting advertisements like the one we alluded to a day or two since, defensible, or whether he regards the whole subject as unworthy of his attention. "Consistency—where is it?" he exclaims: and echo may well answer—"where?" for as we look around upon reformers and professors of all kinds, it is but too evident that it is but seldom found among them. But most men are anxious to be thought consistent—and perhaps no charge usually excites more indignation than that of inconsistency.

But we have no idea of writing a homily: all we have to say is this: that a person who publishes an advertisement of anything which he considers, and would denounce, as contrary to the laws of God and man, because it is profitable to do so, incurs, for aught that we can see, the same kind, if not the same degree of guilt, as one who lets his property for unlawful purposes, or encourages them by his countenance and support.

We suppose the object of advertising articles for sale, is to increase and extend their sales; the wider the circulation of the advertisements the greater the chance of such an effect. If one person is induced by this means to break the laws of God and man, to destroy his health and endanger his soul, does he who has done all in his power to circulate such an advertisement, incur no responsibility?

As we write, a miserable, degraded wretch staggers by our window, to fall the next moment to the earth, a helpless mass. Would Uncle Toby insert for his benefit, and the benefit of such as he, an advertisement of any of our dens of iniquity—"Rum by the glass! Cheap!! Warranted to turn a man into a brute at the least possible expense!" If not, why not, except that it might not be so profitable, as the patronage of a large and respectable Boston firm? Q.

Reply.—Uncle Toby has no course about advertising rum or anything else; inasmuch as he is not, and has not been for years, the proprietor or publisher of a newspaper: therefore he has no course to defend. When he was a publisher, many years ago, he did insert rum advertisements; and when, as he spoke against intemperance in his paper, quite as freely as he does now, the rum advertisements dwindled away to almost nothing, he had no tears to shed over their loss.

In his present position, as an editor, he performs certain duties, for which he receives stated wages—but it is not one of his duties to select, refuse, or insert advertisements. He said, plainly enough, as he thought, that he had no idea of defending the sale, use, or advertising of intoxicating drinks—but as editor, he admitted the attack of Q. upon those practices, and now admits a second attack of the same sort. And if anybody who sells, drinks, uses, or advertises the article, will bring a defence of the practice, written in the English language, he will publish that also.

He does not think any better of a great spirit shop than of a small one—no better of a genteel groggery than of a vulgar one—and would be glad to see them all deserted and shut up,—including the granite store of the respectable Boston firm.

The advertising, however, is not his business—nor within his control. U. T.

The publisher of the Chronicle would just say, that though by precept and habit a total abstinent, he can see no great inconsistency in admitting the said advertisement to his columns—at any rate, to us differing only in degree, not in kind, from the publishing of advertisements of cigars, tobacco, and some other articles, which for aught we know "Q." might tolerate. To a certain extent, the advertising columns of a newspaper are the property of the public; and if every publisher should apply to his paper the procrustean rule of his own opinion,—he might not accommodate a tenth of his patrons.

The probable effect of an action should always be considered. Now in this case, were liquors to be had only at this one place, we might not be so ready to advertise it—but we don't know that Messrs. Richards may not as well supply those who will buy liquor, as any other house. We never buy liquor for drink, nor cigars to corrupt the air we and our neighbors must breathe, nor tobacco to beslime ourselves and all within hail—nor did we ever, on any suitable occasion, refrain from advising others not to do so. "Touch not." But we do not hold ourselves responsible for all our patrons may do P.

NEW MUSIC.—"There are Angels ever near us:" a Song by Jas. G. Barrett. "Bonnie Woman's Smile:" a Song by P. S. Gilmore. "Young America Grand March,"—with a fine portrait of Fremont: composed for the piano by Adolph Baumbach. "Potpourri, duet from Verdi's Opera Il Trovatore: arranged for the piano by A. Baumbach.

The above attractive and desirable new pieces are on our table from Messrs. J. S. Harvey & Son, music dealers in this city. G. P. Reed & Co., Boston, publishers.

☞ The meeting of the N. H. General Association of Congregational Ministers, after a session of three days, closed at Exeter on Thursday. These very interesting meetings were held in the First Congregationalist Church,—Rev. N. Lasell's. They were fully attended, both by citizens and strangers, and about one hundred clergymen have been pres-

A SOUTHERN OPINION. The Washington correspondent of the New Orleans Delta writes:

"Fremont is gaining ground daily. There is no doubt of it. There is the greatest anxiety here. The wildest alarm is manifested by the political managers. The long slumbering sentiment of the Northern people, so long suppressed and hidden from the South by political party hacks, and diverted from its course by the compromise of the constitution, is out in open day. There is no disguise now.

The irresponsible and radically unconstitutional masses of this Nortoern Free Society are upon us. The wolf is in our path. The crisis which Mr. Calhoun predicted is at hand. There is only one single hope on which to hang a faith in our success. It is that the larger majority of the Northern people are not actually and conscientiously opposed to slavery.—There are people here from the North who stoutly assert it. There are plenty of Southern men who eagerly believe it, and retail their convictions to a too credulous public. The North, not anti-slavery!"

ONLY ONE DRINK.—The decorous conduct of the members of Congress at the close of the session has been commended by more than one observer. The correspondent of the New York Times says:

Only one member is intoxicated, and he sleeps and snores like the habitue of a lager beer shop. He is from Kentucky, and can drink his "share" of bad whiskey; but unfortunately can't stop with that amount. A vote is called on one of the Kansas amendments to the Appropriation bills.—He is wanted. Every vote is important. His friends attempt to arouse him, and they find they have undertaken a severe task. They lift him up, finally, and stand him upon his feet, holding him up that he may not sink to the floor. This rouses him partially: but he has "paired off" with somebody. His friends know better, or he would not be sleeping in the hall—so they tell him when his name is called, and instruct him whether to say 'aye" or "no."

He obeys the direction as sensibly as the parrot repeats its "Pretty Poll," and is then thrown like a log again upon the sofa, where he snores away until some new question makes his vote important. How sad is such a scene; how disgraceful to Congress and humanity.

Thanks to the decision of Speaker Banks this scene has no counterpart. A privtae bottle must have laid so low this honorable Representaive, for the Speaker has banished anything that can intoxicate from all the Committee and refreshment rooms.—The result is a state of sobriety whi h the House has not exhibited at an all-night session before in many years.

Mr. Wm. P. Blake, a very able geographer, read a paper before the Scientific Congress at Albany, in which he gave to Col. Fremont the credit of discovering "that singular feature in the geography of North America, the Great Basin, with its included Great Salt Lake, and given us the first reliable knowledge of the structure of the great Sierra Nevada of California, and the extended valleys at its western base." The same paper also informs us that the boundaries of the Great Basin, after having been altered on the maps at the instance of other explorers, have been "restored to the limits originally assigned by Fremont."

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is

A KNOTTY CASE.—Yesterday morning in the Police Court, six Germans by the names of Christian Pipeldecker, Charles Brown, Wm. Bowless, George Black, Lewis Eckhardt, and Gustavus Hanman, were examined on a charge of disturbing the peace, by making loud outcries on Washington street, near Avery. The Judge could not talk German, the prisoners knew no English, and the policeman who made the complaint could talk neither, and so after much unintelligible pow-wowing and a vigorous scratching of the worthy Judge's venerable head, the prisoners were all let loose. They expressed their joy thereat in such a flood of jargon as should have led at once to their re-arrest, but they were suffered to go. The legal gentleman who managed their case held his peace throughout, and thus aided materially their chances for escape.—Boston Chron.

A French teacher going on horseback to a ladies academy where he was engaged to teach, was thrown into a ditch. He crawled out as best he could, and on making his appearance before the preceptress, in order to account for his besmeared habiliments, he said,—"Ah, madame, me fall in de dish." "Oui, I perceive it, said she; "you are covered with the gravy!"

☞ A certain printer, in Charlestown, Mass., went gunning one morning last week, and bagged over three dozen "gray back plovers." He put them down in his cellar while the water was heating, with which to start the feathers, and when he went to get them again, found every one of them gone—the rats having taken advantage of his absence, to store them away in their holes.—Adv.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it: if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

DEDICATION OF THE NEW SCHOOL HOUSE.—On Thursday next, Sept. 4, the services of Dedication of the New High School House in Daniel street, will take place in that building at 2 1-2 P. M. The Dedicatory Address will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Burroughs, accompanied with appropriate religious services.—Addresses are expected from several other clergymen. An original ode will be sung by the choir.

☞ The numerous banners which have been "thrown to the breeze" in this city and vicinity, convince us that the enthusiasm on both sides does not in the least flag. Not only the men, whose business it is to deal in this branch of politics, but even the juveniles must express their preferences in regard to the candidates now set forth. Well! they have a right to, and who would complain? x.

BURNING OF MOSCOW.—This magnificent diorama, together with an extensive collection of Dioptric Paintings, and laughter-inciting scenes in Ventriloquism, by Mr. Gallagher, who is pronounced unequalled in his profession, may be witnessed Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. This exhibition has received the warmest commendations of the press of the entire Union.

BANGOR, Aug. 28.—Over ten thousand people assembled at the Fremont and Dayton Mass Convention to-day. Large delegations came in from all quarters, by boats, railroads, teams, &c., and many bearing banners and badges. A procession of several thousand was formed, which marched to the ground on Thomas' Hill. Several six-horse teams were in the procession, with large flags and mottoes. It was over two miles long. Speeches were made by Gen. Nye of New York, Messrs. Elliot and Goodrich of Massachusetts, Lot M. Morrill of Augusta, and others.

In the evening, Norembega Hall was crowded by about 3000 people, and many were compelled to go away for want of room.

The meeting altogether was one of the most successful political demonstrations ever held in the State.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Mr. Suter, formerly of New York city, passed through here to-day on his way from Lawrence. He reports that he was publicly robbed of $2500 at Westport, and it was proposed to throw him in the river at that place, but through the interposition of a person whose life Suter formerly saved, their threat was not executed. The Quaker mission has been entirely broken up, and the inmates have left.

MORE MURDERS IN KANSAS.—[Correspondence of the New York Tribune.]—Lawrence, Aug. 29.—Another brutal murder took place near Leavenworth, yesterday. A gentleman named Hopps or Hupps, from Ohio, came here last week, left his wife, and returned to Leavenworth for his goods, etc. When he had got a mile or two this side of that city on his return, he was overtaken, it is supposed, shot and scalped, and in this condition was found by some troops, who happened along shortly afterwards. No clue to the murderers has yet been found, but it is supposed that he expressed his sentiments too freely in Leavenworth.

The Rev. Mr. Bird came to-day, his wife is a sister of the Rev. Mr. Nute, Pastor of the Unitarian Church and Society.

Another murder took place in Westport yesterday, of a man named Jennison, a Lawrence teamster, who was on his way home from Kansas City with a load. He was also scalped, and his load and team taken to Milton McGee's house.

Henry J. Sambre, Esq., who was killed on Saturday last, in the battle of Titus Camp, was a higly respected and popularly known member of the bar in Richmond, Ind. He was unmarried, and was about 30 years of age. He was buried yesterday with military honors, and his remains will lie side by side with those of Barber.

ELECTION RIOT IN MISSOURI—THREE MEN KILLED.—The Ohio State Journal has information that at Memphis, Scotland Co., Mo., on election day three men were killed. A slaveholder named Hanna and a laboring man were discussing the economical bearings of the slavery question, and Hanna called the other a liar. The man said he would not take that, and prepared for fight. Hanna drew a revolver, and shot him through the heart. A friend of the laboring man interfered, and he also was shot and died instantly. This excited the friends of the men who where killed, and assailed the murderer with clubs and stones, and beat him so badly that he died.

ALBANY, Aug. 28.—At the meeting of the National Kansas Committee in this city to-day the following preamble and resolution was unanimously adopted:—

Whereas, This Committee has authentic information from its official connection with the territory of Kansas, that preparation for the armed invasion of that territory from the state of Missouri is in full progress; therefore,

Resolved, That Thaddeus Hyatt, W. T. Arny and Prof. Edward Dancles be appointed a committe to call on the president of the United States, and solicit the interposition of the government to prevent the civil war and slaughter now impending over the territory, and that they procure if possible, the co-operation of members in Congress in the said application.

MOB VIOLENCE AT FISKVILLE.—There has been for some time a very disreputable house at Fiskville, kept by a man named Fletcher, which has been a very great annoyance to the neighborhood. Not long since some young men were robbed there, and Fletcher having refused to make any restitution, they, accompanied by some of their friends, proceeded to the house on Monday afternoon, to take revenge upon the keeper and his boarders. After having inflicted some personal violence on Fletcher, they stove all the windows in the dwelling, broke the furniture and threw it into the street. The heads of the rum casks were knocked in, and there was a pretty general demolition of everything movable. The women fled, taking with them only such clothing as they had on. None of

FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Steamer Illinois arrived at 9 o'clock. She connected at the Isthmus with steamer Senora, which brought down upwards of $1,800,000.

The Illinois brings $1,465,000.

The Sierra Nevada took down to San Juan upwards of $100,000 in specie, 300 recruits for Walker's army, and a number of settlers.—Dr. Alexander Randall, an old settler of San Francisco, was shot on the afternoon of July 24, in a bar room of the St. Nicholas Hotel, by Jos. Hetherington. A dispute existed between the parties relative to money transactions.

Some activity among vessels of war in the harbor, had led to fears that the Federal Government was about to interfere with the Vigilance Committee.

The Superintendent of the Branch Mint had notified the employees who are members of the Vigilance Committee, to either withdraw from the Committee or leave the Mint.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, Aug. 28.

HOUSE—[Continued.] Mr. Campbell of Ohio, from the Committee of Conference on the disagreeing amendments to the army bill, said he submitted to the conference the naked proposition that no portion of the money be used for enforcing the enactments of the body claiming to be the Territorial Legislature of Kansas, leaving out the subsequent part of the proviso calling on the President to exercise jurisdiction over the highways. He was willing to yield that much to the scruples of Senators as to the constitutional power in the premises, but the Committee of the Senate refused to yield even that. Mr. Campbell said it of course became necessary that they should proceed further to consider the Senate's proposition, which involves independent legislation. The Conference fell, because the Senate's committee declined to yield the simple proposition that the army shall not be employed to enforce laws founded on fraud. The difficulty presented by the Senate was that the incorporation of such a proviso in the Army bill would be independent legislation. It struck him as strange that such an objection as that should come from the Senate. It would be recollected that the House passed the Post Office Appropriation bill on the recommendation of the Postmaster General, yet it was returned from the Senate with an amendment appropriating a million of dollars for a new contract for carrying the mails to San Francisco with p emption rights. It was not necessary to carry into effect existing laws. He was willing to go with him who would go farthest, but he should be false to himself, to his constituents, and also to his God, if he endorsed the enactments of the Kansas Legislature. The members are anxious to return to their homes, but, nevertheless, as long as there is a hope of bringing the two houses together, he would remain. He moved that the House further adhere to its disagreement.

Mr. Stephens of Ga. opposed.

Mr. Campbell's motion was adopted by a vote of 101 to 97.

A motion to reconsider was tabled by 4 majority.

The House then took a recess till 1 o'clock.

The House reassembled at 1 o'clock, and prolonged their recess till half-past 2, and adjourned without doing anything further.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The Army Appropriation Bill.—Clark of New York, Nichols, and Purviance, who voted for adhering to the House amendment to the Army Bill on Saturday, did not vote to-day on the similar question, but Benton, Buffington, Robbins, Robinson and Sabin, who were not then present, voted in the affirmative, as on the last occasion, together with Mr. Dunn, who on Saturday voted in the affirmative. Messrs. Brooks, Davis of Maryland, Kidwell and Valk, who voted in the negative on Saturday, were absent to-day. That side was reinforced by Carlisle, Greenwood, Harrison, Rust and Wells, who were not present on Saturday. It is said the Senate Committee of Conference on the Army bill were willing that Mr. Weller's bill should be passed into a law as a compromise, to reconcile the disagreement, but the House Committee gave no encouragement to the suggestion,

The President has signed the bill for the purchase of ship Resolute, to be presented to the British government. Also the bill to supply missions with the civic bill of last season.

The President has recovered from his last indisposition.

The ladies of Painesville, Ohio, are to give a donation party on the 21st instant, to raise $225 for a judgment recently obtained against Mr. D. H. Gray, in a breach of promise case. They announce that this movement is "in order to give an expression of their feelings and appreciation of the same." The call is published and signed: "By order of the ladies." What "a change has come o'er the spirit of their dreams," when the ladies make donations to satisfy a judgment against an "erring brother," in favor of an "unfortunate sister!"

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crossley." A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

H. R. COBURN'S OIL WORKS.

H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.

This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.

This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considered, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.

H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.

H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL,

is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.

BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.

How beautiful is the idea of the wife, in sacred literature! Pillared corner stones—vessels of cedar—fruitful olive trees—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be. Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek, mealess eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is? Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason? read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness can afford to be without it. So say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all-important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. Circulars and recommendations furnished gratis. All letters of enquiry must contain a letter stamp to prepay the return. Address or apply to PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D., No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston, Ms. The above work will be sent by mail or express to all parts of U. S., securely enclosed, on receipt of price.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first year, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found near the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, or rather of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as such.

READY MADE FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

THE CIRCUS.—Fowler, in his "Life Illustrated," newspaper, says—after attending Dan Rice's Great Show, at Brooklyn, N. Y., last week, with seven thousand other people:

The Circus is a national institution.—Though originating elsewhere, and in ages long previous to the beginning of history, it has here reached a perfection attained nowhere else. The American Circus is well known in South America, Europe, and Australia. In India, where many of the jokes and feats of the Circus originated, we believe an American circus company have performed. The Clown, we feel very sure, is of Oriental origin. We were entertained exceedingly, and saw and heard nothing calculated to do harm to any human being.

There is no use in decrying the circus.—Even if it were the bad thing which some narrow good people think it is, it could not be put down. It is exactly suited to the place it fills. The sight of such beautiful and sagacious horses is worth the time it costs. The riders, too, and strong men, and jugglers, all perfect in their several ways, afford a lively evidence of what practice will enable men to do. It cannot do harm to boys to see a set of limbs display all their agility. It is a pity, we admit, that the education of any man should be confined to his legs. It is a pity, we assert, that the education of any man should be confined to his brain. But if we do not scruple to let children see men, and go to school to men, who have no other than a brain development, let us not refuse occasionally to let them attend the evening school of these wonderfully leg-developed individuals. A circus performer is the other half of a college-professor. The perfect Man has more than the professor's brain, and a good deal of the performer's legs.

We conclude that the circus is is, to say the least, not a bad thing. It might be better. It ought to be most scrupulously decent. The slightest looking toward impropriety should be promptly hissed down. But upon the whole we are glad we went, glad there was a circus to go to, and glad that the circus is an established institution of the country. Something very good may come of it by-and-by.

YANKEE INVENTIONS IN EUROPE.—Among the passengers in the Steamship Niagara, from Europe, was Wm. Emerson Baker, of the well-known firm of Grover, Baker & Co., the proprietors of the sewing machine invention. Mr. Baker has been absent for the last two and a half years in Europe.—Their machines, to the number of eighty, have been for some time in use in France by Government, in the manufacture of clothing for the army, and they have orders from the French Emperor for one hundred additional, which they will manufacture at their establishment in Paris.

The machines have also been extensively in use in England, and the Sardinian Government have recently ordered them for the manufacture of army clothing. They have also been recently introduced in Holland, through the instrumentality of the King of that country, and also in Belgium.

Mr. Baker states that in Stone, England, where a leading manufacturer of shoes had provided a number of machines, his workmen struck and were followed by those of several other firms, until the number amounted to about one thousand. These men had been on a strike for about ten weeks, refusing to work while the machines were used, but the manufacturer remained firm, stating that he would manufacture pegged shoes only before he would give way to their demands.

The Washington City (State Rights) Sentinel has been discontinued, on the plea that the sectional party of the country is "fast waning, and that the triumph of the Democratic ticket in the present contest is not even problematical." The Sentinel is right. Its help is no longer needed.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

Capt. Wallace of the Greenbush Citizen Corps, met with a singular accident yesterday. In drawing his sword he nearly cut off two of his fingers of his left hand. [Sartogian.

DR. WM. R. HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PILLS.—Nearly every disease of man comes from over-feeding, eating more than the system requires to keep it with its colors flying, resulting in impure blood and the great disarrangement of every function of life—or from natural weakness, constitutional infirmity, incapability of converting food into entire nutrition, and of making rosy cheeks out of roast beef. The naturally robust man pampering his appetite to surfeiting, comes to be as badly off as the constitutionally infirm who cannot digest what he eats. All purgative medicines, till the invention of Dr. Hayden's Pills, in 1846, designed to remedy the diseases coming from natural weakness, or overfeeding, had a great fault, they were as likely to kill as cure; they removed the cause, but in so doing weakened the patient so much that the system could not rally, and the patient gradually declined as "more of the same sort" was given him, till "death marked him for his own." It was so with glauber salts, senna, rhubarb, and all that sort of stuff. Innumerable ills followed, more palatable, but full as injurious, as the more you took of them the weaker you grew.

Dr. Hayden is a chemist and physician, and had the advantage of knowing what was taught at all our Medical Colleges, the run of practice in the hospitals in the New and Old World, and what was more, the chemical qualities of all the vegetables of nature and their effects upon the human system.—He experimented and combined till he invented a Pill that would remove the impurities of the system and at the same time act as a tonic—remove the causes of disease and at the same time strengthen the functions of life. Their wonderful qualities became quickly known, and now they are sold in every part of the world, backed up by testimonials of physicians, clergymen, lawyers, professors in colleges, and tens of thousands of others who do business upon the sea and land. The proprietorship of these Pills has fallen into the hands of J. D. Putnam of Lowell, and with them he is on the road to fortune.—Manchester Mirror.

The last harvest still lingers in the granaries, and the new harvest is estimated to be more abundant even than the last. A knowledge of this fact, coupled with authentic intelligence from Russia of large stores of grain in that country has had a decided effect upon our corn market. Although there is no panic, prices can hardly be quoted; and the weather continuing favorable, in ten or twelve days longer the probability is that prices will be low beyond a reasonable doubt.—[Liverpool Journal of the 9th.

The recipe for curing the bite of the rattlesnake, is going its annual round among the newspapers, this year credited to the Savannah Republican. The remedy is, get drunk. A pretty savage remedy in these days of poor liquor, making one about as willing to die of one bite as another, the bite of the snake as quick as the bite of the still. The Homœopathic rule is, that like is cured by like, that burns are cured by exposure to heat. Drunkenness cures snake bites, makss the victim of mania potu see snakes crawling all over him. Young men, beware of seeing these snakes.—Manchester Mirror.

A Mr. Simonds near Newburgh, N. Y., had had a presentiment for ten years that he would die on the tenth of August, 1856. He had selected a spot for his grave, surrounded it with an iron fence, got his coffin ready and bespoke the clergyman and sexton. On the tenth he ate a hearty dinner and got into his bed to die, well as he ever was. But the fatal day passed and the ghost would not depart. He lived to see the folly of presentiments. If all cases of failure were put on record like this, everybody else would see it.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

LEAVENWORTH CITY, Aug 19, '56.

Dear Friends:—All is confusion and alarm again in this territory. Last Thursday and Friday, reports were circulated here that Lecompton had been burnt, and that Col. Lane was in the territory at the head of a thousand men, &c.; but this has since proved to be false; at least, as far as the burning of Lecompton is concerned. There is a strong body of Free State men camped near that place, but it is doubtful whether they have any connexion with Col. Lane. This whole affair has grown out of the encounter with horse thieves, which I mentioned in my last. After the gang were driven out of Franklin, they revenged themselves on every unarmed person they met. Before the Lawrence company reached home, they found one of their most prominent citizens with his throat cut. The band that perpetrated this outrage was said to have been headed by Col. Titus, and they first retreated to the Warkarusa, where they had built a fort. Here they were soon whipped out, leaving their fire-arms and baggage; they then fled to Lecompton. It is reported that most of the inhabitants of that place have left.

For the last three or four days there have been very exciting times in this city. There is a strong pro-slavery force here, which they have been mustering for several days, to go to Lecompton, but seem in no hurry to start; I presume they will leave to-day, however.—They have a camp at a spring about two miles out of town. Every man here is armed; in fact, it would not be safe to be otherwise. I saw three or four men shot at in the streets last Sunday; there is hardly five minutes in the day that one is not startled by the report of fire-arms. It was rumored that an attack was to be made on this city last night, and all the Free State men driven out; but there was no alarm. If the attempt had been made, it would hardly have succeeded; the population is so mixed in regard to parties. People are much alarmed here, especially those who have families. Still I think the place is in no danger; for the reason that the property holders are very evenly divided, politically. The attack would fall with nearly equal force on this class; and it is for the interest of the one portion to use its influence to protect the other. I was told last night that one thousand Missourians were on the march to the territory, and more would soon follow.

Last night a man was shot and scalped on the Lawrence road, about two and a half miles from this city. He landed at this place about two weeks since, with his wife and sister; and leaving his baggage at a storage house, hired a buggy, and started for Lawrence, from which place he was returning, when he was overtaken by a drunken bully, named Fuget, who asked him where he was from; upon his answering Lawrence; F. drew his revolver, shot him through the head, and afterwards scalped him. Fuget, it is said, went down the river on the steamer Polar Star, this morning. I will write again in a day or two.

P. S.—Lane is here, with an organized force; prospect of a big fight immediately;—two thousand more border ruffians coming over the river! F. H. B.

THE KANSAS FUND.—P. T. Jackson, Trustee of the Kansas Fund, writes to the Boston Courier to contradict a lie which appeared in the Albany Statesman, and was quoted by the Courier, viz.: that "a large amount of money has been raised. Not a dollar of it has found its way into Kansas, for the relief of the needy settlers."

Mr. Jackson says:—

"As this assertion has been made very often, when it was not in my power to contradict it without endangering the safety of the funds in transita, I have left it without reply till the present time. I can now state that a large portion of the fund entrusted to my charge reached Kansas nearly two months since, and was distributed to the poor and needy inhabitants there, relieving, as I am assured, a vast amount of suffering there. Another large sum has arrived at Lawrence, and is now in progress of distribution, strictly to relieve distress. The balance of the fund has been appropriated according to the wishes of the donors, expressed when subscribing. Any subscriber can ascertain exactly what has been done with his money by calling upon the Faneuil Hall Committee."

A PROPHECY.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce says:

The political aspect of the times has reminded me of an old prophecy which appeared in a magazine towards the close of the last century, in relation to the "good Old Thirteen," then just united under a Constitution. Of course it was, as it indicates, from a source hostile to the "Spirit of '76":

"When figures 1 and 3 are changed from 3 to 1,
The wicked rebels will their race have run;
For at that number 'tis doomed by Fate,
They 'll split in twain, and separate."

It was a prophetic vision that could see in in those dark days, that the Thirteen States would become Thirty-one. The seer who saw so much, may have seen more.

The London Sunday School Union has between eight and ten thousand canvassers employed in penetrating the courts, lanes, and alleys of the city to bring out the people for religious instruction.

EXTRAORDINARY ELOPEMENT.—The Athens (Ala.) Herald of the 8th ult., relates that on the 25th July, John E. Townsend, of Madison county, eloped with the step-daughter of his overseer, taking with him, as is supposed, cash funds to the amount of over $100,000 belonging to the estate of his uncle, of which he was co-administrator, and $35,000 or $40,000 in drafts obtained from commissioned houses in Huntsville. He also contracted sundry debts. The only object which is supposed could influence him to abscond, is the woman. He was not in debt;—the estate which he left behind is worth nearly $120,000, besides other legacies. He has a wife and family.

Attachments have been levied upon his property to the extent of $120,000. It is not known which way he has gone.

The telegraph the other day carried Gen. Cass completely into the ranks of the Black Republican disorganizers, by reporting him as saying that the Senate and not the House was wrong in the present disagreement on the Army bill. The next day it was found that Mr. Wade used this language; yet Gen. Cass will get the credit of it, for the Black Republicans seldom contradict their false statements.—N. H. Gazette.

If this be true, then there is not a Black Republican paper anywhere in this part of the country—for not one paper, within our knowledge and exchange, which contained the error, has failed to give the correction also.

DEATH OF ROBERT SCHUMANN.—Recent foreign papers report the death of Robert Schumann, by many considered the greatest of living German composers, as he was undoubtedly one of the most original, at Bonn, at the comparatively early age of forty-six.—From a notice of the deceased in the New York Evening Post, we learn that he was born at Swickau, Saxony, and at the commencement of his career was distinguished as a musical critic, the "Neue Zeitschrift fur Musik," established by him at Leipsic, being one of the most able and successful musical journals of the day.

His musical tastes being of a very decided character, he soon forsook the editorial profession for the study of composition, which he prosecuted with extraordinary zeal. He modelled his style successively upon Haydn, Mozart, Moschelles, and Ries, but soon struck into a path of his own, in which he exhibited great individuality, and a boldness and eccentricity which startled the critics, and brought down upon him denunciations and ridicule without stint. He had, however, a circle of enthusiastic admirers, who as warmly upheld him, and whose numbers constantly increased.

In 1840, he married the celebrated Clara Wieck, now, as then, a charming pianist, and estimable woman. His married life was very happy, and with a fecundity of genius quite remarkable, he composed during this period a vast number of pianoforte pieces, many of them novel and fantastic in form, and almost all of exceeding beauty, besides quintettes for string instruments, some remarkable symphonies, various large vocal works, cantatas, &c., and a multitude of charming little songs.

Some of his symphonies and many of his songs are familiar to our audiences, and have created genuine admiration of Schumann's great merit as a composer. About two years ago he began to exhibit symptoms of insanity; the disease rapidly gathered in strength, and for the last two years he has been a confirmed lunatic. Under such melancholy circumstances, has this distinguished man left the world.

AN EXCELLENT IDEA.—There has just been introduced into the writing department of the public schools of Buffalo a new feature, which is destined to have the very best effect upon the scholars in the department of rhirography. It is this: At the close of every year the neatest writing books—those which have presented the most improvement, and are remarkable for their cleanliness and the beauty of their chirography—are selected from each school, and the best of them from each school are handsomely bound together in morocco and gold, and preserved in the libraries of the respective schools. By these the future improvement of other scholars is tested, and they are held up to other scholars as a model for imitation, and to incite them to excellence. The effect upon schools, we are sure, will be of great benefit in inculcating care, correctness and cleanliness, and the idea throughout, though at first it may be a novel one, will be productive of most beneficial results.

CHARTER OAK ITEMS.—On the night of the fall of the brave old oak at Hartford, Mr. Stuart, the proprietor, was engaged till midnight in writing the last chapter of its history. A copyrighted engraving of the tree as it appeared after its fall is being made; and a sound limb is being made into an elbow to a new ship to be called "The Charter Oak."—A swarm of bees came out of a hole in the fallen trunk, on Saturday morning, and lodged upon another tree; but soon returned to their old quarters, from which they were secured and safely hived. They will be tenderly cared for from the associations connected with them. Their presence in the tree was not known till its fall.

TORNADO IN PHILLIPSTON.—The northern part of Phillipston and Templeton, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday. Its track was about two rods in width at the commencement, and gradually widened as its power was spent; it extended eight miles, and in its course it tore up the ships, trees and piles of lumber, scattering them round with great looseness; it encountered a load of hay, standing near a stone wall, took it up and carried it through it, leaving it the other side up on the opposite side. No person was injured, though one man came near being drawn into the current, and only escaped by running.—Worcester Transcript.

An English soldier, who had been in all the severe engagements in the Crimes, and was one of the few who entered the Redan safely, returned home lately in good health; and on arriving in camp he took off his knapsack and coat, and said: "Thank God! I have arrived safely in old England again; I'll now have a good rest;" as soon as he uttered these words he fell down and died instantly upon his knapsack.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, CONCORD.—This court which has been in session, the last week, adjourned on Monday, after a session of 8 days. The Grand Jury found 22 indictments, 17 of which were for violation of the liquor law; 2 for passing counterfeit money, and 1 for adultery. Frank Brown, for breaking into Geo. W. Wadleigh's store at Franklin, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the State Prison.

Clarenda Griffin, of Chichester, was sentenced to six months imprisonment in the county jail, for adultery, and fined $1 and costs.

An indictment against the selectmen of Wilmot for not appointing an agent under the liquor law, was transferred to the Supreme Court.

In the case of Lancaster vs. Jackson, the jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff of $24.26.—Reporter.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Three new cases of yellow fever are reported at Clifton, Staten Island. Eight deaths from yellow fever have occurred among the troops at Governor's Island.

Three San Francisco exiles, named Burke, White and Conner, who arrived in the Illinois, were arrested here yesterday, charged with robbing a lady passenger on that steamer of a large amount of gold.

The Latin observatory and twenty other buildings in the vicinity of 44th street, were burned this morning. The Crystal palace was on fire several times but not materially damaged.

WASHINGTON, August 18.—Pay of Congress.—The disbursements of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, on account of pay and mileage of members and delegates, amounts, up to this morning, to $1,097,000 more than it would have been under the former compensation laws.

Nominations.—Messrs. Washburn of Illinois and Washburn of Wisconsin have been renominated for Congress.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Cor. N. Y. Herald.—The Democratic Senators met in caucus this morning, and resolved unanimously to continue in session until the 4th of March, unless the Army bill should sooner be passed. It was urged that as the members are now receiving annual salaries, the country is entitled to their whole time. A move is on foot to bring in another Army bill, with Mr. Crittenden's bill as a rider.

An indignation meeting of a portion of the armorers who were discharged from the Armory at Springfield, in consequence of the failure of Congress to pass the Army Bill, was held at Springfield, on Thursday evening. Resolutions were passed denouncing the House of Representatives and the member of Congress from that district for the defeat of the Army Bill.—The Springfield Republican, a Fremont paper, in a report of the meeting, says: "Had there been a fair expression of the sentiment of the armorers, the blame of stopping the supplies would have been placed where it rightly belongs, on the President and Senate."

WATER AT THE WRONG TIME.—On Sunday last Thomas Doherty attempted to commit suicide by drowning at City Point, South Boston, while laboring in a fit of delirium tremens. He was rescued after much trouble by Mr. Thomas Welch, who jumped into the water after him. If Thomas had taken to water a little sooner, he would have rescued himself.—Boston Chronicle.

EXTRAORDINARY.—Mary, a negro woman belonging to Dr. John H. Bunbley, near Mooresville, Alabama, gave birth on the 10th inst., to three living infants, two whites and one black.

The Lowell Journal says that Gen. Scott supports Fremont for the Presidency.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThsS 6m.

NEW MODE OF MAKING SHOES.—Among the new things of the age, is the manufacture of shoes by cementing together the pieces of leather of which they are composed. A shoe is thus made without a peg or stitch, which it is said will never rip, and cannot be torn apart in the seams, because the leather will tear first. A large company has been started for this manufacture at Ballardvale, their process being to cement the shoes on the common wooden lasts, and then dry them in ovens.—But we understand an improved process has been invented, by which a pair of shoes can be completed in five minutes. The pieces are cemented on a hollow metallic last, into which steam is introduced by turning a cock, and its heat sets the cement almost instantaneously.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?" It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "hed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

FROM KANSAS.

Mr. Frank Sanborn of Boston arrived in Springfield yesterday, direct from Nebraska City and the Kansas border. He came through Iowa, and up to the 19th, when he left, was thoroughly cognizant of the movements in Kansas. He represents the first accounts of the pro-slavery parties through St. Louis as grossly exaggerated. Less than 350 free state men had gone into Kansas, through Iowa, and all these were bona fide emigrants. One hundred more probably reached there this week, and a small party of 25 leaves Chicago this week, composed in part of Vermonters. These are all the reinforcements the free state people in the territory have, or are likely to receive at present;—but they are better supplied than ever before with arms and amunition. Mr. Sanborn believes they will be able to maintain themselves against the army of invasion from Missouris at least in the first onslaught. He estimates the available fighting force of the citizens at from 1000 to 2000. They were determined to continue, as ever, on the defensive. Their attacks upon and destruction of several ruffian forts, were within this rule, because these were really offensive operations of the enemy. The citizens had full information that these forts were simply the preparations of the ruffian party for a thorough war upon them. Their capture of them and their military stores was therefore a justifiable proceeding, and in a military view a valuable movement. It had disconcerted the opposition, and furnished themselves more fully with arms by getting back what had been stolen from them.

No towns had been attacked by the free state people, no innocent parties injured, and no property destroyed or confiscated, but such as, in a war of this kind, was rightly exposed. Gen. Lane was in the territory, though he did not go in with the others, and has had little to do, Mr. Sanborn thinks, with proceedings so far. He was intending to come directly out of the territory; but the threatened general attack of the Missourians has probably caused him to remain and share the fortunes of the settlers. Mr. Sanborn represents that the wants of the free state cause are now money and emigrants. The route through Iowa is agreeable, and easily travelled in about twenty days from Chicago, and access to the territory by it is undisputed as yet.

After the fight at Franklin, Gov. Shannon mediated a sort of treaty with the free state men at Lawrence, by which there was an interchange of prisoners, and the gun captured from Lawrence in May last was given up.—Peace was supposed to be concluded, but it did not stand.—Springfield Republican, Aug 29.

ST LOUIS, 30th.—Advices state that the Missourians are concentrating near Westport. Troops arrive daily from various directions. Lane's troops are fortifying on the Wakarasa. Their main body is at Lawrence, estimated at from 1 to 2000. Atchison will command the Missourians, with Col. Doniphan as second, and Capt. Reid Adjutant. It is rumored the free state men have taken Tecumseh. 30 pro-slavery men killed. Gen. Pomeroy was also killed.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, Aug. 29.

SENATE.—The question was stated to be on the motion of Mr. Hunter, namely, to adhere to the disagreement on the Army bill.

Mr. Hunter of Virginia stated it would be desirable for the Senate to act upon the question at once, in order that the House might know what the Senate was going to do. If this amendment be adhered to, another bill might be introduced in the House, but, until a vote was taken, the House would delay action, as it might possibly be supposed the Senate would give way.

The motion to adhere was agreed to by yeas 32, nays 4.

NAYS—Messrs. Durkee, Harlan, Trumbull, Wade.

Mr. Seward did not vote, having paired off with Mr. Toombs.

Mr. Houston presented a memorial from the Legislature of Texas, in behalf of Judge Terry, who was now held in custody by the San Francisco Vigilance Committee, praying that, if the federal government or Congress can, consistently, interfere in his behalf, that it may be done.

Debate ensued on Judge Terry's character, which appears to be passionate and impulsive. Mr. Weller thinks there will be a legal chance between September and November, for the President to furnish arms and ammunition to the Governor of California, with which to put down the Vigilance Committee.

HOUSE.—Mr. Barclay moved that the House adjourn on Tuesday next.

Motion negatived by 72 majority.

A message was received from the Senate stating that they adhere to their disagreement on the amendment of the Army bill.

A motion to adjourn on Monday was then voted down.

Mr Orr asked leave to introduce the Army bill.

Mr. Grow and others objected.

Motions were then made to adjourn on Monday, and on Tuesday, but were disagreed to by yes and nay votes.

It was agreed to adjourn until to-morrow, by 2 majority.

☞ The telegraphic dispatches from Washington, on Friday evening, represent it as probable that absentees enough would return on Saturday, to turn the scale in the House, so as to pass the Army bill without proviso, or with such a proviso as should amount to nothing.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and delicate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

LARGE SALE OF Valuable Property at Auction.
Will be sold at Public Auction on SATURDAY, the 13th day of September next, at 12 o'clock, M.
ON THE PREMISES,

ALL that valuable Estate situated at Pleasant Point, near Newcastle Bridge, formerly belonging to Hon. James Sheafe, deceased, consisting of

2 DWELLING HOUSES, with the outbuildings and gardens attached to them, together with the LARGE BARN, Mowing Fields, Tillage Land and Pasture, there being about 17 acres.

This Sale offers a rare opportunity for a profitable investment. The fine view of the ocean, harbor and city from this Point makes it desirable for building purposes, whilst the easy access by water to inexhaustible supplies of sea dressing, renders it valuble as a Vegetable or Milk Farm.

Terms and conditions made known at time and place of sale. For further information apply to JOHN J. PICKERING or Valuable Real Estate at Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction on Saturday, the 6th day of September next, on the premises, at 12 o'clock, M., the large DWELLING HOUSE and LAND appurtenant thereto, belonging to the heirs of the late N. T. S. PEIRCE, deceased, situate on Court Street, near the South Parish Sunday School Room.

The lot of land is very extensive, and the house large and is now rented to good advantage, to three tenants.

The contemplated improvement, to be made the coming spring, by the South Parish Sunday School Society, by building a handsome Chapel, and making attractive grounds, &c, around the same, will greatly enhance the value of Real Estate in that part of the city.

The situation is central, within a short distance of the business portion of the city, and about midway between the Ship-yards on this side of the River. A good title will be given.

Terms made known at the Sale.

For further particulars enquire of WILLIAM H. HACKETT, over the Piscataqua Exchange Bank, or of the Auctioneer, No. 70 State street, where a plan of the premises may be seen.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.
WILLIAM CROWLEY & SON,
Oversly Mills, Alcester, England.

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market), I am prepared to sell them
Wholesale at $1.60 per M.

H. R. COBURN'S OIL WORKS.

Established, 1842.

H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.

This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.

This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considered, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.

H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.

H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL,

is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform Standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.
BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.

How beautiful is the idea of the wife, in sacred literature! Polished corner stones—walls of cedar—fruitful olive tree—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be. Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek, sunken eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is? Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason? read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness can afford to be without it. So say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all-important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. Circulars and recommendations furnished gratis. All letters of enquiry must contain a letter stamp to prepay the return. Address or apply to PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D., No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston, Mss. The above work will be sent by mail or express to all parts of U. S., securely enclosed, on receipt of price.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great demand for population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of Wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating, and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and planting.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2 50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at ressonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the product of the lands must be carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due on twenty days from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to TEMPERANCE IN REVIVALS.—I was laboring in a protracted meeting in the Congregational Church of a New Hampshire village. There was much intemperance there, and the wife of the principal hotel keeper was a member of the church. Seeing her and her husband both at the meeting one afternoon, I made some very pointed remarks on the evils of intemperance, and particularly on the character of those who continued those evils, by trafficking in ardent spirits. Many of the church, too, I knew, used much of the poison, and there was doubtless need of plain dealing. At the close of the exercise that afternoon, the minister in a suppressed tone that told how he felt, said to me, "it wont do, to come out so on that subject; you'll stop the revival." I told him I had no opinion of a revival among drunkards and rumsellers, and that my way to promote righteousness, was to preach against sin—existing sin, and that such a course would hinder no true revival. He doubted and feared, but allowed me to proceed.

Two days after, the taverner, to my surprise, invited me to his house. The conversation, of course, turned upon his business. He seemed pleased, and yet I wondered why; for he was faithfully warned of the dangers of continuing in such a course. He had a number of sons, some of them nearly grown to manhood, and he was told what fearful consequences might attend exposing them to such temptations. At length, he rose hastily up and beckoned me to follow him. I did so, and he conducted me to the bar room, and throwing open the bar, I saw that it was "empty, swept and garnished." "There" said he, with emphasis, "I've done." He was done. A pitcher of cold water and a waiter of tumblers were all that remained of a well furnished establishment. He was done; for himself and nearly every member of his family became true converts, and are now foremost in every good work. Others of the craft soon followed, and in less than two months, not a drop of strong drink was sold in that village. The revival went on. No one ever dreamed that it was less extensive or less beneficial, on account of plain preaching against existing sins.—[Sketches of Revivals.

MEMENTO OF THE REVOLUTION.—In making the excavations for the track of the Metropolitan Railroad on the Neck, Blackstone Square, one day of last week, the workmen struck upon a square flat stone, which they removed, and found that it covered a stout post firmly set in the earth. In the immediate vicinity were several other posts of a similar sort, but only one with a square flat stone upon it. This discovery attracted some attention, and an elderly gentleman, who had been interested in looking after the progress of the work in this neighborhood, presently came along, and evincing no little emotion, declared that the post with the flat stone upon it was the identical one to which Gen. Washington tied his horse when he examined the fortifications on the Neck after the British army had evacuated Boston. The other posts, in the ground near by, he said formed a part of a stockade, or outlying defensive work, placed there by the British to interrupt any attack on their main fortifications, which were situated farther in, near the intersection of Dover street. There is no reason to doubt the accuracy of this old gentleman's narrative; he did not pretend to have seen Washington's horse tied there, although he was a small boy at the time; but he well remembered the spot, the post, and the stone, and many a time had them pointed out to him in his boyhood. The old gentleman was as sure of the entire accuracy of his story as he was of the fact of Washington's entrance into Boston, the memory of which sight still lingered in his recollection.—Boston Courier.

Judge Bates of Missouri, a personal and political friend of Mr. Fillmore, differs entirely with that candidate as to the result at the South in case of Col. Fremont's election. He is a very competent witness.

LIBERATION OF TWELVE SLAVES.—Catharine Smoot, of Jefferson county, Kentucky, the widow of Alexander Smoot, Esq., who died in 1847, was a passenger on the mail boat from Louisville to Cincinnati yesterday, with eleven slaves, whom she proposes to emancipate. She was offered $10,000 cash down for the lot, but said that the money was no temptation, as she was convinced that it was her duty as a Christian to do so. A black man belongs to her for a term, upon the expiration of which he is to be freed. She says that she considers it her duty, after freeing her slaves, to make such provision for them that they will not suffer or become burdensome to those among whom they will make their home.—[Louisville Courier.

A sad affair occurred at Nine Partners Boarding School, last week. While the Superintendent, Enoch G. Dorland, was absent, two Irish girls, feeling unwell, thought some spirits would relieve them. Finding a bottle of corrosive sublimate, although labelled poison, they thought it was gin and drank of it. One of them has died; the other recovered.—[Saratogian.

He that flings the colorings of a peevish temper on things around him will overshadow with it the most blessed sunshine that ever fell on terrestrial objects, and make them reflect the hues of his own heart; whereas he whose soul flings out of itself the sunshine of a benevolent disposition, will make it gild the darkest places with a heavenly light.

The United States, last year, consumed thirty-five million pounds of tea, which cost them $7,000,000.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1856.

VOTE ON THE ARMY BILL.—A dispatch from Washington, Aug. 30, says:—"Numerous letters from prominent Republicans in New York and elsewhere were received by their friends, and conduced much to put an end to the contest between the Senate and House, in regard to the Army bill. The opposition had the power, if they had chosen to exert it, to have killed the bill, after its return to the Senate. The votes of West of Connecticut, Millward of Pennsylvania, Miller of New York, and Banks of Massachusetts, would have defeated the bill; but influenced by the urgent appeals of prominent Republicans, it was deemed best to throw the whole responsibility upon the administration, and the Senate's amendment was acquiesced in by a majority of four.

While the vote was being taken in the House, on the final passage of the Senators left their seats, and went over in a body to the House, and when the result was announced, a general congratulation prevailed over the whole House of Representatives.—The Republicans, if possible, showed the greatest joy."

The Boston Courier of Sept. 1 remarks:—"We think we have reason to be gratified with whatever tends to a settlement of difficulties. By the action of Congress, the responsibility is now thrown upon the Executive. He is now fully clothed with power to make and keep the peace; and he will be justly subject to the severest blame, if he does not use the authority, granted in such a way as to bring things speedily to a condition of quiet in Kansas. Energy, tempered with justice and intelligence, could do this in a very few days."

The Hon. Edward Bates recently addressed the Old Line Whigs of St. Louis on politics. He thoroughly dissected and exposed the sophistries of the Kansas Nebraska bill, and although he urged the support of Mr. Fillmore, he denounced the threat that the South would secede if Col. Fremont is elected, as follows:—

"We are told to vote for Buchanan to defeat Fremont, as the election of the latter would lead to the dissolution of the Union.—It is false; to say that Southern men will dissolve the Union in the event of Fremont's election is a slander and a calumny on them. The Union is stable and strong, and will remain so let who will be elected. There is not one inch of soil from Minnesota to the Balize that is in the political North or the political South. The Union is welded and bound together by ties of blood and kindred, and will come out unscathed from the fiery trial of the coming election."

The American Organ (Fillmore) published at Washington, is alarmed at the prospect in Pennsylvania. It says;

"In Massachusetts and in Pennsylvania things look dark and gloomy. It seems now more than probable that Fremont will carry Pennsylvania, unless the Buchanan men will unite upon Fillmore, and it is supposed that State pride will prevent them from doing this, even in view of the now obvious truth, that there is no other mode of saving Pennsylvania from Fremont.

TWO CHILDREN BURNT.—The Boston Telegraph of Monday says, an alarm of fire about half past nine this forenoon, was occasioned by the burning of a house in Milton street, at the West End. The damage by the fire was slight, but we are pained to state two children were burned to death. Mrs. Anderson, a poor widow woman, who occupied the rear room on the lower floor, went out washing, and locked her two children, a boy and girl, aged respectively 3 and 4 years, into the room. It is supposed they got at some matches, and set the straw of their bed on fire. When their bodies were taken out, they were burned to a crisp.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A Boxford correspondent informs the Salem Register that Mr. Thomas Mead, of that town, came to his death on Friday forenoon last. While passing through the railroad bridge at Rowley, with a freight of hay, his car became entangled in the piers and struck him on the forehead, cutting a severe gash, and, it is supposed, killing him instantly. The blow threw him into the water, from which he was immediately taken by Mr. Nathaniel Smith, also of Boxford, but life was extinct. The deceased was about 30 years of age, a respected citizen, a kind neighbor and honest man.

☞ The Boston Saturday Evening Gazette relates a beautiful incident which occurred last week, illustrative of the constant study of Philanthropos to do good to others. He was going along in Washington street, and observed a lady very heavily flounced and hooped, endeavoring to lift her dress to a passable attitude, to avoid the dirt. The task seemed a heavy one, and Philanthropos rushed forward, begging her to allow him to hold it up for her. To his great sorrow she called him impertinent, and threatened likewise to call a policeman who stood near!

☞ Col. Shepard of Holderness, N. H., went into the woods on Monday to cut wood, and was found lying flat upon his back, with the axe belve lying across his legs. He had evidently died of a sudden attack of disease of the heart. He had long been a prominent citizen of the town, and was about 70 years of age.

LIKE OTHER PEOPLE.

O for independenee! O for individuality of character enough to do right and be comfortable! We were told, lately, of the embarrassment and cost of trying to look and appear like other people, in a family of much pride but moderate means. It put us in mind of Dr. Franklin's saying, "other people's eyes are the eyes that ruin us.—But for these we should need neither fine clothes, fine horses nor fine furniture." We should only need them good, convenient, and comfortable. As we mused on this thought, we came upon the following article, quite to the purpose:

"PITY HIS FAMILY."—A man falls into embarrassments, which ultimately overwhelm him in bankruptcy or drive him into roguery and crime. He was yesterday respected, influential, and supposed to be affluent, and his family were treated and treated themselves accordingly; but to-day he is disgraced and steered clear of—without resources or prospects—very likely in prison and exposed to ignominious punishment. "Vile wretch!" say the million; it is good enough for him, but we must pity his poor family."

Certainly, we must pity them—pity all who suffer—still more all who sin. They need pity, and there is no danger that we shall pity them too much. But the impression conveyed of the innocence of the fallen man's family and their unmerited exposure to want and ignominy, is often very far from the truth.

In fact, half the men who are loathed as dragging down their families to shame and destitution, are really themselves dragged down by those families—driven to bankruptcy, shame and crime by the thoughtless and basely selfish extravagance of wife and children. Let a man be in a way of receiving considerable money, and having property in his hands, and his family can rarely be made to comprehend and realize that there is any limit to his ability to give and spend. Fine dresses and ornaments for wife and daughters; spending money and broadcloth for hopeful sons—costly parties every now and then, and richer furniture and more of it at all times—these are a few of the blind drains on the governor's means, which are perpetually in action. "O, what's a hundred dollars to a man doing such a business?" is the indignant question in case of any demur or remonstrance on his part. No one of them could bear to disgrace him by earning a dollar; they couldn't go out shabbily dressed, for fear his credit would suffer. They can't see how a man who can get discounts in Bank need ever be short of money or stingy in using it. All his talk of difficulties or hard times they regard as customary fables, intended to scrimp their drafts on purse, or enhance their sense of his generosity. When it is so easy to fill up a check, why will he be boggish? Let him give fifty dollars to any philanthropic object, or invest five hundred, however safely, in any attempt to ameliorate the sufferings of the poor, and they now see clearly that he has hoards of gold, and can just as well give them all dresses and jewels as not. Thus the man of means or of business is too often regarded by his family as a sponge to be squeezed, a goose to be plucked, an orange to be sucked, a spring to be drank from when thirsty, without at all diminishing its flow. The stuff is there in profusion—the only trouble is to make him give it up.

In vain he remonstrates—implores—puts down his foot. He cannot be eternally contending with those he loves best—he wants quiet at home in order to mature his plans and perfect his operations. If he resists importunity, the pumps are set going, and what man can stand the April showers of feminine sorrow. He gives way at last and throws down the money demanded, hoping that some great news by the next steamship, some turn of luck in his business will make it up to him. Perhaps it does, and he floats on; perhaps it don't, and this last feather has broken the elephant's back. The end, however, near or distant, is morally certain. Treated always as a mine to be opened at will, he finally grows desperate and rushes into reckless speculation or blasting crime, and is overwhelmed with ruin. "Selfish villain!" say the ignorant crowd; "how could he run such a career? How we pity his family!" No doubt of it! But if you knew more, perhaps you would pity him.—[Hints to Reform.

MINNESOTA.—A home missionary writes from Dinoth county:

"There is advancement, I think, in the cause of temperance, though it is not without opposition, both from without, and from those who profess friendship. The peace counsel of the latter retards the execution of the treaty law, which is violated by the introduction of intoxicating liquor into this part of the territory—the Sioux purchase. I learn that the Indians have themselves sent an agent to Washington, to complain of a violation of the treaty in this respect. Much of it is sold to them. We are not without hope that the law may be enforced, and all traffic in it prevented in this region."

On this the editors of the Home Missionary well remark:

"How humiliating it is that we should be compelled to witness barbarians imploring protection against our civilized and Christian iniquity—sending an agent to our government, and praying to be shielded against the grossness and shamelessness of their white neighbors, invoking the solemnity of broken treaties, and appealing to us in the name of morality and of decency! Surely it is time that the universal conscience of this nation had branded rum-selling as a crime, and had made its infamy indelible, in statute and penalty."

"ARE BOWLING SALOONS NUISANCES?"—In the Laws of New Hampshire, 1845, the following Section occurs:

"Any bowling alley situated within 80 rods of any dwelling-house, store, shop, school-house, or place of public worship, shall be taken and deemed to be a public nuisance."

The next section says:

"This act shall not be in force except in such towns as shall at some legal meeting adopt the same."

In Manchester the act has been adopted;—and last week, on the strength of this, a complaint was made against the keeper of a saloon in that city, and he was bound over in the sum of $200 to answer to a higher court.

☞ Mr. David Sherburne, an old and respected citizen of Epsom, aged 77 years, died last week, at home, from injuries received by the sudden starting of his horse at Concord.

PAYING STOCK.—It will be noticed by the Report of the Home Insurance Company, New York City, (of which Messrs. John S. Harvey & Son of this city are Agents) that they have just declared a semi-annual Dividend to stockholders, of 10 per cent. They paid 12 per cent last January—making an annual dividend to holders of stock of twenty-two per cent, besides reserving a large surplus for contingencies.

☞ The Democrats of Concord, last week, raised a splendid flag, 50 feet by 30, with the names of their candidates inscribed upon it—said to be the largest that floats in the State.

☞ The Methodist church in Railroad square, Nashua, was damaged by fire on Saturday evening, to the amount of about $1000. Cause of fire,—spontaneous combustion.

THE PRIVATEERSMEN'S BILL.—Many inquiries have been made in regard to the fate of Mr. Davis's bill, providing for bounty lands to privateersmen. The Newburyport Herald says that it "failed to pass the Senate, and will not be acted upon till next winter, when it will probably pass. Persons interested would lose nothing by being prepared to prove their claims." We think it very doubtful if it can ever be got through the Senate with such a majority as is there now.—[Salem Register.

Potatoes in Michigan are said to be selling at from 37 1-2 to forty cents per bushel, and large quantities are being shipped to Buffalo.

More soldiers of the British Army, it is reliably stated, perished in the Crimea of strong drink, than of war and pestilence combined.

The Mobile Advertiser says Alabama cannot maintain self-respect or obtain her just rights, while she endures such men on her soil as show their preference for Fremont for President!

Vermont has raised her own wheat this year, and will not be having her head cut off by the flour speculators, as last year.—[Vermont Standard.

Rev. Moses Cheney died at Sheffield, Vt., on Saturday, the 8th inst., in his 80th year. He was a preacher of the Gospel for almost fifty years, and father of the "Cheney Family" of singers.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuTh&S 6m.

FROM WASHINGTON.—New York, Sept. 1.—A dispatch from Washington states that the administration is exultant over the passage of the Army bill, and that the President would shortly make a visit to his friends in New Hampshire. It is also stated that orders were issued on Saturday evening for the employment of all the recently discharged workmen at the various national armories.

The church in the south pass of Cazonovia, N.Y., is investigating the case of its minister, who is said to have made dishonorable proposals to a widow of 45 years, and finally overcame her by means of chloroform. The outrage preyed upon her so that she became insane and died.

The Providence Journal says that when time shall have dissipated Mr. Choate's fears and made them ridiculous, that great lawyer will probably attempt to prove that he wrote his Maine letter in a fit of somnambulism.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

THE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.— The one hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the first Printing press in New Hampshire, (at Portsmouth,) seems in a fair way to be celebrated here in becoming style. The citizens generally who were waited upon by the Committee, on Monday, contributed liberally; so that about half the required amount (estimated to be at least $500) is secured. We have no doubt those to be called upon to-day and to-morrow, will make up the balance. No effort will be spared to make the celebration creditable to our city, as it can hardly fail of being.

The occasion is one of peculiar interest to every thinking, reasoning man in the community. Of course, a large number of literary men from abroad will be in attendance. A considerable number of editors and publishers of books and newspapers are happy to own Portsmouth as their native city; and the occasion will draw in many others to enjoy the meeting.

The time talked of, is the 26th of September. It is designed to have a suitable Oration, and perhaps a Poem,—probably in the early part of the day. Then a Dinner in some hall or a tent. A good band of music should add interest to the affair, and will if funds will warrant.

A Regatta is also talked of, to come off in the morning of that day, and a Ball in the evening—as there will of course be many strangers in town. These outside attractions, of course, if gotten up at all, would be under different management than the Printing Celebration Committee.

BURNING OF MOSCOW.—We presume our readers will not forget that the Diorama of the "Conflagration of Moscow," with its collaterals of Dioptric Paintings and Ventriloquism, by Mr. Gallagher, opens this evening, at the Temple, and continues three nights.—We are pleased to see that scenic exhibitions are growing popular with the public, wherein instruction, as well as amusement, is presented. The laughter-inspiring scenes in Ventriloquism, are spoken of as irresistible in their risible effects. There will be a great turn-out, to-night, to witness this popular entertainment.

☞ The special train for the Republican mass meeting at Exeter, leaves Portsmouth (P. & C. Depot) this morning at half-past 7 o'clock. Fare charged one way only. Delegations will be present from all the towns in the District. A large number will probably attend from Portsmouth. A majority of the students of Phillips Academy, who are earnest Freemonters, will join in the procession.

SINGULAR INCIDENT IN PELHAM.

Some time in the early part of last July, says the Lowell Courier, a stray horse was seen wandering about in the woods and pastures near the farm of Capt. Gilbert Coburn, in Pelham, N. H. This horse remained in the vicinity for several weeks and then disappeared, being seen last on the highway. Yesterday, Capt. Coburn having occasion to pass through an extensive piece of woods back of his residence, to get his oxen in a pasture beyond, while traversing a sled road leading through a piece of swampy ground, in a lonely, out-of-the-way hollow, came suddenly upon a chaise and harness, that had every appearance of having been standing in the position where he found them, two months at least. The shafts were completely enveloped in and overgrown by briars and wild grass. The tires of the wheels were very rusty, and the whole chaise completely weather-stained. The boot and cushions were very much mildewed. The harness lay partly on the dasher, and partly inside of the chaise, and had apparently been taken off in great haste. There was a halter with the harness. The whole appearance of the chaise was so singular and suspicious that Capt. Coburn thought it best to have somebody with him before he disturbed it. It was about three or four o'clock in the afternoon when Capt. Coburn made this discovery. About sundown he took Mr. Styles, of Lowell, a milkman, and his son, and returned to the abandoned chaise, harnessed his horse into it and drove it to his house. Upon examination, a pair of lady's gloves rolled up, and a pair of gentleman's do. were found on the cushions, also an odd glove. The gloves were of white kid. The lady's were torn, and appeared to have been taken off clasped. The chaise was originally a very costly and elegant one; probably private property. No traces of foul play have as yet been discovered. The growth of vegetation, however, since it was left there must have obliterated all the more obvious traces of any violent deed, if such occurred there. The chaise is advertised in the Courier. There are appearances of blood on the cushion and carpet. No clue has been found to a solution of this mystery.

DROWNED.—Friday evening, at about 10 o'clock, Jacob Sargent, one of the crew of a hay-boat, which was then lying at Eagle Island, got up in his sleep, walked overboard, and was drowned. His cries in the water aroused the men on board, who made every exertion to save him, but on account of the intense darkness were unable to find him.—Mr. S. was a single man, about 45 years of age, and belonged to West Amesbury. His body was recovered Saturday morning and conveyed to his residence.—Newburyport Herald.

FALSE BILLS.—A man hailing from Epping or Raymond, by the name of Asa F. York, has been arrested in Manchester, for having in his possession false and spurious money, purporting to be issued by the Potomac River Bank, Georgetown, D. C. The amount in his possession is about $20,000—This money has been circulating here and in Boston quite freely for some weeks past, and there is no doubt but that it has been brought here with the intent to pass it, knowing it to be worthless.—American.

The three brothers, Washburn, now in Congress, have all been nominated for reelection.

CONGRESS.

SATURDAY, Aug. 30.

SENATE.—Mr. Crittenden's bill to alter and amend the Kansas Nebraska act was tabled by 22 against 11:

Yeas—Adams, Allen, Bayard, Bright, Brodhead, Brown, Butler, Clay, Douglass, Geyer, Houston, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson, Jones of Tenn., Mason, Pratt, Pugh, Reid, Toucey, Weller and Wright.

Nays—Bell of Tenn., Crittenden, Durkee, Foot, Foster, Harlan, Seward, Thompson of Ky., Trumbull, Wade, Wilson.

A message was received from the House, informing the Senate of the passage of the Army bill, which having been taken up on motion of Mr. Hunter, the Senate struck out the proviso attached to it, by yeas 20, nays 7. The bill was then passed.

The Senate adjourned sine die.

HOUSE.—Mr. Campbell of Ohio obtained unanimous consent to report, by direction of the Committee of Ways and Means, a bill making appropriations to the army. He said it was the old Army bill with the following proviso:—"That no part of the military force of the United States, for the support of which appropriations are made by this act, shall be employed in aid of the enforcement of any enactment heretofore passed in the bodies claiming to be the Territorial Legislature of Kansas." Mr. Campbell demanding the previous question,—

The bill passed as originally reported by a vote of ninety-nine (99) against seventy-nine (79).

On motion of Mr. Benson of Maine, the House took up and passed the Senate's joint resolution authorizing the acceptance of gold medals by Surgeons Williams and Harrison from the Emperor of France; Lieut. Maury from Prussia, Holland and Bremen; and by Prof. Bache from Sweden. Also permitting Dr. Kane and the officers connected with him in the Artic Expedition to accept testimonials of respect from the British government.

A message was received from the Senate, returning the Army bill with an amendment striking out the proviso. The House, under the operation of the previous question, then concurred in the Senate's amendment, striking out the proviso by yeas 101 nays 98.

All the New England members present voted against the bill except Mr. Fuller of Maine, who voted with the majority. The absentees were Messrs. Hall and Burlingame of Massachusetts, and Perry and Wood of Maine.

Mr. Whitney asked but did not obtain leave to introduce a bill to repeal certain acts of the Kansas Legislature, and to define the rights of the people of the territory.

A message was received from the President that he had signed the Army bill.

Mr. Grow of Pa. offered a resolution that the President be respectfully requested to direct the District Attorney for the territory of Kansas to apply for leave to enter a nolle prosequi on all the indictments now pending for treason and other political offences alleged to have been committed in that territory. The resolution was defeated, by calling the yeas and nays on motion to adjourn, until the time concurrently fixed for the termination of the session, half-past three o'clock, when the Speaker declared the House adjourned sine die, before the committee to wait upon the President was reported.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

2 DWELLING HOUSES, with the outbuildings and gardens attached to them, together with the LARGE BARN, Mowing Fields, Tillage Land and Pasture, there being about 17 acres.

This Sale offers a rare opportunity for a profitable investment. The fine view of the ocean, harbor and city from this Point makes it desirable for building purposes, whilst the easy access by water to inexhaustible supplies of sea dressing, renders it valuble as a Vegetable or Milk Farm.

Terms and conditions made known at time and place of sale. For further information apply to JOHN J. PICKERING or Valuable Real Estate at Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction on Saturday, the 6th day of September next, on the premises, at 12 o'clock, M., the large DWELLING HOUSE and LAND appurtenant thereto, belonging to the heirs of the late N. T. S. PEIRCE, deceased, situate on Court Street, near the South Parish Sunday School Room.

The lot of land is very extensive, and the house large and is now rented to good advantage, to three tenants.

The contemplated improvement, to be made the coming spring, by the South Parish Sunday School Society, by building a handsome Chapel, and making attractive grounds, &c., around the same, will greatly enhance the value of Real Estate in that part of the city.

The situation is central, within a short distance of the business portion of the City, and about midway between the Ship-yards on this side of the River. A good title will be given.

Terms made known at the Sale.

For further particulars enquire of WILLIAM H. HACKETT, over the Piscataqua Exchange Bank, or of the Auctioneer, No. 70 State street, where a plan of the premises may be seen.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

WILLIAM CROWLEY & SON,

Oversly Mills, Alcester, England.

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market,) I am prepared to sell them

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and the SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them any and all favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cans, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found a healthy and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections &c.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is generally rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The fertility of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2 50 per acre; by judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands can be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent prolong their incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first year's interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one-tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be broken under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value tour or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONFERENCE.

The Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in New Hampshire, at their meeting in June, 1856,—took the following action on Temperance and Slavery.

1st. Resolved, That we are again called upon to render our heartfelt gratitude to God for the success which has attended the labors of the friends of Temperance the past year.

2d. Resolved, That in our opinion the Prohibitory Law of this State is founded on a correct principle. God never licenses sin, but always prohibits; therefore prohibition is the Divine principle.

3d. Resolved, That it is the duty of Christian Ministers to do what they can to create a good, healthful, moral sentiment on this subject in favor of the thorough execution of the Law.

4th. Resolved, That we will not cease to labor and pray for the complete overthrow of the sale and use of intoxicating drinks in our State.

5th. Resolved, That the use of Alcoholic Wine at the Lord's Table is an obstacle to the advance of Religion, and a decided hindrance to the Temperance Reform, and we earnestly recommend that its use be entirely abandoned.

Report of the Committee on Slavery.—Your Committee, having carefully considered the subject assigned to them, respectfully present the following as their report:

We have been highly gratified to learn that the delegation that represented this Conference, in the General Conference, acted with entire unanimity, on the subject of Slavery, and fairly represented our views; which were ably advocated on the General Conference floor, by one of their number. We also fully approve of the action of the General Conference, that instructed the Corresponding Secretary of the Tract Society, and the Book Agents at New York, to republish, in the form of books and tracts, such anti-slavery literature, embracing Mr. Wesley's Tract on Slavery, as the subject demands. It gives us great pleasure, further to remark, that the general tone of feeling manifested in the delegates of the General Conference, and its action on several occasions, with the allusions made to it in the Pastoral Address, convince us that there is a gratifying and encouraging increase of thorough anti slavery sentiment in the Church. And, although all we desired, was not obtained, yet we look hopefully into the future, and will ever pray, and labor, for the extirpation of Slavery from our beloved Church.

With these views, and feelings, your committee offer the following resolutions for the adoption of the Conference:

1. Resolved, That we believe that all who hold, and treat, their fellow men as articles of property, are guilty of a sin against God and man.

2. Resolved, That regarding Slavery as a great moral evil, we hold, the Church should speak out, on all suitable occasions, in thunder tones, against the sin, as against other national sins; that her ministers and members, in their associate, and individual capacity, should seek to arouse the slumbering consciences of slaveholders and their apologists.

3. Resolved, That we believe that the provisions of our excellent Discipline ought to be construed in harmony with the "higher law,"—the word of God; for it is the law of the Church; and, therefore, whatever prudential regulations we may have that are not in accordance with it, though enacted by our fathers, ought to be regarded as unconstitutional, and should be repealed.

4. Resolved, That we believe our fathers never designed to open the door for the admission of slaveholders into the Church, and that their admission, in every instance since 1784, was an unconstitutional act, being opposed to the spirit of the General Rule.

5 Resolved, That we request the next General Conference, to be held at Buffalo, May 1st, 1860, to so alter the General Rule on Slavery, as to read, "the buying, selling, or holding a human being as property."

6. Resolved, That the Bishops be requested to present the above resolutions to the several Annual Conferences for their concurrence.

7. Resolved, That we believe in, and will ever maintain the right of free speech, in the councils of the Church, and the nation, the pulpit and the press; and we most solemnly deprecate every attempt to deprive any man of the exercise of that right, as it regards the subject of Slavery.

8. Resolved, That we will ever labor, and pray, for the extirpation of the great evil of Slavery, from the Church, and the nation.

FAST YOUNG MEN TAKE NOTICE.—We heard of an incident which took place in or near Alquina, in this county, a few evenings since, which we relate for the especial benefit of those young men who are interested.

After church, a young man—nameless for the present—stepped up to one of the handsomest and best girls of the County—and to whom he had been showing considerable attention of late—and requested the pleasure of her company home. It was granted, and they started. Elated, no doubt, with his success, the young man thrown off his guard, and desiring to say something of a very tender nature, turned his face toward his partner, and whispered his communication. But that was an unlucky whisper, for the same breath that conveyed the message—of love, perhaps—also bore to the olfactories of the lady the fumes of alcohol. Withdrawing her arm from that of her gallant; the Miss turned from him in disgust, exclaiming, "Sir, you have been drinking WHISKY; you can't go with me." And she went her way alone, leaving her lover completely nonplussed, amid the groans and jeers of many spectators of the whole affair. We trust this will be a lesson, not only to this one, but for all young men who read this. The truth of the above is vouched by an eye witness.—[Connersville Tel.

CANADA.—To those who feel disheartened by the repeal of the Maine Law in New Brunswick, we subjoin the following, in relation to Canada. "The Assembly Committee," (of the Canadian Parliament) "reports in favor of downright prohibition. They say no legislative reform has been demanded with such general unanimity. 104,417 signatures appearing for, and only 4,858 against a prohibitory Law—these last coming almost exclusively from liquor-dealers. While petitions in favor of Prohibition have come more numerously from Upper than from Lower Canada, yet no less than nine County Councils of Lower Canada have already anticipated this action of Parliament by ordinances to prevent so far as in their power, the traffic in intoxicating liquors within their limits, under the powers conferred by the municipal Act of 1855."—[Vt. Standard.

HIDEOUS NEWS.—The Calcutta Englishman is determined to frighten us out of our senses. It says—

"At Sreekond some 4000 or 5000 Santhals have collected for re-adjustment of their jummahs, and the amlahs, to the detriment of all other business, are busy writing out new pottahs."

In utter terror and despair, we ask, what is to be done? What can we get, what shall we send, what shall we do? What's a jummah, what are amlahs, what are pottahs? Would the hanging of Mr. Vernon Smith be any use as a preliminary measure? Do the people want fire engines, or subscriptions, or tracts? Let us know what to do—it is a shame to send such messages without a hint of their meaning.—Punch.

Mr. John Duberry, a native of Virginia, has been arrested in Columbus, Miss., for circulating "incendiary" documents, namely, Seward's and Sumner's speeches in the U. S. Senate. He was examined before the Mayor and Justices of the town, and held in the sum of $1000 for trial at a Circuit Court, in default of which bonds he was imprisoned.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1856.

GREAT MEN'S CHANGES.—We have already noticed Mr. Choate's letter for Mr. Buchanan.

Frederick Douglas has taken down the Gerrit Smith flag, and gives two columns of strong reasons for advocating the election of Fremont and Dayton.

Caleb N. Taylor, one of the Fillmore electors for the state of Pennsylvania, has taken the stump for Fremont.

Dr. C. M. Johnson, an old friend of Buchanan in his own county, has refused to serve on the Democratic County Committee, and taken to addressing Fremont mass meetings.

Among the Buchanan campaign speakers in New York and Connecticut, we notice Rev. Matthew Hale Smith, Esq., made a speech the other day at Stamford, in which he said "that the North had no more right to say that there should be no more slave States, than the South had that there should be no more free States." He also pitched into Col. Fremont:

"As a mere adventurer—a Senator of three or four weeks without a speech; a military man, tried and found guilty of mutiny, insubordination, disobedience to orders; in morals, enticing from home a school girl, from the roof of her father, and announced in Beecher's paper as the 'God ordained' candidate for the religious party which indicates its piety by fishing on Sundays."

DRUNKEN ASSAULT AT JAMAICA PLAIN, MASS.—On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Henry Sweetser, of Jamaica Plain, called on his next door neighbor, a negro named John Bancroft, for the purpose of engaging him to help in some farming operations. He found the negro intoxicated, and the house in an uproar. Mr. Sweetser stood at the door, when the negro came out to see what was wanted. Mr. S. upbraided him for being drunk, and abusing his wife, as he supposed was the case; when Bancroft turned to the fire-place, and seizing the iron crane, swung it around, striking Mr. Sweetser on the head, just back of the ear. He fell senseless to the floor, and was conveyed in that state to his own house. His physicians express no hope of his recovery. The negro fled as soon as he had struck the murderous blow; but returned in the evening, was arrested, and now lies in Dedham jail. He has a wife and three children.

BOSTON ITEMS.—A fox was killed at South Boston, Monday morning.

The body of Edward Carr, for many years past the keeper of the pilot boat Coquette, was found in the water at Union wharf, yesterday. He has been missing since Tuesday last.

The Boston National Guard have unanimously voted to accept the invitation to attend the inauguration of the Franklin Statue, and the celebration of the City's Birthday.

☞ Frank Leslie's New York Journal, and his Gazette of Fashion, for the present month, have both arrived. The latter contains a fine colored Plate of Fashions, and its usual number of charts, &c.; engravings illustrative of all branches of female apparel; while the former is filled with matter of interest to the general reader, liberally interspersed with engravings.

☞ We learn from Dwight's Journal of Music that A. W. Ladd, Esq., of Boston, Mass., was officially notified by the last mail from Europe that he had been admitted as a brother member of the Grand Imperial Society of Piano Forte Makers of Paris, as a distinctive mark of honor.

☞ The National Political Map of the United States, received from the publisher, A. Ranney, New York, is quite an ingenious affair, as well as being of considerable value for its statistical information. It gives portraits of the several candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency, and the platforms of their respective parties. Price 25 cents.

The ship Agnes, Leeds, arrived at New York, Sept. 1st,—reports having been run into and badly damaged on the night of the 27th ult., by ship America, bound east. Next day saw the America, apparently putting back, considerably damaged.

PORTER'S SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.—Wm. T. Porter, Esq., the founder and for twenty-six years the editor of the New York Spirit of the Times, has discontinued his connexion with that paper; and will, early in the present month, commence the issue of a new weekly sporting and literary paper, with the title of "Porter's Spirit of the Times."

It will be of the same size and character as the old paper; and the name of the publisher and editor is a sufficient guarrantee of its excellence.

FROM MEXICO.—Baltimore, 2d.—New Orleans papers of Tuesday and Wednesday are at hand. They contain Vera Cruz dates to the 20th, and City of Mexico to the 19th ult. Comonfort's government was prospering and the national affairs improving. The Yellow Fever still prevailed at Vera Cruz. The article in the new Constitution on religious tolerance had been rejected by a vote of 67 to 44.

NICARAGUA.—New York, 2d.—Advices have been received by the Administration, giving glowing assurances of Walker's ultimate success in Nicaragua.

☞ Mr. Isaac Pray, a man of intemperate habits, fell in a fit, while passing over the covered bridge at Saco, on Sunday last, was carried to the nearest house, and died in a short time afterwards. He went to Saco about a year ago, from Great Falls, whither his remains have been carried for interment.

☞ Asa F. York, who was arrested at Manchester for having counterfeit money in his possession, has been held for trial, in $1200 bonds. He has not yet given bail. He has a wife and six children in Epping. The penalty for the offence with which he is charged, is from two to five years in the State Prison.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—We notice some of the papers are already talking of this festival; and naming the third Thursday in November. We hope each State will appoint its own day, and not have a national holiday, as is getting the custom. Maine and Massachusetts are very near New Hampshire; and it is not unpleasant to be able to help friends in each State, to enjoy the bounties wherefor all ought to be thankful.

☞ A letter from Havana, in allusion to the activity recently prevailing there in the slave traffic, estimates from good data, that there have not been less than 14,000 Africans landed on the Island within eight months.

☞ A notorious Boston thief, Fred. Bird, asked Capt. Howland of New Bedford, the time, one night last week. On the Capt. drawing his lever (better have drawn his fist) the fellow seized it, cut the ribbon and made off. He was subsequently arrested, and the watch identified.

☞ The Academy of Music, New York, was opened on Monday night by Max Maretzek, with immense eclat. The crowd was so excessive that many could not gain admission. Signor Tiberini, the new tenor, makes his debut on Wednesday, in Lucia di Lammermoor.

There is said to be no truth in the telegraphic despatch from Kansas, stating that General Pomeroy has been killed. He is in the vicinity of Boston, alive and well.

MR. SUMNER'S HEALTH.—Amid the conflicting accounts of the health of this national and nation-loved martyr to the cause of free speech, we have the best statement of his condition from the pen of Mrs. Swisshelm, who communicates to the Tribune the result of a visit to Dr. Jackson over the Alleghany Mountains, where Mr. Sumner is staying.

Dr. Wistar of Philadelphia gave it as his opinion that there was serious danger of chronic congestion of the brain, and ordered him to the mountains. Dr. Jackson is a Democrat—a most accomplished surgeon, and says he thinks there is blood now settled or congested in the vessels of the membrane which lines the brain-pan, but that with plenty of mountain air, generous diet and exercise, it will gradually be absorbed, and he be restored to his full vigor.

I think there is ample room for the worst apprehensions of his friends. He rides on horseback, over the roughest mountain paths, twelve or fourteen miles a day, and returns with a good appetite for dinner; but a walk of a quarter of a mile prostrates him very much. Prior to his injury, he was considered the best pedestrian in Washington, and ten or twelve miles was only pleasant exercise to him.

He has all the impatience of ordinary men in illness, or in the prospect of restraint, and assures every body that he is doing very well, feels very well, is quite strong, and will surely be able to go to Washington in two weeks. This is what he always said. Ever since his injury, he has been going to be quite well in two weeks; but when he rises from his chair he takes hold of the table. His gait, at a first glance, appears that of a man ninety years of age; but watching him a while, I felt that it was the very kind of a step one takes when creeping through a darkened chamber under the influence of a paroxysm of nervous headache; but he says, with a kind of lofty, incredulous scorn, that his head does not ache! Sometimes he feels a pressure on the top of his head, and it appears to hurt him when he walks; but he will be ready to go to Washington in two weeks. The ardor with which he throws himself into political conversation with any visitor is in a great part born of an action of the brain, and by it the words for which the world is waiting, have been expended on three drunken men. One of the scars upon his head has still a red, angry appearance, and if his face was turned up at the time of the assault, his intended murderer must have been very much above him, for the scars are on the back part of the top head; and this red wound must have been inflicted while his head lay with the face downward. It must have required a very forcible blow to open the scalp through the masses of coarse, strong hair with which his head is crowned.

Those mistaken friends of his who would fain see Brooks maimed or killed, wounding greatly distress him if any such killing or maiming were done by their agency. He shudders at the thought that Burlingame might have shot him; and appears to feel about as much resentment against him as I should feel toward a tile which had fallen upon my head. I could not discern the slightest symptom of chagrin or mortification—no sense of the dishonor of which so many attach to the blow unrevenged. I asked him if he would have defended himself if it had been possible.—"Most certainly," was the prompt reply, "to the best of my ability, and the last extremity."

He appears to have no idea, however remote, of personal enmity in the matter; but, if he was only able to deliver one more speech! His brain is throbbing with pent thunderbolts; and if he could only get into the citadel of his foes and hurl them hissing into their faces! Kansas, Kansas and her wrongs, it he could but fight her battles! He does not appear as if he knew how to be afraid, or could learn it be tried for a lifetime. There is a lion look about him, and a courage which could not stoop to assault so frail a thing as a human body.

FREMONT GATHERING AT EXETER.—The Mass Convention at Exetor, on Tuesday, was a very large assembly of earnest people, representing all the neighboring towns, and some considerably distant. The trains on the Portsmouth & Concord, and on the Boston & Maine Railroads, came in heavily loaded,—and people in carriages poured in till the town seemed to be full of them. A procession was formed which occupied half an hour in passing a given point. This was accompanied by bands of music, and enlivened by banners and flags which were carried by the delegations from the several towns, several of which had cars with the several States represented by misses.

The speaking was appointed at the new Town Hall, but it could not contain a quarter of the hearers. The exercises therefore were held in a field, where about an acre of people gathered up round a rude stand, and half an acre of carriages formed a semi-circle round them, with the hearers sitting at their ease.

The speakers were Messrs. Marston, Clark of Manchester, Goodwin of Portsmouth, Swift of Roston, John P. Hale, and others, whose speeches, interspersed with songs and glees, from a choir, lasted through the day, till time for the several evening trains to leave. Evening speaking was appointed at the Town Hall.

The weather was favorable,—and the meeting quite satisfactory to those who got it up,—as it was said by old citizens to be the largest and most imposing assembly ever convened in Exeter.

☞ The administrationists of Portland are in high feather on account of the passage of the Army Bill, and fired a salute of thirty one guns on Monday, to testify to their joy.

THE PELHAM "MYSTERY" CLEARED UP.—An owner has been obtained for the chaise and harness found, last week, in the woods in Pelham, by Capt. Gilbert Coburn. They prove to belong to Dr. J. C Howe of Haverhill. The doctor's horse and chaise were stolen on the evening of the 17th of June, while standing in the street at Haverhill. The horse was subsequently found going astray in the high way in Methuen, but no clue could be obtained of the chaise and harness till its fortunate discovery by Mr. Coburn. The air of concealed murder which has been mysteriously blended with the story of the discovery of the chaise, is thus very unceremoniously pricked. Doubtless some fellow who wanted a lift towards Manchester, took the horse and chaise to help him along; and being frightened at the idea of pursuit, run it into the woods, set the horse loose, and put out on foot.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—About 4 o'clock this morning, the steamboat Knickerbocker, while on her way from Albany for this city, ran foul of the mast of a sunken vessel, and immediately began leaking at a rapid rate, under the ladies' cabin. The vessel was, at the time, near Fort Montgomery, and, by crowding on a full head of steam, she was run into Montgomery Creek, where she soon afterwards sunk. There were about 200 passengers on board, all of whom were saved by the sloop Mechanic, which happened to be in the vicinity. Twenty-two horses and a large number of sheep were drowned.

YELLOW FEVER.—The New York Times mentions some twenty-five cases of yellow fever at Fort Hamilton as being all which are there. The authorities report no cases at New York.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThs&S 6m.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way to

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight." They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

LIVIUS—BOYD—RAYNES—WALKER.

A walk or a ride, round the North Mill Creek, which we commonly but improperly call the North Mill Pond, gives a greater variety of beautiful views than can often be found in two miles of travel. On the North West side of the Creek, as the rider turns away from the Woodbury mansion towards Christian Shore, the town farm lies on his left, with its fine fields set off by the college like Alms House, in its ample size and noble proportions. On the right, across the fields and beyond the creek, the steam rises from the factory, plume-like in the morning sunshine;—a railway train creeps out on its track, retreats, and then thunders, darting out on its course; and settlement, dense and busy, but quiet, covers the whole southern shade from east to west, and seeming all the way to touch the railway tracks, which narrow and straighten its border. Before him are the tide mills, the noble mansion house almost adjoining,—the frames of two or three great ships—the Railroad and Portsmouth Bridges, and Noble's Island covered with buildings, timber, and embryo vessels.

This is the view of to-day. But we go back 90 years, and then we find a different view. Then there was a little settlement at the head of the creek, where was a dam, forming a pond of fresh water, a grist mill, half a dozen houses, and a ship yard. But there were scarcely any buildings on either side, near the creek, below the ship yard.

In 1764, as we learn from Mr. Adams's Annals, Peter Livius, Esq., made proposals to the town for building a bridge across Islington Creek, twenty feet wide, part whereof to consist of a lifting-bridge thirty feet long, with flood gates under it of the same length: upon condition that the town would grant him the exclusive right to dam the water-course in said creek, together with all the benefits that may accrue therefrom to him, his heirs, and assigns forever. Whereupon the town, at a legal meeting called for the purpose, voted,

"That there be and hereby is granted to Mr. Peter Livius of this town, the sole and exclusive right and privilege to dam up the water course in Islington Creek, and to erect whatever mills may appear profitable to him thereon, together with all the profits and advantages that may accrue therefrom to him, his heirs, and assigns forever, on the following conditions, viz.: That wholly and solely at his own proper cost and charges he shall erect, and forever maintain a bridge across the said creek, for the passage of the public, toll-free. That the said bridge shall be twenty feet wide, sufficiently strong for carts and horses, and that part thereof shall consist of a lifting bridge of thirty feet in length, for the conveniency of floating up and down any crafts, lumber, &c., or vessels, toll-free; That there shall be made a pair of flood-gates in the dam, thirty feet wide under the said lifting-bridge; That he be at liberty to build the bridge, and adjoin his buildings thereto, in the manner that shall appear most convenient to him; and further, that if within seven years from this meeting, the above conditions be not complied with, then the above granted premises to revert to the town, to be regranted; or in case the said bridge should not constantly be kept in good and passable repair by the said Livius, or his heirs or assigns, then also the said privileges to revert to the town as aforesaid; and also to build two or more grist-mills on said stream, and keep them also in repair."

Mr. Livius accepted this grant and proceeded without delay to build the dam and erect grist-mills upon it. He likewise constructed the bridge over the dam, agreeable to his stipulations with the town.

Mr. Livius, probably about the same time, built for his residence, the large and commodious dwelling-house, which, somewhat enlarged, was for half a century from the Revolution, known as the Boyd House; and which, being still more enlarged, is equally well known as the Raynes House—standing as it were in the midst of the ship yard, from whence have gone to sea a fleet of great ships.

Mr. Livius was a man of some consequence, politically,—and in 1771, when some action was taken in the Governor's Council, of which he was a member, he dissented, one against the other seven, from some important measures, of the Governor and Council, and carried complaints of the same to England. The Lords of the King's Council brought in a report on the subject, favorable to the Governor. Belknap says:

In this controversy, Mr. Livius met with great support, from the interest of those who wished to displace the governor; and they became so deeply engaged to him, as to procure for him an appointment to be the chief justice of New Hampshire; but, upon more mature consideration, this was thought too likely to produce discord and confusion, and he obtained an appointment to a more lucrative office in the province of Quebec.

When the final issue of the complaint was known in New Hampshire, a general satisfaction appeared among the people. At the next session of the assembly, the house of representatives presented to the governor, an address of congratulation, in the name of their constituents; and the citizens of Portsmouth gave a splendid ball, to which the governor and both houses of assembly were invited.

Mr. Livius probably left Portsmouth for Quebec in 1773, or early in '74.

PORTSMOUTH STEAM FACTORY.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Steam Factory, was holden at the Custom House in this city, on Tuesday forenoon. The President being absent, Wm. H. Y. Pickett, Esq., was chosen Chairman. The Treasurer, Mr. Wm. S. Eaton, submitted his annual Report,—from which it appears that the product of the past year was 3,403,489 yards, against 2,816,870 yards the year before. The sales for the past year have been 3,324,131 yards, yielding a profit which enables the Company to make a dividend of 6 per cent., payable on the 10th instant. The prospect for the ensuing year is regarded as favorable.

John P. Handy was re-elected Proprietors' Clerk and the following named gentlemen were chosen Directors: Ichabod Goodwin, John Rowlston, Wm. P. Jones, John A. Blanchard, Calvin W. Clark, Samuel Batchelder, Nathaniel Goddard.

THE NEW CUSTOM HOUSE AND POST OFFICE.—We understand that the Collector and Postmaster have been advised by the Secretary of the Treasury, that he has advertised (we not learn in what paper) for Proposals to be received by them until the 20th of September, for a site for this building. At the expiration of the time, they are to open the proposals, and report to the Secretary. This indicates that the work is to be commenced without delay.

For the Chronicle.

THE NEW CUSTOM HOUSE AND POST OFFICE.—Messrs. Editors:—All of our citizens become more or less interested in the location of the proposed building,—and the desire to have it central as possible being general, would it not be well for such as take an interest in the matter to recommend or point out such sites or places as they may think most proper? And then when the committee are appointed to locate, they can decide which place is the most suitable, or make some new selection for themselves.

That it should be somewhere in the vicinity of Market Square, as you very properly suggested on Monday, I believe all will agree.

All public buildings, to show to advantage, should be wholly disconnected from those of an inferior class. And no one would wish to see a handsome building crowded on a small lot, and that surrounded by a cluster of buildings of a different and doubtful style of architecture.

The present Custom House and Post Office has given general satisfaction, as far as location is concerned. I would therefore take the liberty to suggest the propriety of occupying the lot on the opposite side of Penhallow Street, running back from Penhallow about one hundred and ten feet, and extending from Daniel to State street, parallel with Penhallow. This would make a lot of one hundred and ten feet by about three hundred, which appears to be as small a lot as a building of the proposed dimensions should occupy.

Then, when the buildings now standing are removed from the premises, the new structure erected near the centre of the lot, the grounds properly graded and surrounded by a suitable fence and trees, with an entrance to the enclosure and buildings upon each street, we shall have an ornament to our city of which all our citizens may justly be proud, and we shall find none who are opposed to the location. X.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 1.

☞ It will be observed that the annual Pic-Nic of the Young Men's Christian Association, and their friends, will be held at Raymond to-day. The location is fine, and they will of course have a good time. See advertisement for particulars.

☞ The committee to procure subscriptions to the amount of $500, to carry out the Centennial Celebration of the Anniversary of the establishment of Printing in this state, would report favorably to having the celebration in this city. They will complete their circuit to-day, and if received as liberally as heretofore, the thing is sure. "Down with your" names!

☞ A Democratic Mass Convention will be held at Concord on Friday, Sept. 5. A special train will leave Portsmouth on the P. & C. Railroad, at half past 6 o'clock on that morning. Fare half price. Returning on any of the regular trains on Friday or Saturday.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousan Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an interior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crossley." A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has mape arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be ramitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would abd that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in the and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any personal acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R'H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

From the Exeter News Letter

MONUMENT TO WHITEFIELD.

Mr. Editor:—A proposal was made in the General Association, which is of much interest to the inhabitants of Exeter, and all the State. Will you please give a place to the action, which best describes the proposal:

Wednesday, A. M.—Z. A. Barstow, D. D. of Keene, presented the following overture:

"The General Association of New Hampshire, remembering the providence of God, in their meeting in this place where nearly ninety years ago that eminent minister of Jesus Christ, Rev. George Whitfield, preached his last sermon,—(within a few hours of his departure from life,) and desirous of perpetuating the memory of that great devotion to labor for the salvation of souls and wonderful success therein; deem it advisable to propose the placing of some monument on, or near the spot of that final labor.

We therefore, Resolve, That a committee of three be chosen to consider and report upon the matter at some time before the Association."

This was adopted without dissent — and Rev. L. Whiting, N. Bouton, D. D., and Rev. Asa Mann were elected the committee.

On Thursday 28, they made the following report:

"The books of Deuteronomy, the Chronicles, Ezra, Nehemiah, and the Acts of the Apostles may be styled the monumental books of the Scriptures; of the biblical famed deeds of men. Inspiration thus indicates its care for the past.

It is a constant feature of mankind advance from barbarism to perpetuate the great and worthy acts of the past.

The Churches of New Hampshire have in possession the scene of an event: the preaching of the last sermon of that beloved disciple of Christ, the world-renowned Rev. GEORGE WHITFIELD, who on Saturday, the 29th day of September, 1770, closed his earthly labors in a Sermon at Exeter, near the spot where the General Association are now assembled.

The Association, mindful of God's eminent grace in this preacher of the gospel, unparalleled by any example since the Protestant Reformation, and deploring the absence of those days of revival so signal under his labor, and longing to witness again such days; would seek by preserving the remembrance of those scenes here, through some suitable MEMORIAL STONE that shall remind the resident, the visitor, and the traveller of them, to deepen the desire for their return.

To these ends your committee unanimously propose to the General Association, now convened, to appoint a committee of seven persons—three from this body, and four from the citizens of the town of Exeter, to procure subscriptions, determine the position, plan and legend of the memorial, and to erect the same agreeably to the above expressed designs

We also recommend that a subscription for the above purposes be opened by the Association.

L. WHITING, N. BOUTON, ASA MANN, } Committee.

BUCHANAN.—It is undoubtedly true, as some of the papers say, that Mr. Buchanan, if elected, will run in Mr. Peirce's footsteps. We have seen a gentleman from Pennsylvania, who assures us that Mr. B. has had a pair of shoes made already that will just fit those steps, and is daily practising the required stride, as his legs are somewhat longer than President Peirce's. This may account for the answer of the same gentleman to our question, "what is Mr. Buchanan's position?" says he, "It is perpendicular."—[Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A WORTHLESS GUANO ISLAND.—Washington, September 1st.—The Intelligencer of this morning publishes an extract from Commodore Merwin's report, in regard to the newly discovered guano island in the Pacific. The Commodore says the island is covered with luxuriant vegetation, which is indicative of heavy rains and the consequent worthlessness of the guano thereon. A large deposit of bird lime was found on the island, but it was in a state of decomposition.

NOT SO.—Last Sabbath evening, Neal Dow delivered a lecture before the Washingtonians of Portland. He distinctly and squarely announced that, so far as he was concerned, the restoration of the Maine Law, in all its stringency, was his sole aim in this canvass. He condemned severely those professed temperance men who were playing the hypocrite in this matter. After he was through, Mr. Peck arose and attempted to vindicate his course in ignoring, for the present, the Maine Law. But Dow and others "put him over the course," in such handsome style that there seemed to be nothing left of him —Portland Argus.

This statement respecting what Mr. Dow "squarely announced" and his controversy with Mr. Peck, is, we are authorized to say, a downright falsehood.—Portland Advertiser.

Nathan Dane, Esq., of Alfred, straight Whig, who was nominated for Senator by the black republicans, has declined their nomination.—Saco Democrat.

This is a mistake. Nathan Dane has not declined the nomination for Senator made by the party which the Democrat characterizes as the "Black Republican." We are authorized to say that he accepts the nomination of the Republican party, and we are entirely confident that his selection will be confirmed by his election on the 8th day of September, by a large majority of his fellow citizens.—We need say no more on this point.—Biddeford Union.

SANDWICH ISLANDS.—King Kamehamaha was married at Honolulu on the 19th June, to Miss Emma Rooke, daughter of Dr. T. C. B. Rooke. The ceremony was performed according to the rites of the Church of England. About three thousand persons were present on the occasion. In the evening there was a grand ball at the palace. The king is 22 years old, the queen 20.—On the 3d of July, H. E L Keelikolaui, the governess of Hawaii, was united in marriage to Isaac Y. Davis, Esq.—The 4th of July was celebrated with more than usual spirit in Honolulu.—A ball was given in the evening.

THE BARBECUE—No Drunkenness.—There never was a great gathering of the people, especially during a political campaign, when there was so little disturbance as on Tuesday last, at the Fremont barbecue. We did not see a drunken man on the ground. There were no rows, no disturbances of any kind — This was owing in a great measure to the fact that liquor was not sold. Two or three men attempted to sell, but were soon routed and took to their heels. Great credit is due to those who had charge of the grounds, for their efficiency and promptness in maintaining order.—Boston Tel.

THE UNDER-SIDE VIEW.—Rev. Nehemiah Adams, author of "a South Sid View of Slavery," was overturned in carriage while riding with two ladies an two children in East Princeton on th 27th. No one was seriously hurt.—[Lowell Courier.

In Bullit county, Ky., Mrs. Thomas Jones shot dead her husband's brother, Jerry Jones, who had made improper advances to her. She fired three balls into his head and body. The examining magistrate acquitted her. The two Joneses married sisters named Bardett, and the families were near neighbors.

An old cynic, at a concert the other night, read in a programme the title of a song viz:—"Oh, give me a cot in the valley I love." Reading it over attenlively, the old fellow finally growled, "Well, if I had my choice, I should ask for a bedstead."

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1856.

FROM KANSAS.

The Boston Advertiser has received interesting accounts from Kansas, relative to the skirmishes at Franklin, and to the state of the affairs in the territory since that time. For several weeks previous to the 13th of August, gangs of invaders had been roaming about, robbing and slaying, and then retreating laden with booty, to the fortifications which they had erected in different parts of the country. After suffering these indignities for some time, the free state men, exasperated by the murder of Major Hoyt, marched against the fortification at Franklin and compelled the inmates to surrender. A block-house at Washington Creek, occupied by several hundreds of the enemy, was next captured. The camp of Col. Titus was then attacked, and the colonel, after making an effort to defend the men and provisions which formed his sinews of war, was compelled to surrender all. Col. Titus and one free-state man were badly wounded in the engagement.

After the route of the hostile camps a temporary peace was negotiated, in which prisoners were exchanged, and the howitzer taken in the siege of Lawrence, last May, was delivered to its original owners, the free-state men.

It is a cause for congratulation that the invaders were at length separated from the United States authorities. The loyalty of the free inhabitants of Kansas forbids them to raise a finger against the power of the country even when that power lends itself to the sacking of a city. The fact of this separation is doubtless owing in a great measure to the intercourse of the prisoners who are confined in the camp of the United States forces, with the officers in command. The prisoners instruct their keepers in the true history of the affair. It is said that the Government officers have expressed themselves in terms of compliment at the conduct of the free-state men in the attack upon Col. Titus's strong hold. Many of them had just arrived, and had walked barefoot one hundred and fifty miles. When volunteers for a difficult enterprise were asked of a Chicago company, every man but one stepped forward.

We are gratified to learn that the church at Lawrence is rapidly approaching completion. The friends of the cause have already contributed enough to render it fit for use.

The Transcript publishes a letter from Rev. Mr Nute of Lawrence, Kansas, dated August 20, which gives the particulars of the murder of another Massachusetts man. It says:

"Words are wanting to convey to you an idea of the grief and horror which chills my blood. The fiendish doings of our enemies have come so near to me and mine, as to render me incapable of writing a cool narration of the events of the last two weeks.

My brother-in-law, Mr. William Hopps, lately from Illinois, and formerly of Somerville, Mass., was murdered yesterday near Leavenworth city. He left our house in the morning, to return to Leavenworth, having made us a visit, leaving his wife with us, sick. The sad tidings reached us but an hour since. He was shot as he was riding in, and then scalped. On the approach of a team from this direction, the murderer fled, went into Leavenworth, and exhibited with savage exultation, the scalp, exclaiming, 'I went out for the scalp of a d--d abolitionist, and I have got one.' This new victim was a quiet, kind hearted young man. He had chosen his home in Leavenworth because of his reluctance to take part in the contest. He was averse to bearing arms, and was utterly defenceless at the time. This is the third man who has gone out from under our roof during the last week, straight to his death by the hands of these brutal bounds of slavery.

I have no heart nor time for complaints. I am about to start with a small volunteer company to attempt the recovery of the body of my friend and, his property. I have no scruples against borrowing a Sharpe's rifle, and I pray God give me calmness and skill to use it effectively if we are attacked, notwithstanding the sneers of those who desire that we should be left without protection against these butcheries.

"Last night we sent a messenger to the camp of the United States dragoons near Lecompton, with a request for a detachment to escort a train of our teams over this road to Leavenworth, to bring down provisions and other goods, and we were refused, and told that all the United States forces in the territory are ordered to repair immediately to that headquarters of all pro-slavery ruffianism, Lecompton."

The Springfield Republican publishes two letters from the same gentleman, one of which (dated Aug. 22) refers to the above melancholy event and the other to the movements of the free state men. We make some extracts:

"There is not a single sack of flour or a bushel of meal for sale in this vicinity, and we have at least 2000 men, women and children to be fed. What shall we do—what can we do, but fight our way through, with the desperation of men who know themselves surrounded by merciless savages! This we are determined to do. You will have the reports of the bloody work before this reaches you.—It may be that nothing short of a massacre of the suffering people of Kansas, will arouse this nation to a sense of the inconceivable wickedness of the men who are at the head of affairs. You may imagine the feelings with which I read the cold blooded sneers, the diabolical sport which is made of our sufferings in the Boston Post, which I have just received. Are all the feelings of humanity, is all sense of decency, dead in the souls of the men who uphold this infamous administration?

"We are having war in earnest—four fights within the last five days, in all of which the Free State men were the assailants and the victors; four lives lost on our side, and some eight or ten badly wounded. Twice we have heard the booming of cannon and rattle of muskets and rifles, and seen the flame and smoke of burning forts and cabins. Two nights ago, I and my nearest neighbor were visited by a scouting party of the enemy, and two horses stolen. Every night we bring ours (we have two fine ones, I and the man who works for me,) close to the house, keep our Sharpe's rifles in readiness, and take turns in keeping guard.

"One night we had four men and a sick woman with us in our little cabin. We have got to the closest place I hope, and I believe, with God's help, we shall force our way through. The fiendishness of these wretches is a tax on credulity. Poor Hoyt went from our house but an hour or two before he was murdered.

Another man by the name of Williams, from Massachusetts, was taken that day and also shot; both bodies have been recovered.—Do you wonder that our men turned out en masse to route that fort, and also the den of Col. Titus next day, and that some clamor today for the hanging of this wretch Titus?

"But this is horrible business, and I feel the influence that makes fierce tigers of the mildest men. When I looked on Titus, and thought of his part in the proceedings of last May, and the murders of Hoyt and Williams, I came very near joining in the cry, "Hang him on the spot." But, on a second thought, I gave my voice for mercy. The wretch cowered and plead for his life, promising to leave the territory.

VERMONT ELECTION.—The telegraphic despatches from Montpelier Sept. 2, give returns of the election in Vermont so far as received, for Governor, Members of Congress, and the Legislature. At the last election, the following candidates were voted for for Governor, viz.:—Royce, Republican; Clark, Democratic; Slade, Know Nothing, with scattering votes for a Temperance candidate. But two candidates were voted for this year, viz.: Fletcher, Republican; and Keyes, Democrat.

The majority for the Republicans last year over the Democrats was about 9000. From the towns received, there is a large gain over this majority.

We have but few returns of the vote for Members of Congress, but sufficient to indicate the full triumph of the Republicans.

In 70 towns heard from the Democrats appear to have elected only three members to the Legislature. The Republicans have made a clean sweep of the State by a large increase over the majority of last year.

Somebody said, not long ago, it was quite probable Vermont would throw her electoral vote for Fillmore. Wonder where that man is now.

BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.—An informal meeting of stockholders, (a kind of caucus,) was held in Boston on Tuesday. A large Committee was raised to nominate Directors. On this Committee were Wm. Sturgis of Boston, Richard Jenness of Portsmouth, Ezekiel Hurd of Dover, Ezra Barker of Stratham, and others.

The Committee reported unanimously for Directors—John Gardner of Dedham, Andrew Peirce, Jr. of Dover, Henry L. Williams, Francis B. Hayes and William J. Walker of Boston, Charles Porter of Haverhill, Amos Tuck of Exeter. For Clerk—William H. L. Smith of Boston.

The report was unanimously accepted.

A motion was carried to nominate three persons to be supported as an auditing committee for the ensuing year—and the following persons nominated without dissent:—John McDuffie of Rochester, Richard Jenness of Portsmouth, and William R. Austin of Dorchester, Mass.

The minority of the present board of Directors, have just made a report, which shows up the ruling powers in no very enviable light, as their works follow them.

CHEAP TRAVELLING ON COWS.—Dr. Dowan writes to the "Notes and Queries," that in an article on "Fashions," in Encyclopædia Brittanica, 8th edit., Part II., vol. ix., the following illustration occurs:

We have never heard of any one who followed the fashion set and advocated by Asclepiades, who tried to bring cheap locomotion into general favor, and who travelled about the world on a cow, living on her milk by the way.

"Since I wrote that article, however," he adds, "I have met with mention of a town in which this example was followed. In the Voyage of Italy, by Richard Lassels, Gent.,—a book which was printed in Paris in 1670, and the author of which had made the 'voyage' five times as tutor to 'several of the English nobility and gentry,'—the subjoined singular instance may be met with:"

I observed in this town (Piacenza) a valuable piece of thriftiness used by the gentlewomen, who make no scruple to be carried to their country houses near the town in coaches drawn by two cows yoked together. These will carry the Signora a pretty round trot unto her villa; they afford her also a dish of their milk, and after collation, bring her home again at night, without spending a penny.

FELL INTO A PIT.—The Charlestown Advertiser says that the captain of a vessel lying at one of the wharves got a little intoxicated on Wednesday, and at about twelve o'clock at night, lost his road on the way to his vessel, and fell into one of the tan-pits on the vacant lot between Princeton and Tufts Streets. City Marshal Chamberlain lives close by, and hearing the man's outcries went to his assistance and pulled him out pretty well tanned, and afterwards piloted him to his vessel. The man thinks there is a difference, undoubtedly, between going "down to the sea in ships" and down into a tan-pit among chips.

PROGRESS.—A lot of land in Manchester, 100 feet by 100, was sold last week, for $1500, which five years ago was beyond the point marketable for house lots; and to day sells for fifteen cents a foot, and dwellings are thick about it. Enterprise alone does this.

SMART GIRL.—On Tuesday last, while a family in Charlestown, Mass., were busy moving, the Irish servant girl found a man in the yard, busily engaged in stealing the clothes from the clothes line. The girl rushed boldly to the spot and seized the man by the throat, and notwithstanding his struggles to get away she held on to him and made him drop every article, and then started with the rascal under arrest, for a police officer; but meeting a friend and neighbor, she was foolishly advised to let the man go, and she did so, and he escaped the punishment which he justly deserved.

☞ A correspondent of the Charlestown Advertiser states that the town of Deerfield is this year erecting a new and handsome Town House, which will be an ornament to the village. The Baptist church has also been undergoing repairs, and presents a neat and pleasing appearance.

COST OF A RUM MOB.—The Portland Argus states that the tax payers of that city have thus far paid $3053.26, for the quelling of the rum mob in which John Robbins, a ring-leader, was shot; not including sums paid for extra police—and the end is not yet.

VALUABLE COLT.—Samuel H. Edgerly, of Manchester, has a stud colt three months old, for which he has been offered six hundred and fifty dollars. Horsemen call it a perfect specimen of youthful horse flesh. This colt was sired by Ethan Allen. He has Ethan's color, and opens even now like a trotter. So says the Mirror.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.—This beautiful and useful record of the arts, sciences, and manufactures, commences a new volume on Sept 13. It is invaluable to the mechanic and artisan of every vocation. Published by Messrs. Munn & Co., New York, at the low price of $2 per annum.

☞ We learn from a correspondent, that a man by the name of Rogers, was shot at and severely wounded, on Sunday, while picking up apples under a tree in Berwick, about half a mile from Great Falls; by a man named Ricker, who has since been arrested and committed to Alfred jail.

It being necessary, a few days ago, to perform an operation upon a favorite horse belonging to Rev. A. W. Burnham, of Rindge, N. H., chloroform was given with complete success. The horse lay down quietly in a sound sleep, and did not wake till fifteen minutes after the operation was over, having apparently suffered not a particle of pain.

Two workmen guilty of having uttered some remarks, in a workshop, reflecting upon the Emperor Napoleon, have been sentenced to five years imprisonment and ten years surveillance.

The desire of power in excess caused the angels to fall; the desire of knowledge in excess caused man to fall; but in charity there is no excess.

When George the Third was told that Wolf was quite unfit to command, and was in fact a madman, the monarch replied, "Mad—mad—mad! Wolf mad! Wish he'd bite some of the other Generals?"

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThs 6m.

☞ Mr. R. A. Whitten, a fireman of Lawrence, after visiting the ruins made by the fire on Saturday, was sitting in a chair engaged in conversation—fell forward on his face, and immediately expired. A post mortem examination showed the bursting of a blood-vessel in the back of his head.

☞ The Portsmouth (Virginia) Transcript states that large crowds are gathered each Sabbath afternoon, in that city, to listen to street preaching by the clergyman of the place. "Go ye out into the highways, &c."

HARTFORD, Sept. 2.—The Fremont Camp is crowded to overflowing to hear Pothiphar Curtis and Thomas Van Buren. From 3000 to 5000 persons are present. Crowds are still hurrying to the camp. The Fremonters of Hartford are confident of success, both in state and nation.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

At a meeting on Tuesday evening, of the Committee of Arrangements, chosen to decide the matter of having an appropriate Celebration here, of the one hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the first Printing Press in New Hampshire—it was voted to have such a celebration. The soliciting committee reported subscriptions secured to a considerable amount; and that without doubt the many enterprising and interested citizens yet to be called upon, would make up the required amount.

The day fixed upon is Friday, the 26th of September. The order of exercises will probably be an Oration and one or more Poems, at the Temple; a Dinner at Jefferson Hall—to invited guests, and citizens who wish to attend. As a good band of music will be in attendance, it is the desire of some to have a Procession in the morning, and a Ball or social dance at Congress Hall in the evening—which are yet to be decided upon. Exertions are also being made to get up a regatta or boat-race on the river, in the early part of that day.

The Committee of Arrangements consists of Messrs. Richard Jenness, E. N. Fuller, Ichabod Goodwin, Charles W. Brewster, Frank W. Miller, Robert Morrison, Samuel Gray. Of these, C. W. Brewster, Esq., has been chosen Treasurer; and any sums handed to him or either of the Committee for the purpose, will be judiciously expended in the cause. It is desirable that we do the thing up creditably to the city, and in a manner worthy of the event we celebrate; and the mere accident of any man being passed by in the circuit of the committee, should not prevent the enterprise receiving the aid of all who are able, and who certainly should feel an interest in such public matters. We have no doubt the celebration will come off in good shape—as all seem disposed to aid.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW SCHOOL HOUSE.—The services of Dedication of the New High School House in Daniel street, will take place in that building this afternoon, at half past 2 o'clock precisely.

The exercises will be as follows:

1st. Delivery of the Building to the Mayor by the Building Committee.

2d. Prayer; by Rev. Dr. Peabody.

3d. Ode; written for the occasion by Albert Laighton.

4th. Address; by Rev. Dr. Burroughs.

5th. Remarks; by Rev. Dr. Lamson and others.

6th. Delivery of the Building to the High School Committee, by the Mayor.

7th. Ode; written for the occasion, by Miss Louisa Simes.

8th. Benediction.

The officers for the occasion are:—

Mayor.—Richard Jenness.

High School Committee—Robert O. Treadwell, George Chesley, Richard Tripe.

Building Committee—Abraham Q. Wendell, Moses H. Goodrich, Wm. Tucker.

☞ This evening is the last opportunity to witness the Conflagration of Moscow, at the Temple. It is altogether less dangerous, and vastly more satisfactory to spectators, than was the veritable event of which this is a copy. The Dioptric Paintings are excellent; and Mr. Gallagher, the ventriloquist, makes fun enough. The whole entertainment is well worthy of patronage, and everybody will be repaid for attendance.

☞ By an article on our outside, it will be seen that a Monument is to be erected in Exeter to Rev. George Whitefield. We state this result as certain, for the plan devised can hardly fail.

☞ The United States ship Vandalia, which is expected at this naval station some time in October, was attached to Commodore Perry's Exploring Expedition, and has been employed on the East India station upwards of three years.

☞ A Democratic Mass Convention will be held at Concord on Friday, Sept. 5. A special train will leave Portsmouth on the P. & C. Railroad, at half past 6 o'clock on that morning. Fare half price. Returning on any of the regular trains on Friday or Saturday.

FREE SPEECH.—Rev. L. A. Grimes, pastor of a colored church in Boston, came to this city a few days since, and engaged the South Congregational Church for Sunday evening, and advertised his discourse through the city churches during the day, as upon the fugitive slave law and his own sufferings under its practical working. A large audience assembled at the church to hear him, but the door was found locked, and the sexton informed the preacher and his hearers that the keys had been taken by one of the church committee who ordered him not to open the building.—Mr. Grimes therefore adjourned the services to the steps of the City Hall where he collected quite a large assembly, and made a good address.—Springfield Republican.

FATAL AFFRAY IN WALTHAM.—As a party of intoxicated Irishmen in Waltham were going home a week ago last Sarurday night, one of the number named Michael Larkin, threw a stone or brickbat, which struck John Cady on the head, injuring him so severely as to cause his death on Friday last. Larkin fled, and thus far has eluded arrest.

Parliament is further prorogued to Nov.

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 2.—Political.—The "Edie" American State Council of Pennsylvania met here to-day. Forty one councils were represented by 101 delegates. J. J. Clyde of Harrisburg, was elected President, and Gen. Wm. H. Irwin, Vice-President. No business of any consequence was transacted. Pending a resolution endorsing Fillmore and Donelson, the Council adjourned sine die.

DESTRUCTION OF THE TOWN OF ATLATA.—A letter dated Mazatlan, June 13th, 1856, says:—"On the 12th inst., a large quantity (three hundred kegs) of gunpowder was being shipped for this place, when by some native stupidity, fire came in contact with it, causing immediate explosion, by which thirteen men were instantly killed, and twenty or thirty wounded, and destroying the whole town."

CINCINNATI, August 2.—Political.—Senators Douglas, Cass and Bright are addressing a great Democratic meeting at Indianapolis to-night, John C. Breckinridge is also expected to speak.

SAD AFFAIR IN LOWELL.—On Friday evening a melancholy affair occurred between Mr. John C. Treadwell, a well known citizen, and his son William, a man of 25 years; in which the father received a blow which fractured his skull, and sustained injuries so serious that for a time his life was despaired of.

It would appear that Mr. Treadwell is a very passionate man, with little discretion or control of his feelings. A neice of Mr. Treadwell's was visiting the family with her husband. Mr. Treadwell in the early part of the day cautioned his son against making use of vulgar or profane language in the presence of his visitors; and so fearful was he that his caution had not been heeded, that when the family, together with the visitors, were seated at the supper table, he said to his son:—

"William, have you used any profane language to-day?" The reply was, "I don't know that I have." The father then asked the husband of the niece if he had heard him (the son) use any profane language. His reply was, in substance, "I don't know that I have much." Thereupon the father proceeded to administer to the son a homily upon the enormity of the sin of swearing, greatly to his mortification.

The mother attempted to change the conversation, and incidentally the name of a little daughter of hers, who had died two or three weeks previous, and who was a great favorite of the son, was mentioned, when he (the son) exclaimed, "for God's sake, mother, don't mention her holy name here." In a moment the father arose from the table, seized the son by the collar, pulled him into another room, exclaiming, "I will not have such profane language used in my house," and closed the door after him. Loud and angry words ensued; a blow was heard, and still aaother; the son was heard to exclaim, "for God's sake, father, do not strike me again! The parties then entered the room; the son was then in the act of raising himself from the floor, and the father was in the act of inflicting another blow, which was warded off by the son, and he then rose and struck his father one blow with his clenched hand upon the head, and the consequence was a fractured skull.

It seems strange that a man, old enough to have a son of 25 years, should not have learned more of human nature in so long a life, than to exercise so much zeal with so little knowledge.

SUICIDE.—Joseph J. Brown, of Isleboro', an inmate of Thomaston State Prison, who was tried at Belfast last spring, for the murder of his wife, and sentenced to be hung, committed suicide on the morning of the 26th ult.

THE LANES.—The New York Times, in reply to the question who are the Lanes, so often mentioned in political reports, gives the following:

"There are three Lanes, and each of them very unlike either of the others. The first is Col. James H. Lane, leader of the Free State men in Kansas. The second is General Lane, delegate in Congress from the Territory of Oregon,—who was the "friend" of Colonel Brooks in his affair with Mr. Burlingame.—Both these were formerly Democrats. The third is Henry S. Lane of Indiana, an old Henry Clay Whig, and one of the ablest stump speakers in the West. It was he who presided over the Republican Convention of Philadelphia.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and delicate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crowley" A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

PLOVERS.—We learn from the Nantucket Mirror that the green-headed or golden plover was never more abundant on Nantucket than during the past week. "The whole south side of the Island, from "Nobadeer" to "Great Neck," has been overrun with gunners, both from home and abroad, and a continual popping has been kept up at every bunch that has taken wing during the day. On monday last Mr William C. Dunham shot 51 plovers, and on Tuesday, large bunches were got by a number of persons. When the birds are plenty—as at present—plover shooting is undoubtedly the best sport afforded the amateur gunner."

☞ The gunners are taking a goodly number of plovers upon the marshes and in the pasture, where they are accustomed to congregate in their summer passage.—The plovers are more plenty this season, than they have been since the great flight four years ago.

FAST.—There is a boy, says the Albany Knickerbocker, not over fourteen years of age, stopping at the principal hotels in this city, who keeps a trotting horse and buggy, bets high "with the best of 'em," smokes a dollar's worth of cigars a day, drinks juleps and cobblers innumerable, and orders his bottle of champagne regularly at dinner. He is from Baltimore, and is travelling westward on a tour of recuperation and observation.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,
ARE HERE TO
CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK
Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.
Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.
DR. J. C. AYER, Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It comes to me from a foul stomach, which they cleanse and set right at once. My family will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.
Yours with great respect, ED. W. FREELE,
Chief of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.
SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.
Friendly yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, which some others around have paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and had much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.
GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.
DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.
DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.
JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long afflicted by afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hewitt, of the Methodist Episc. Church.
PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.
HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best medical advice, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Norris, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.
DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has defied the skill of the faculty for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and efficacious.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its efficacy; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the fiend-diseases and consumption, it is not the pulmonary organ. It is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

DR. LAROOKAH'S SYRUP.

DR. LAROOKAH'S Indian Vegetable Pulmonic Syrup, is warranted to cure Coughs, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Consumption, and Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

DR. LAROOKAH, a Celebrated Indian, has discovered in the combination of four ninds of Common Roots and Herbs, a remedy that is warranted to cure CONSUMPTION in all cases where the lungs are not mostly consumed, and sufficient left to sustain life; and every disease of whatever name, having seat in the lungs or bronchial tubes.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has mape arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throw him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, diligence, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES

E. E. DYER & CO.
141 Washington St., Boston,

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb Java "	90
5 lb Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same article that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

TOMATOES
au22 MATHES & VARRELL.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $2 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Subscriber has forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

DICKENS. — The August number of Household Words has an article on the Countess Caumont—Laforce of Paris, who was murdered by her groom, in Feb. 1856. Dickens says;

The process by which servants, are brought to kill their employers, is a thing of considerable importance to society and well worth knowing.

The only faults of this groom were, his sometimes getting drunk, and his taking no thought for the morrow. His intelligence was very limited, and the effect of drink upon him, was rather to brutify than to irritate him. He entered the service of the Countess at the end of January, 1856.

On the morning of the 20th of February, he came out of the huge green gate.—His mistress had sent him to buy some rolls and milk. Bowman after making his purchases for his mistress, entered a wine shop and bought and drank two pence worth of brandy, as much as could be obtained in Great Britain for a shilling.

The wine shops are the colleges and chapels of the poor in France. History, morals, politics, jurisprudence, and literature, in iniquitous forms, are all taught in these colleges and chapels, where professors of evil continually deliver these lessons, and where hymns are sung nightly to the demon of demoralization.

In these haunts of the poor, theft is taught as the morality of property, falsehood as the morality of speech, and assassination as the justice of the people. It is in the Wine Shop the cabman is taught to think it heroic to shoot the middle-class man who, perchance, disputes his fare. It is in the Wine Shop the workman is taught to admire the man who stabs his faithless mistress. It is in the Wine Shop the doom is pronounced of the employer who lowers the pay of the employed.

The Wine Shops breed—in a physical atmosphere of malaria and a moral pestilence of envy and vengeance—the men of crime and revolution. Hunger is proverbially a bad counsellor, but drink is a worse.

SHORT TEMPERANCE SPEECH BY A MAN WHO HAS SAILED ROUND THE GLOBE FOUR TIMES.—At a demonstration recently held across the waters, in honor of the Earl of Fife, the following speech was delivered by Capt. McDonald:

"It is now the eleventh hour with me. I am now seventy-five years of age, and the oldest man in the room. I have sailed four times round the globe. (Cheers.) I have been in all the climates of the known world. And I may tell my young friends here, that for fifty-five years I have drank nothing stronger than tea or coffee, and I always stood the cold better than any man in my crew. I have made nine voyages round Cape Horn—(cheers)—and I always stood the cold better than any of my seamen; so you will see that it's only Dutch courage that drink gives."

AN INCENDIARY PAPER IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—The Spartanburg (S. C.) Express, which comes to us regularly in exchange, bears the following motto:

"I was born free as Cæsar; so were you."—Shaks.

We shall expect soon to hear that this incendiary paper has been suppressed by the Vigilance Committee of Spartanburg. Such "glittering and sounding generalities" ought not to be tolerated in the kingdom of South Carolina. Perhaps, however, the editor of the Spartanburg paper has taken this method of directing public attention to the dangerous tendency of Shakspeare's writings, and intends this exposure to be preliminary to a crusade against all booksellers who keep them for sale. Shakspeare has never been reckoned a fanatic on the subject of the abolition of slavery, but he has occasionally let out a word (as in the case quoted) inconsistent with the rights of our Southern brethren. His literary executors are hereby advised to issue an expurgated edition for the South.—Bos. Tel.

HURON COUNTY, OHIO.—We mentioned, in our account of the anti-whiskey demonstration by the Wakeman ladies, that one of them, Mrs. D. C. Wilson, had her right hand severely cut by an axe which another lady had aimed at one of the barrels. Mrs. Wilson distinguished herself by her zeal and courage in the affair, and received several blows from the rumseller. The Norwalk ladies have testified their appreciation of her misfortune, by presenting her with a beautiful gold ring, enscribed with the appropriate motto—"Heart and hand for Temperance, June 18, 1856," They also presented her with a handsome purse, containing thirty dollars in gold.

In this county there are five largu distilleries and one brewery in operation, with perhaps a hundred grog-shops. But the friends of temperance in it are as active and well organized as in any county in the state. It has about thirty societies, twenty of them being Lodges of Good Templars. Norwalk has a flourishing division of the Sons of Temperance and a Temple of Honor and Temperance. Every three months a Mass convention of all these societies is held, at which their members appear with their regalia, banners and music.

MARRIAGE.—Marriage is certainly an institution calculated for a constant scene of as much delight as our being is capable of. Two persons who have chosen each other out of all the species, with the design to be each other's mutual comfort and entertainment, have, in that action, bound themselves to be good-humored, affable, discreet, forgiving, patient, and joyful, with respect to each other's frailties and imperfections, to the end of their lives. The wiser of the two, (and it always happens one of them is such,) will for her own or his sake, keep things from outrage with the utmost sanctity. When this union is preserved, the most indifferent circumstance administers delight. Their condition is an endless source of new gratifications. The married man can say, "If I am unacceptable to all the world beside, there is one whom I entirely love, that will receive me with joy and transport, and think herself obliged to double her kindness and caresses of me, from the gloom with which she sees me overcast. I need not dissemble the sorrow of my heart to be agreeable there; that sorrow quickens her affection."

A large proportion of the work bestowed upon the manufacture of watches in Switzerland, is done by cottagers, who cultivate the earth in the summer, and in the winter shut themselves up with their families during the inclement season, which lasts three or four months. The whole family then devote themselves to the work of making watch movements. Not only do the children work, but the dog turns a wheel, and puts in motion a lathe or a pair of bellows. First, the rough part of the movement is made by water power. Particular parts are assigned to the young members of the family, while others are employed in putting the plates and wheels together. When a sufficient number have been prepared the master transports them, on the back of a mule, to some town or village, where he sells them to little master watchmakers, who complete the movements, or else they are sold to travelling agents, who case them in silver or gold.
